Niece's trial last cross to bear for Columbo family

After months of anxiety, the day of decision finally arrived Tuesday for three sisters of Mary Columbo: their niece, Patricia, would go to trial for Mary's murder April 4.

Patricia Columbo, 20, and her boyfriend, Frank DeLuca, 39, will stand trial for the May 4, 1976 murders of Mrs. Columbo, 40; her husband, Frank, 42; and their son, Michael, 13.

The three allegedly were shot, stabbed, beaten and bludgeoned to death by Miss Columbo and DeLuca. And ever since, Mrs. Columbo's six sisters and two brothers have been waiting for justice to run its course.

THEY HAVE WAITED a long time.

"It's just been tearing us apart," said Carolyn Tygrett of Cary, one of Mary's sisters. "I was hoping it would be over with already, but boy, have I learned the court system was different.

"Now I just want whoever did it punished."

The Columbos were murdered May 4. Their mutilated bodies were discovered by police May 7. Police arrested Patricia May 15.

NEARLY EVERY time Patricia appeared in court, Mrs. Tygrett has watched silently from the second row of a big courtroom at the Cook County Criminal Courts Building in Chicago.

She has seen the case heard before two judges. She has seen dozens of other, lesser criminal cases come and go.

Wilson School closes in June

SHERYL JEDLINSKI

Wilson School, 15 E. Palatine Rd., Arlington Heights, will be closed at the end of the current school year, but it's unlikely any junior high schools in Arlington Heights Dist. 25 will be closed until next year.

The Dist. 25 Board of Education Thursday voted unanimously to close Wilson and to defer a decision on a junior high closing until administrators conclude negotiations with an agency interested in the long term leasing of one of the district's four junior highs.

The decisions followed a 5-2 vote which gave board approval of maintaining the current three-year junior program, rather than reducing it to two years and placing sixth graders in elementary school. Board members Richard Soby and Donald Gibbins supported conversion to a two-year junior high program.

THE SCHOOL closing decision came at the urging of some 90 people attending the board meeting at Ridge School, 800 N. Fernandez.

"You have been very open with the community for the past year and a half, and I commend you for this," a Wilson School parent told the board. "Now let's get on with it and call the question."

Declining enrollment and the need for budget cuts forced the closing in June of North School, 410 N. Arlington Heights Rd., and board members realized this was not going to be enough in the face of projections for a 41 per cent enrollment decline by 1981 and a $500,000 budget deficit by the 1978-79 school year.

By closing Wilson, the administrators expect the district can save between $80,650 and $89,150 next year. The oldest school in the district, Wilson now has 247 students, half its capacity. The students could easily be accommodated at Patton School, 161 N. Patton Ave.; Ivy Hill School, 2211 N. Burke Dr.; and Olive School, 303 E. Olive, administrators said.

CLOSING A junior high school can save the district another $155,550 to $178,050 the first year, but the board decided to hold off on this decision and gamble with a year's savings in the hope of finding a long-term profitable use for one of its junior highs.

Supt. Donald Strong said an agency already has expressed an interest in the long-term leasing of one of the district's junior high facilities, but will not be ready to name a school until May or June. Even if all goes as planned, the agency will not be able to occupy it until June or September, of 1978, he said.

"I think it's a likely enough possibility that we would be willing to wait on a decision to name a school knowing full well we would lose income on a year's closing," Strong said. "The loss could be made up in a year or two and then we'd be put in a recovery situation for some of the costs of the building, we as taxpayers, pay."

The magnitude of the declining enrollment problem is such that even now with the decision to close one elementary school this year and probably one junior high next year, the district has not seen the end of school closings, board member Edith Jolly said.

"Projections show we're going to drop 1,500 students by 1981 and closing one elementary school and one junior high only eliminates 800 to 850 seats," she said. "We're still going to have many, many empty school seats out there and not too far down the road we're going to need to close more elementary schools."

Noting she is a firm believer in neighborhood schools, Mrs. Jolly said the district is not all that large and that the schools are "much closer than we all assume."

Winter thaw at last

Schoolchildren, confined indoors the past few bitter cold months, were out romping again at recess under a bright, cloudless sky. Coatless construction workers went about their daily schedules without bonfires.

The thaw finally came.

The touch of spring that hit the area Thursday made life a little easier for all as a 47-degree high melted the lingering piles of snow and ice. And the good news is that the warmer weather is here to stay — at least through the weekend.

Temperatures should soar into the 40s, well above the seasonal high of 33, according to the National Weather Service. The extended forecast through Monday calls for the mercury to climb as high as the lower 40s and dip only to the upper 20s at night. No snow is predicted for the weekend.

"It's a blanket of relief and the kids really enjoy being outside," said Bernard Osterberger, principal of Armstrong School in Dist. 54, Hoffman Estates.

"THEY GET CABIN fever, too, you know. I remind the staff to have the kids keep snow out of the building, but we have more than 800 kids and that's more than 1,600 feet," he said.

Although the warmer weather has painted a picture of relief, the Northwest suburban scene is not all that bright. White snow-capped mounds have become messy heaps of slush.

Patches of brown grass are emerging through the melting snow.

Motorists frequently are fiddling with their windshield solution buttons as passing cars splash muddy water each time they cross another puddle.

PATROLMAN PHIL LORENZ of the Arlington Heights Police found this German shepherd pretty elusive. Lorenz was sent out to collar the dog and locate its owner Thursday but the dog avoided Lorenz for more than an hour before abandoning its search for a dead companion.

Lonely hunter pines for a friend

IN SEARCH of its dead companion, a German shepherd wandered around the intersection of Euclid and Prindle avenues all Thursday morning, causing traffic slowdowns and backups.

by PAUL GORES

The heart is a lonely hunter, the saying goes. And it was a lonely hunt Thursday morning for a German shepherd that sought a companion husky that had been killed by a car.

The German shepherd wandered around the intersection of Euclid and Prindle avenues in Arlington Heights, oblivious of traffic and friendly attempts by neighbors to check his identification tags.

Early Thursday morning, Arlington Heights Public Works Dept. employes found the German shepherd guarding the body of the dead husky. They chased him away and removed the dead animal. The German shepherd then began the futile search for its companion.

BY MID-MORNING the dog became a nuisance. Traffic on Euclid Avenue slowed and sometimes stopped to keep from hitting the German shepherd as it patrolled the intersection where its companion had been killed.

"I think he felt much better when his friend was still lying there," said Bob Carlstedt, who watched the entire episode from outside his home on the corner. Carlstedt and his wife tried to lure the dog away from its search with food, but it was no use.

By 11:15 a.m. Patrolman Phil Lorenz of the Arlington Heights Police Dept. arrived, hoping to catch the dog and locate its owner. The elusive dog led Lorenz on a chase covering about a one-block area, but the animal could not be collared.

Lorenz said he checked with a nearby homeowner to see if he knew who the German shepherd belonged to. When the officer returned to the intersection shortly after noon, the dog was gone.

"We'll have to wait and see what happens," Lorenz said. "I hope it went home."

VETERINARIAN John T. Kelly of the Elk Grove Veterinary Clinic said a dog occasionally will linger at the scene of a companion's death if they have been friends for a long time.

"Usually if two dogs have been running together for a short time and one dies, the other will just go on its way," Kelly said.

A spokesman for the pubic works department said there was no identification on the dead husky.

Carter 'living in sin' quip brings laughter to workers

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Jimmy Carter brought the house down Thursday when he told startled federal employes, with a big grin: "Those of you who are living in sin, I hope you'll get married."

A whoop of laughter shook the first floor cafeteria at the Dept. of Housing and Urban Development, where hundreds had gathered to hear the President's latest pep talk.

Carter, speaking from a platform, was urging the full-house audience not to work so hard as to neglect their spouses or children.

"We want to protect the integrity of the family," he said. "We need a stable life to make us better servants of the people.

"So those of you who are living in sin, I hope you'll get married."

When the crowd got over that, he added, smiling: "Those of you who have left your spouses, go back home. And those of you who can't remember your childrens' names, get reacquainted."

Monoson bribery trial set April 4

An April 4 trial date has been set for former Wheeling Village Trustee Gilbert J. Monoson, who is facing charges of bribery and official misconduct. David Cuprison, a spokesman for Cook County State's Atty. Bernard Carey, Thursday said Cook County Circuit Court Judge Warren Wolfson set the trial date following completion of pretrial motions. Monson, who ran for office on a reform ticket in 1975, is charged with three counts of bribery, one count of attempted bribery and four counts of official misconduct in connection with a zoning variation requested in June by GEC Industries, 422 Mercantile Ct., Wheeling. Monoson allegedly offered to use his influence on the village board to obtain a zoning variation for George Carpin, GEC president, in exchange for a $10,000 "no collateral loan."

Rapist of girl, 13, sought

Des Plaines police are seeking the man who raped a 13-year-old girl Thursday after abducting her at knifepoint. Det. Lt. Lee Alfano said the girl was walking to school at 8:30 a.m. when she was forced into a car, driven to an alley "in the central part of the city" and raped. The girl, whose name is being withheld by police, then escaped from the vehicle, ran to a nearby home and called police, he said. Details of the incident are being withheld by police pending further investigation.

25 'married' couples living in sin? Could be

ISLAND LAKE, Ill. (UPI) — It may be bad news for some and good news for others, but couples joined in holy matrimony in a tiny country church near this Northern Illinois town may not be husband and wife after all.

Their wedding licenses may have been invalid.

The problem is that the Community Congregational Church is on the border of McHenry and Lake counties. The church is in McHenry County, but the Lake County offices are located across the county line one-half block away.

"The people that live on the Lake County side would most naturally go to Waukegan for a marriage license," the Rev. Catherine Colligan, church pastor, said Thursday.

"IT WOULD NOT dawn on them that it was a county license."

A Lake County license, she said, would be invalid.

Mrs. Colligan and church officials are urging persons married at Community Congregational since 1943 to check their licenses to make certain they were obtained in McHenry County.

She guessed conservatively that at least 25 couples over the years were married with invalid licenses.

"The fear I have is that we will uncover a widow who does not have the opportunity to make it valid," she said.

Monoson bribery trial set April 4

An April 4 trial date has been set for former Wheeling Village Trustee Gilbert J. Monoson, who is facing charges of bribery and official misconduct. David Cuprison, a spokesman for Cook County State's Atty. Bernard Carey, Thursday said Cook County Circuit Court Judge Warren Wolfson set the trial date following completion of pretrial motions. Monson, who ran for office on a reform ticket in 1975, is charged with three counts of bribery, one count of attempted bribery and four counts of official misconduct in connection with a zoning variation requested in June by GEC Industries, 422 Mercantile Ct., Wheeling. Monoson allegedly offered to use his influence on the village board to obtain a zoning variation for George Carpin, GEC president, in exchange for a $10,000 "no collateral loan."

Rapist of girl, 13, sought

Des Plaines police are seeking the man who raped a 13-year-old girl Thursday after abducting her at knifepoint. Det. Lt. Lee Alfano said the girl was walking to school at 8:30 a.m. when she was forced into a car, driven to an alley "in the central part of the city" and raped. The girl, whose name is being withheld by police, then escaped from the vehicle, ran to a nearby home and called police, he said. Details of the incident are being withheld by police pending further investigation.

25 'married' couples living in sin? Could be

ISLAND LAKE, Ill. (UPI) — It may be bad news for some and good news for others, but couples joined in holy matrimony in a tiny country church near this Northern Illinois town may not be husband and wife after all.

Their wedding licenses may have been invalid.

The problem is that the Community Congregational Church is on the border of McHenry and Lake counties. The church is in McHenry County, but the Lake County offices are located across the county line one-half block away.

"The people that live on the Lake County side would most naturally go to Waukegan for a marriage license," the Rev. Catherine Colligan, church pastor, said Thursday.

"IT WOULD NOT dawn on them that it was a county license."

A Lake County license, she said, would be invalid.

Mrs. Colligan and church officials are urging persons married at Community Congregational since 1943 to check their licenses to make certain they were obtained in McHenry County.

She guessed conservatively that at least 25 couples over the years were married with invalid licenses.

"The fear I have is that we will uncover a widow who does not have the opportunity to make it valid," she said.

Gunman captured, hostage freed

INDIANAPOLIS (UPI) — A gunman who held a real estate executive hostage for three days emerged Thursday night from his apartment with a shotgun pointed at his captive's head and demanding $5 million ransom, but was captured and his victim rescued within minutes.

Moments before Anthony Kiritsis, 44, was captured, he unhooked the wires binding the shotgun he had been holding to the head of Richard Hall, 42, walked to a balcony and fired into the air. Hall was uninjured and police leaped on Kiritsis.

Deputy Marion County prosecutor George Martz emerged from the room where Kiritsis had been dickering with police and shouted: "We've got him! Nobody got hurt!"

Kiritsis had said his apartment was wired with 100 pounds of dynamite. It was this threat and the threat to Hall's life which had kept hundreds of policemen at bay for more than 61 hours.

BUT POLICE said Thursday night they discovered there was no dynamite — just cans of gasoline and electric wiring.

When the gun was fired, hundreds of reporters and bystanders waiting outside heard the blast and surged forward. Sheriff's deputies pushed everyone back and Martz ran from the building to announce Hall was safe.

The crowd began shouting and cheering at the end of what Martz had called "the most incredible three-day ordeal any of these people ever spent."

Kiritsis was taken to the Marion County Jail. Hall was rushed to Wishard Hospital, where he was to be held for observation.

Hall had suffered a bad cut from the cord which had been tightly wrapped around his neck since his ordeal began at 8:30 a.m. Tuesday. Witnesses said he also apparently had suffered some bruises.

KIRITSIS CAME out of his besieged apartment with television cameras going and the glare of TV lights on him.

He demanded $5 million from the Meridian Mortgage Co., Indianapolis, the company which holds the mortgage on property he has been trying to develop. Hall is a director of the company and it is largely controlled by his family.

"I haven't got a goddamned nerve in my body" Kiritsis said. "a nervous nelly would have blown his head off long ago."

At one point, Kiritsis had tears in his eyes, but only briefly. Hall's eyes were bloodshot.

When he first emerged, Kiritsis shouted to waiting newsmen, "Get those cameras on! Get those cameras on! I want the people to see this man!"

Kiritsis, shouting obscenities, claimed Hall had cheated him in a real estate deal.

Indiana authorities had agreed not to prosecute him on state charges, but it was not known Thursday night whether the federal government would be as lenient.

Kiritsis charged "illegal and unethical acts of a whole group of companies" had led to his actions.

Kiritsis boasted he was "a . . . national hero and don't you forget it."

Senate leadership fight harkens to city wards

Byline report

Steve Brown

The Illinois Senate is looked on as the more civilized chamber of the bicameral state legislature, but that 160-year-old tradition has been breached and may be totally shattered.

The psycho-drama being played out in the Senate over the election of leadership has at least two plots and dozens of interpretations.

The central cast of characters include four lawyers. All are Democrats. Three are from Chicago and the fourth is from Olney, a community of 9,100 about 30 miles down the Illinois Central R.R. tracks from Effingham.

The deadlock over the election of a Senate president really lacks some of the essential ingredients for a classic political struggle. Instead of an old machine hack being fought by young idealists, there are younger, relatively articulate candidates. Even most of the behind-the-scenes manipulators are young men.

THE CAST INCLUDES State Sen. Thomas Hynes as the choice of the Democratic machine. He is a law professor at John Marshall Law School. Two years ago he fought valiantly for more state aid to public schools.

Hynes has just 21 votes for the Senate presidency, nine short of the necessary majority. He also has the weight of the machine, the legacy of the late Mayor Richard J. Daley and the backing of the mayor's son, State Sen. Richard M. Daley, another lawyer on the case.

His antagonists are State Sen. Terry Bruce of Olney, the leader of the so-called Crazy Eight. He has nine votes because the voters added another "Crazy" to the ranks in November.

Bruce cites Senate reform as the issue in the dispute. Reform in this whole dispute can be defined best as the "have nots" trying to take something away from the "haves."

BEHIND DOOR number three in the dispute is freshman Sen. Harold Washington, a former Air Force First Sergeant, who served in the Illinois House before former State Senate Pres. Cecil Partee decided to offer himself for slaughter in the November election against Illinois Atty. Gen. William Scott. Washington has his own and three other votes.

Swirling around these characters are the Senate's 25 Republicans. they have remained behind Senate Minority Leader David Sharipo. Some talked recently of bolting from the bloc, but there are few observers who believe there are nine Republicans willing to cross over without approval of the leadership.

There is no indication that will happen because the Republicans do not want to share the blame for whatever the Democratic majority tries to do to Republican Gov. James R. Thompson between now and 1978.

They also know the fractured Democratic party can deliver on very few promises in a state which has severe fiscal problems. There does not appear to be enough pork in the barrel to make a shift worthwhile.

SO THE SPECIAL interests collide. The machine wants Hynes. The independents do not. It is not the first time the independents have clamored for more than just the crumbs of the power pie. Usually, unlike Jack Horner, they do not come up with the plums.

In public, the senators have been fighting about who gets to exert all of the influence. The independents are talking about sharing power, the regulars do not seem to think there is that much power to share.

The Republicans complain the reforms, which vary from time for debate and assignment to committees to leadership positions and committee chairmanships could cost ..6.5 million because of demands for additional staff.

The independents really have nothing to lose. One said that by giving in to Partee two years ago, Bruce got a spot on the leadership team, but little legislation offered by the independents was passed.

They want to stick it out. Aside from the question of race, the blacks want many of the same things and it should be generally viewed that there are two Democratic factions in this fight.

TALK OF COMPROMISE candidates has been spurned. Suggestions that State Sen. James Donnewald of Breese replace Hynes caused State Sen. Bill Morris of Waukegan, a Bruce backer, to ask the difference between a Cook County machine hack and a hack from outside of Cook County.

Currently, Hynes is flying along with the ghost of Mayor Daley as his co-pilot and son, Richard, as the ground controller. There is agreement that a change in candidates after a month of balloting would represent a shockingly symbolic defeat for young Daley and associates and a major change in the traditional political power equations in Illinois. Daley refuses to budge. He also refuses to talk to the press.

The challenge is believed to be more severe because, while trouble is always expected from the independents, Washington's crew is another story. Chicago political history has long been dominated by absentee, white ward committeemen and black lawmakers known for their obedience.

The brashness of Washington and the decision by three others to stick by his side, align with the independents and oppose the machine is unheard of in Chicago, with the possible exception of U.S. Rep. Ralph Metcalfe, D-1st, bucking the machine in last year's primary.

The fear emanates not from the chance that Washington could win the Senate presidency or that a black will be included in the leadership, but that the blacks are not following along like good boys.

They refuse to buckle. They want to install State Sen. Richard Newhouse as chairman of the powerful education committee and hopefully as chairman of the controversial and big-budgeted investigating commission on public aid. They also want to name their own black to the leadership.

THE FEAR IS that word of the uppitiness might creep up north to the South Side and West Side ghetto wards and make trouble for the future, which incidentally includes a little mayoral election in four months.

The issues are power and control, not really in the Illinois Senate, but in the wards of Chicago.

Statewide, the issues are clouded and difficult to understand. In many cases the questions of such internal matters as when legislation will be called up for a vote on the floor of the senate, are meaningless to the man on the street.

But the ramifications of the deadlocked dispute promise to weigh heavily in the balance of the operation of the legislature and state government for at least the next two years. Every piece of legislation pulled through the Senate once the leadership dispute is settled probably will bear a scar from the fight.

Some of those scars will be difficult to observe, but in the past even a threat to the control of the system has spawned reprisals. There is no indication that anything will be different this time.

Krishnas still peddling peace, booklets at O'Hare

by HOLLY HANSON

With outstretched hands and friendly smiles, members of the International Society for Krishna Consciousness continue to stalk travelers at O'Hare Airport.

They are co-existing peacefully with Chicago police now because the group has won back the right to hand out religious materials and solicit funds at O'Hare without wearing airport badges and signing in each day.

The Krishnas had filed suit against Chicago and its police department, challenging regulations that were set in March following written complaints from airport visitors of harassment by Krishnas and other groups at the airport.

A FEDERAL JUDGE ruled Tuesday that the city's restrictions violated the free speech rights of the religious groups. The decision means the groups will have wider access to the airport.

Wednesday, at least six members of the Krishna sect continued their daily task of distributing materials and flowers to travelers, and they said they had not stayed away from the airport while the city restrictions were imposed.

"We're always allowed to be here," said Manusuta Dass, group spokesman. "Before, we had to sign in between 9 and 9:30 in the morning and stay in designated areas."

Enforcement was irregular, he said, although the Krishnas were supposed to stay in main hallways and waiting areas and away from ticket windows and private shops.

"They were limiting our constitutional rights in passing out literature," he said. "They weren't hassling other groups as much as us."

The Krishnas share the airport with other religious sects including The Foundation, a psychic-spiritual group with headquarters in Chicago. Members of that group said they were unaware of the city's regulations.

"WE FEEL IT'S A privilege to come out here, so we do what they want," said Sister Gillian, a Foundation minister. "We get along well with the people who work here. The policemen are really funny and tell good jokes."

Fourdation members found soliciting at the airport good protection against frostbite in the recent frigid weather, she said.

"We came out here because the winter got really cold and there's only so much long underwear you can put on," Sister Gillian said.

When approaching individuals, she said she explains that she is a minister and that The Foundation is involved in bringing people together and helping them understand themselves.

"If they're too busy, that's fine. I'm not about to give a high pressure sales pitch," she said. "I think I've spent more time giving people directions."

Manusuta said his most receptive targets are college students, military personnel and young businessmen, but he has to move fast because travelers have little spare time.

"I TELL THEM THESE are 5,000-year-old books on our philosophy and that we want to develop a love for God," he said. "Generally, people are in a hurry so you have to come in with only a few lines."

The Krishnas no longer are as recognizable as they once were when they had shaved heads and long robes. Today's Krishna men wear fashionable wigs and business-like clothes, while the women wear dark, conservative dress.

Six or eight Krishnas stay at the airport most of the day, soliciting funds and selling religious books, Manusuta said. They know that to support their mission and their Evanston living quarters they must get contributions, but they say they hope to spread the Krishna message at the same time.

"It doesn't matter where (in the airport) you stand. It's all in your consciousness," one Krishna woman said. "It's spiritual, not monetary."

Natalie Cole married July 31 in car

Racial fight shuts Boston school

BOSTON (UPI) — Fighting broke out between black and white students at Hyde Park High School Thursday, forcing the school to close for the first time this academic year.

Police arrested 18 persons, 16 whites and two blacks. A 17-year-old white girl was slightly injured.

A white transitional aide at South Boston High School was assaulted by a black male student in an incident not related to the Hyde Park disturbance, police said. No arrest was made there.

It was the first major disturbance in months at a Boston public school, scene of off-and-on racial tension for the past three years during the desegregation of classes under federal orders.

Fighting broke out in the corridors of Hyde Park after about 800 students, half of them black, showed up for classes.

Kelly said school buses with a heavy police escort were called to take the black students home after the decision was made to close the school for the day. The blacks quietly filed out of the school without incident.

THE FEAR IS that word of the uppitiness might creep up north to the South Side and West Side ghetto wards and make trouble for the future, which incidentally includes a little mayoral election in four months.

The issues are power and control, not really in the Illinois Senate, but in the wards of Chicago.

Statewide, the issues are clouded and difficult to understand. In many cases the questions of such internal matters as when legislation will be called up for a vote on the floor of the senate, are meaningless to the man on the street.

But the ramifications of the deadlocked dispute promise to weigh heavily in the balance of the operation of the legislature and state government for at least the next two years. Every piece of legislation pulled through the Senate once the leadership dispute is settled probably will bear a scar from the fight.

Some of those scars will be difficult to observe, but in the past even a threat to the control of the system has spawned reprisals. There is no indication that anything will be different this time.

Krishnas still peddling peace, booklets at O'Hare

by HOLLY HANSON

With outstretched hands and friendly smiles, members of the International Society for Krishna Consciousness continue to stalk travelers at O'Hare Airport.

They are co-existing peacefully with Chicago police now because the group has won back the right to hand out religious materials and solicit funds at O'Hare without wearing airport badges and signing in each day.

The Krishnas had filed suit against Chicago and its police department, challenging regulations that were set in March following written complaints from airport visitors of harassment by Krishnas and other groups at the airport.

A FEDERAL JUDGE ruled Tuesday that the city's restrictions violated the free speech rights of the religious groups. The decision means the groups will have wider access to the airport.

Wednesday, at least six members of the Krishna sect continued their daily task of distributing materials and flowers to travelers, and they said they had not stayed away from the airport while the city restrictions were imposed.

"We're always allowed to be here," said Manusuta Dass, group spokesman. "Before, we had to sign in between 9 and 9:30 in the morning and stay in designated areas."

Enforcement was irregular, he said, although the Krishnas were supposed to stay in main hallways and waiting areas and away from ticket windows and private shops.

"They were limiting our constitutional rights in passing out literature," he said. "They weren't hassling other groups as much as us."

The Krishnas share the airport with other religious sects including The Foundation, a psychic-spiritual group with headquarters in Chicago. Members of that group said they were unaware of the city's regulations.

"WE FEEL IT'S A privilege to come out here, so we do what they want," said Sister Gillian, a Foundation minister. "We get along well with the people who work here. The policemen are really funny and tell good jokes."

Fourdation members found soliciting at the airport good protection against frostbite in the recent frigid weather, she said.

"We came out here because the winter got really cold and there's only so much long underwear you can put on," Sister Gillian said.

When approaching individuals, she said she explains that she is a minister and that The Foundation is involved in bringing people together and helping them understand themselves.

"If they're too busy, that's fine. I'm not about to give a high pressure sales pitch," she said. "I think I've spent more time giving people directions."

Manusuta said his most receptive targets are college students, military personnel and young businessmen, but he has to move fast because travelers have little spare time.

"I TELL THEM THESE are 5,000-year-old books on our philosophy and that we want to develop a love for God," he said. "Generally, people are in a hurry so you have to come in with only a few lines."

The Krishnas no longer are as recognizable as they once were when they had shaved heads and long robes. Today's Krishna men wear fashionable wigs and business-like clothes, while the women wear dark, conservative dress.

Six or eight Krishnas stay at the airport most of the day, soliciting funds and selling religious books, Manusuta said. They know that to support their mission and their Evanston living quarters they must get contributions, but they say they hope to spread the Krishna message at the same time.

"It doesn't matter where (in the airport) you stand. It's all in your consciousness," one Krishna woman said. "It's spiritual, not monetary."

Natalie Cole married July 31 in car

Racial fight shuts Boston school

BOSTON (UPI) — Fighting broke out between black and white students at Hyde Park High School Thursday, forcing the school to close for the first time this academic year.

Police arrested 18 persons, 16 whites and two blacks. A 17-year-old white girl was slightly injured.

A white transitional aide at South Boston High School was assaulted by a black male student in an incident not related to the Hyde Park disturbance, police said. No arrest was made there.

It was the first major disturbance in months at a Boston public school, scene of off-and-on racial tension for the past three years during the desegregation of classes under federal orders.

Fighting broke out in the corridors of Hyde Park after about 800 students, half of them black, showed up for classes.

Kelly said school buses with a heavy police escort were called to take the black students home after the decision was made to close the school for the day. The blacks quietly filed out of the school without incident.

School board gets spending chalk talk

Gov. James R. Thompson Thursday gave the state Board of Education a chalk talk on state school spending next year and told board members not to consider all existing school programs as "sacred cows." Standing before the board like a teacher in front of a class, Thompson said he wants to give elementary and secondary schools a greater increase than the $75 million he has proposed, but "there is no more money available."

State School Supt. Joseph Cronin and the board say elementary and high schools should get about $225 million in new state revenue in fiscal 1978. Thompson says only $300 million in new money is available for all of state government. The governor said the board should ask lawmakers to "question the wisdom of some mandated programs, and if they still believe them to be valid, they should find resources to pay for them rather than shoving the burden onto you or me."

Marijuana found in 'L' cigaret test

Police Thursday night said tests showed four hand-rolled cigarets, found in the wreckage of an elevated train that crashed in Chicago's Loop, contained marijuana and were believed to have belonged to the motorman. The train, run by Stephen Martin, 34, bumped into the rear of another train last Friday night. Two cars smashed to the street and two were left hanging. Eleven persons died and close to 200 were injured.

Police said the cigarets were found in a shoulder bag believed to have belonged to Martin. Martin still was in intensive care at Northwestern Memorial Hospital. Asked the implications of the discovery, Spiotto said, "That's something I can't answer." He said it would be "a very tricky" legal question to prove that the marijuana tested Thursday actually belonged to Martin. National Transportation Safety Board investigators said earlier blood and toxicology tests on Martin after the crash proved negative for both alcohol and narcotics.

Moore, 2 aides plead innocent

Winston E. Moore, former acting executive director of the Cook County Corrections Dept. and two of his former top aides pleaded innocent Thursday to charges of beating inmates at the Cook County Jail. Former Work Release Supt. Leon Cornelius and Deptuty Corrections Director Russell S. Nelson joined Moore in pleading innocent at their arraignment before Chief Criminal Court Judge Richard J. Fitzgerald.

A trial date of Feb. 28 was set after attorneys for the prosecution and the defense unexpectedly said they were ready to begin. Circuit Court Judge James M. Bailey will hear the case. Moore and Cornelius are accused of beating two inmates while they were being questioned on June 9, 1976. Moore, Cornelius, Russell and a corrections officer also are accused of another alleged beating of a mentally retarded prisioner last July 22. Moore was shifted to an administrative job in the office of Cook County Sheriff Richard Elrod after he was indicted.

Student shoots 3 teens at school

A 15-year-old boy pulled out a gun and shot three students Thursday at Curtis Junior High School on Chicago's South Side, injuring a girl and a boy critically, police said. Police said they arrested the student and confiscated a .38-caliber revolver. He was to be charged later, police said. Betty Franklin, 14, and Robert Jones, 15, were shot in the head and were listed in critical condition at Children's Memorial Hospital.

Mitchell Hampton, 14, was shot in the leg and was listed in fair condition at Roseland Community Hospital. Police said the 15-year-old apparently had a quarrel with Hampton and Philip Turner, 18, earlier in the day. He went home, returned to the school with a pistol and walked up to the two and started firing, police said.

Reappraisal notes create gripes

Reassessment notices mailed to Wheeling Township property owners Thursday in some cases showed increases of between 30 and 84 per cent, prompting a flood of complaints from persons with older homes and large tracts of land.

Marshall Theroux, Wheeling Township assessor, had predicted an average assessment increase of 20 per cent.

"The larger increases appear to have gone to people with a goodly amount of land, bigger than the average single-family lot size," Theroux said. "Most of the older properties were determined to be underassessed."

A SIMILAR impact is anticipated in Palatine Township as reassessment notices begin arriving today.

The two townships are being affected by Cook County's quadrennial reassessment plan under which one quarter of the county's real estate is reassessed every year.

Theroux and Dennis Dunne, communications director for Cook County Assessor Thomas M. Tully, Thursday said whopping assessment increases do not mean property taxes will increase by the same percentage.

It is impossible to calculate the real estate tax right now, because neither the state multiplier, used to equalize assessments throughout the state, nor 1976 tax rates have been announced.

TAX RATES FOR 1976 are expected to be lower than 1975 because the total assessed valuation of the townships will increase because of the reassessments, Dunne said. The multiplier is expected to be about the same as last year's 1.4483 figure.

"The total assessed value of the township probably went up more than most individual homeowners assessment because commercial and industrial property is icluded in the township as a whole," Dunne said.

Theroux said that by noon Thursday he had examined about 40 assessment complaints and found just two cases that appeared to have a basis for appeal.

"The important thing to remember is that this is a completely new assessment," he said. "All previous assessments are out the window."

HOMEOWNERS can check their assessments by multiplying the value of their home by 17 per cent (.17) and comparing the figure to the new assessment.

Property owners who think they are overassessed have 20 days to file an appeal with the county assessor. For the appeal, the owner will have to show either a sales contract not more than two years old, or a recent appraisal of the property by a qualified real estate broker.

Information on the reassessment is available from Tully's office at 443-8920, Theroux's office at 259-7732, and Palatine Township Assessor Bernie Pedersen at 358-6700.

"Most people, once we have a chance to talk to them are understanding," Theroux said. But the initial shock of an assessment increase of $1,200 or more, which is not uncommon, prompts a lot of inquiries, he said.

Dunne said the average assessment increase for Wheeling and Palatine Township homeowners is about 20 per cent.

"THE ONLY THING we can say about the tax bill right now is that if the homeowner's assessment is near the (20 per cent) average, the tax will stay about the same," Dunne said.

If the reassessment is more than 20 per cent, the tax probably will increase. Reassessments below 20 per cent, or net reductions in assessments, probably mean lower taxes, Theroux said.

He predicted an average tax increase of 5 to 6 per cent in Wheeling Township, a figure Pedersen agrees with.

Property owners will receive the second installment of their 1976 real estate tax bill in August. The bill will show the new state multiplier and tax rates.

The first installment, mailed at the end of January, was an estimate based on one-half of last year's bill.

Dunne said that the county will publish the assessment rolls for all the property in Wheeling Township sometime around the second week of March.

Property owners traditionally check the rolls to compare their assessment with the assessment on similar property.

by DIANE GRANAT

School lunches in Wheeling Township Dist. 21 adequately meet a child's nutritional needs, a spokesman for Morton Frozen Foods told the district's Board of Education Thursday.

Morton Frozen Foods based in Charlottesville, Va., provides school lunches to three Dist. 21 junior high schools. The Herald reported Tuesday samples of Dist. 21 lunches analyzed by nutritionists did not meet federal nutritional requirements for a school lunch.

Gordon Voss, manager of technical services for Morton, said, "The frozen prepared lunches do in fact provide Type A school lunch standards as required by the law of the Food and Nutrition Service of the U.S. Dept. of Agriculture."

A TYPE A lunch, which school districts must serve in order to receive federal reimbursement, must consist of two ounces of meat or an equivalent protein, a three-fourths cup serving of two or more vegetables or fruits, one slice of bread or another bread product, and a half pint of milk.

In the Herald's report on school lunches, three nutritionists from the Milk Foundation said a macaroni-and-beef casserole prepared by Morton and served in Dist. 21 lacked a vegetable and did not provide enough calories for a junior high school student.

Another Dist. 21 lunch consisting of fish-and-cheese as the main course provided only one ounce of protein in the fish-and-cheese slice instead of the required two ounces, the Milk Foundation nutritionist said.

IN RESPONSE to The Herald's findings, Voss said "our meals provide one-third of the RDA (recommended daily amount) for students 7 to 10 years old.

"The law reads that a school lunch should provide an average of the RDA over a five-day period of time," Voss said. "Ten different meal combinations from our product line provide a third of the RDA on average basis."

Voss said the Morton lunches routinely are weighed on the assembly line to ensure they meet nutritional standards.

"We have inspectors constantly in the plant to guarantee that we adhere to our program," he said.

The possibility that the meals analyzed for The Herald report were nutritionally deficient "is small" Voss said.

"Maybe this is one in a dozen or 1 in 100,000 that could be considerd under the standard. In as much as we can't weigh the fish in each portion, it could happen," Voss said.

Dist. 221 Supt. Kenneth Gill said he is advising "in the next month or so we check carefully our meals.

"I'm going to try to do this at least once a week on a spot check," Gill said. He also invited parents to try lunches in the district's schools.

Village near agreement on paramedic proposal

Arlington Heights and Buffalo Grove fire officials are close to approving a cooperative paramedic service designed to improve service in both villages.

The proposal calls for three Arlington Heights paramedics to be assigned to the Buffalo Grove fire station at 505 W. Dundee Rd., with five or six Buffalo Grove paramedics. The two ambulances stationed there would respond to calls between Lake-Cook Road in Buffalo Grove and the Commonwealth Edison Co. right-of-way in Arlington Heights, about two miles south of Dundee Road.

The arrangement will provide the southern half of Buffalo Grove with paramedics on duty at all times. The Buffalo Grove Fire Dept., now has three paid paramedics who are on-duty at the station between 8 a.m. and 5 p.m. Monday through Friday. Volunteers are called at all other times, Buffalo Grove Fire Chief Wayne Winter said.

A Message From GEORGE HARRIS Your Pharmacist

HOW IS YOUR DENTAL HEALTH?
Do you know that the average adult, who has not visited his dentist during the past year, is walking around with about four cavities in his mouth? They can not only cause much pain and unpleasant breath, but also endanger health because it may be more difficult to properly chew food.

MANY CHILDREN'S TEETH ARE NEGLECTED
If the "baby" or temporary teeth are not taken care of and prematurely lost, the permanent teeth may come in irregularly, often causing an unsightly appearance.

PYORRHEA IS CAUSING MUCH DISCOMFORT

DO NOT AVOID DENTAL CARE
Modern techniques and analgesics make visits to a dentist almost a pleasure. Future pain and loss of teeth can be prevented. If you have not consulted a dentist within the past year be wise. Do it soon.

OUR DENTAL AIDS STOCKS ARE COMPLETE
Ask your dentist to write the exact medication, toothbrushes or paste and antiseptics he judges best for you and we will be glad to supply his exact specifications.

Reappraisal notes create gripes

Reassessment notices mailed to Wheeling Township property owners Thursday in some cases showed increases of between 30 and 84 per cent, prompting a flood of complaints from persons with older homes and large tracts of land.

Marshall Theroux, Wheeling Township assessor, had predicted an average assessment increase of 20 per cent.

"The larger increases appear to have gone to people with a goodly amount of land, bigger than the average single-family lot size," Theroux said. "Most of the older properties were determined to be underassessed."

A SIMILAR impact is anticipated in Palatine Township as reassessment notices begin arriving today.

The two townships are being affected by Cook County's quadrennial reassessment plan under which one quarter of the county's real estate is reassessed every year.

Theroux and Dennis Dunne, communications director for Cook County Assessor Thomas M. Tully, Thursday said whopping assessment increases do not mean property taxes will increase by the same percentage.

It is impossible to calculate the real estate tax right now, because neither the state multiplier, used to equalize assessments throughout the state, nor 1976 tax rates have been announced.

TAX RATES FOR 1976 are expected to be lower than 1975 because the total assessed valuation of the townships will increase because of the reassessments, Dunne said. The multiplier is expected to be about the same as last year's 1.4483 figure.

"The total assessed value of the township probably went up more than most individual homeowners assessment because commercial and industrial property is icluded in the township as a whole," Dunne said.

Theroux said that by noon Thursday he had examined about 40 assessment complaints and found just two cases that appeared to have a basis for appeal.

"The important thing to remember is that this is a completely new assessment," he said. "All previous assessments are out the window."

HOMEOWNERS can check their assessments by multiplying the value of their home by 17 per cent (.17) and comparing the figure to the new assessment.

Property owners who think they are overassessed have 20 days to file an appeal with the county assessor. For the appeal, the owner will have to show either a sales contract not more than two years old, or a recent appraisal of the property by a qualified real estate broker.

Information on the reassessment is available from Tully's office at 443-8920, Theroux's office at 259-7732, and Palatine Township Assessor Bernie Pedersen at 358-6700.

"Most people, once we have a chance to talk to them are understanding," Theroux said. But the initial shock of an assessment increase of $1,200 or more, which is not uncommon, prompts a lot of inquiries, he said.

Dunne said the average assessment increase for Wheeling and Palatine Township homeowners is about 20 per cent.

"THE ONLY THING we can say about the tax bill right now is that if the homeowner's assessment is near the (20 per cent) average, the tax will stay about the same," Dunne said.

If the reassessment is more than 20 per cent, the tax probably will increase. Reassessments below 20 per cent, or net reductions in assessments, probably mean lower taxes, Theroux said.

He predicted an average tax increase of 5 to 6 per cent in Wheeling Township, a figure Pedersen agrees with.

Property owners will receive the second installment of their 1976 real estate tax bill in August. The bill will show the new state multiplier and tax rates.

The first installment, mailed at the end of January, was an estimate based on one-half of last year's bill.

Dunne said that the county will publish the assessment rolls for all the property in Wheeling Township sometime around the second week of March.

Property owners traditionally check the rolls to compare their assessment with the assessment on similar property.

by DIANE GRANAT

School lunches in Wheeling Township Dist. 21 adequately meet a child's nutritional needs, a spokesman for Morton Frozen Foods told the district's Board of Education Thursday.

Morton Frozen Foods based in Charlottesville, Va., provides school lunches to three Dist. 21 junior high schools. The Herald reported Tuesday samples of Dist. 21 lunches analyzed by nutritionists did not meet federal nutritional requirements for a school lunch.

Gordon Voss, manager of technical services for Morton, said, "The frozen prepared lunches do in fact provide Type A school lunch standards as required by the law of the Food and Nutrition Service of the U.S. Dept. of Agriculture."

A TYPE A lunch, which school districts must serve in order to receive federal reimbursement, must consist of two ounces of meat or an equivalent protein, a three-fourths cup serving of two or more vegetables or fruits, one slice of bread or another bread product, and a half pint of milk.

In the Herald's report on school lunches, three nutritionists from the Milk Foundation said a macaroni-and-beef casserole prepared by Morton and served in Dist. 21 lacked a vegetable and did not provide enough calories for a junior high school student.

Another Dist. 21 lunch consisting of fish-and-cheese as the main course provided only one ounce of protein in the fish-and-cheese slice instead of the required two ounces, the Milk Foundation nutritionist said.

IN RESPONSE to The Herald's findings, Voss said "our meals provide one-third of the RDA (recommended daily amount) for students 7 to 10 years old.

"The law reads that a school lunch should provide an average of the RDA over a five-day period of time," Voss said. "Ten different meal combinations from our product line provide a third of the RDA on average basis."

Voss said the Morton lunches routinely are weighed on the assembly line to ensure they meet nutritional standards.

"We have inspectors constantly in the plant to guarantee that we adhere to our program," he said.

The possibility that the meals analyzed for The Herald report were nutritionally deficient "is small" Voss said.

"Maybe this is one in a dozen or 1 in 100,000 that could be considerd under the standard. In as much as we can't weigh the fish in each portion, it could happen," Voss said.

Dist. 221 Supt. Kenneth Gill said he is advising "in the next month or so we check carefully our meals.

"I'm going to try to do this at least once a week on a spot check," Gill said. He also invited parents to try lunches in the district's schools.

Village near agreement on paramedic proposal

Arlington Heights and Buffalo Grove fire officials are close to approving a cooperative paramedic service designed to improve service in both villages.

The proposal calls for three Arlington Heights paramedics to be assigned to the Buffalo Grove fire station at 505 W. Dundee Rd., with five or six Buffalo Grove paramedics. The two ambulances stationed there would respond to calls between Lake-Cook Road in Buffalo Grove and the Commonwealth Edison Co. right-of-way in Arlington Heights, about two miles south of Dundee Road.

The arrangement will provide the southern half of Buffalo Grove with paramedics on duty at all times. The Buffalo Grove Fire Dept., now has three paid paramedics who are on-duty at the station between 8 a.m. and 5 p.m. Monday through Friday. Volunteers are called at all other times, Buffalo Grove Fire Chief Wayne Winter said.

HOW IS YOUR DENTAL HEALTH?
Do you know that the average adult, who has not visited his dentist during the past year, is walking around with about four cavities in his mouth? They can not only cause much pain and unpleasant breath, but also endanger health because it may be more difficult to properly chew food.

MANY CHILDREN'S TEETH ARE NEGLECTED
If the "baby" or temporary teeth are not taken care of and prematurely lost, the permanent teeth may come in irregularly, often causing an unsightly appearance.

PYORRHEA IS CAUSING MUCH DISCOMFORT

DO NOT AVOID DENTAL CARE
Modern techniques and analgesics make visits to a dentist almost a pleasure. Future pain and loss of teeth can be prevented. If you have not consulted a dentist within the past year be wise. Do it soon.

OUR DENTAL AIDS STOCKS ARE COMPLETE
Ask your dentist to write the exact medication, toothbrushes or paste and antiseptics he judges best for you and we will be glad to supply his exact specifications.

SEC. OF STATE Cyrus Vance, repeating U.S. support of black majority rule in Rhodesia, urged the Senate Foreign Relations subcommittee on Africa Thursday to repeal legislation which allows America to import chromium from that nation. In Rhodesia, meantime, 41 persons were reported killed in two days of guerrilla warfare. It brought to 2,487 the guerrillas slain since the war began in December of 1972.

Gas pipeline talks with Trudeau urged

Complicated internal problems in Canada could delay for 15 years construction of a pipeline to deliver Alaskan natural gas to the lower 48 states, Sen. Ted Stevens, R-Alaska, suggested Thursday. The senator urged President Carter to "frankly discuss" with Canadian Prime Minister Pierre Trudeau possible roadblocks to a natural gas pipeline from Alaska's North Slope through Canada.

A Federal Power Commission administrative law judge recently recommended the pipeline be built along a 2,230-mile Canadian route proposed by Artic Gas, a consortium of 16 U.S. and Canadian firms. Stevens favors a competing "all-American" plan to pipe the fuel to an Alaskan port for delivery to California by tanker. The Senate assistant GOP leader said Congress has given President Carter unprecedented authority to waive federal laws in order to speed up the delivery of badly needed natural gas. He said Carter should ask Trudeau at their scheduled meeting in Washington Feb. 21 for assurances the Canadian leader will seek similar legislation from Parliament.

Carter to ride doomsday jet

President Carter, setting more precedents in presidential style, will fly home this weekend in a doomsday command post plane and will host a radio "phone-in" show with Walter Cronkite March 5, the White House announced Thursday. The President, meantime, walked a block to the Treasury Department Thursday afternoon to continue his personal pep talks with rank-and-file civil servants. He was also meeting with employes of the Housing and Urban Development Department.

Press Secretary Jody Powell said Carter will fly to Georgia Friday aboard the E4 National Emergency Airborne Command Post jumbo jet, instead of Air Force One, the presidential jet. He will be the first chief executive to fly in the E4, which is packed with worldwide communications gear for use by the President and the Joint Chiefs of Staff in time of nuclear war or other grave emergency.

Mountaineer hunted for murder

Deputies scoured the rugged Tennessee coal country Thursday for a mountaineer who reportedly poked a rifle through a church window and fired three shots at a Bible class, wounding his wife and killing a youth whom he mistook for the boy who had been dating his daughter. His friends feared that the suspect, Herman Adkins, may have dug his own grave in the woods in advance of the shootings and then taken his own life.

Bloodhounds failed to pick up any trace of him Friday in the northeast Tennessee mountain area, where the search was centered. The youth killed in the shooting was identified as Levi Chambers, 15. Adkins wife, Ocie, 45, was reported in critical condition at a Knoxville hospital. Adkins reportedly was upset with his wife for not breaking up a romance between their daughter and a young man of whom he disapproved.

JFK inquiry head fired

The chairman of a House committee investigating the assassinations of John Kennedy and Martin Luther King Jr. Thursday fired the man directing the inquiry — but he refused to step down. Rep. Henry Gonzalez, D-Texas, the panel chairman, announced he was dismissing Richard Sprague as chief counsel and staff director of the committee for "undermining" tactics and gave him until 5 p.m. to leave his offices or be removed by Capitol police. Sprague said Gonzalez had no power to remove him.

Queen Alia buried in Jordan

King Hussein led his nation in mourning Thursday for Queen Alia, 28, who was buried under cold gray skies in a simple ceremony at the Hashimiyeh Palace in Amman. The 41-year-old King, his face tight with grief, led a funeral procession including Syrian President Hafez Assad and West German Foreign Minister Hans-Dietrich Genscher through the capital.

Thousands of sorrowful Jordanians lined the streets and gathered outside the palace grounds where the queen was buried. Alia, a fair-haired beauty who became Hussein's third wife in 1972, died Wednesday in the crash of a military helicopter during a violent rainstorm. A diplomat's daughter who attended Hunter College in New York, she was devoted to public welfare, social work and child care.

'Network,' 'Rocky' lead pack in race for Oscars

by VERNON SCOTT

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — "Network," a biting satire of the world of television, and "Rocky," the story of a never-say-dive boxer, captured 10 nominations apiece Thursday to lead the race for Oscars in the 49th annual Academy Awards.

ACTOR SYLVESTER Stallone and Talia Shire are shown in scene from the movie "Rocky," one of the films that captured 10 Oscar nominations.

Peter Finch, who died of a heart attack Jan. 14, was nominated posthumously for best actor for his role of the newsman in "Network." He is the first actor to receive a posthumous nomination since Spencer Tracy got one in 1968 for "Guess Who's Coming to Dinner?"

"Rocky" and "Network" were nominated for best film of the year along with "Bound For Glory," "Taxi Driver," and "All the President's Men."

Finch was joined in the best actor nominations by Robert De Niro, Giancarlo Giannini, William Holden and Sylvester Stallone who also received a writing nomination for his screenplay of "Rocky."

NOMINATED FOR best actress were Marie-Christine Barrault, Faye Dunaway, Talia Shire, Sissy Spacek and Liv Ullmann.

Best supporting nominations went to Ned Beatty, Burgess Meredith, Laurence Olivier, Jason Robards and Burt Young among the actors and Jane Alexander, Jodie Foster, Lee Grant, Piper Laurie and Beatrice Straight among actresses.

Members of the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences will vote on the winners and the Oscars will be presented March 28 on ABC television.

Finch's nomination for best actor was his second. He also was nominated for the award for "Sunday, Bloody Sunday."

Stallone is only the third person in the history of the Oscars to win both best acting and writing nominations in the same year. Charles Chaplin did in 1940 for "The Great Dictator" and was followed the next year by Orson Welles for "Citizen Kane."

IN ADDITION to the best film, "Rocky" won nominations for best actor (Stallone) best actress (Miss Shire), best supporting actor (Young and Meredith), and best original song — "Gonna Fly Now."

"Network" also was nominated for best actor (Finch and Holden), best supporting actor (Beatty) best actress (Miss Dunaway) and best suporting actress (Miss Straight).

of the sleazy cab driver in "Taxi Driver" and Giannini got his for "Seven Beuties."

Olivier's nomination was for "Marathon Man" and Robards for "All the President's Men" which was third in the best film race with eight nominations.

Miss Barrault's nominaton for best actress came on the strength of her role in "Cousin, Cousine," a French film which won a nomination for best foreign language film of the year.

Miss Spacek was nominated for "Carrie" and Miss Ullman for "Face to Face."

IN THE BEST supporting actress race, Miss Alexander was nominated for "All the President's Men," Miss Foster for her role of a teenaged prostitute in "Taxi Driver" Miss Grant for "Voyage of the Damned" and Miss Laurie for "Carrie."

Other best foreign language film nominations were "Black and White in Color," Ivory Coast; "Jacobs, the Liar," Germany; "Nights and Days," Poland, and "Seven Beauties," Italy.

Nominated for best original song, in addition to "Gonna Fly Now" were "Ave Satani" from "The Omen," "Come to Me" from "The Pink Panther Strikes Again," "Evergreen" from "A Star is Born" and "A World That Never Was" from "Half A House."

"Bound for Glory" had six nominations while "A Star is Born," which won five Golden Globes from the Hollywood Foreign Press Assn. two weeks ago, "Seven Beauties" and "Taxi Driver" each got four.

WE THANK GOD . . .

WE THANK GOD that the losses suffered in the terrible fire which demolished our Mt. Prospect store were material ones — that no lives were lost and no injuries were sustained.

WE THANK OUR EMPLOYEES for their loyalty, their courage and their complete cooperation in vacating the store quickly and making sure that no one was left in the building.

WE THANK THE MT. PROSPECT POLICE AND FIRE DEPARTMENTS and the Fire Departments of all of the surrounding communities for their remarkable demonstration of total dedication and maximum efficiency in the performance of their duty. Their work was truly outstanding.

WE SHALL STRIVE to again serve our many friends in the Mount Prospect area. In the meantime, we invite you to visit our other convenient Goldblatt's stores, where your patronage will be greatly appreciated.

'Network,' 'Rocky' lead pack in race for Oscars

by VERNON SCOTT

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — "Network," a biting satire of the world of television, and "Rocky," the story of a never-say-dive boxer, captured 10 nominations apiece Thursday to lead the race for Oscars in the 49th annual Academy Awards.

ACTOR SYLVESTER Stallone and Talia Shire are shown in scene from the movie "Rocky," one of the films that captured 10 Oscar nominations.

Peter Finch, who died of a heart attack Jan. 14, was nominated posthumously for best actor for his role of the newsman in "Network." He is the first actor to receive a posthumous nomination since Spencer Tracy got one in 1968 for "Guess Who's Coming to Dinner?"

"Rocky" and "Network" were nominated for best film of the year along with "Bound For Glory," "Taxi Driver," and "All the President's Men."

Finch was joined in the best actor nominations by Robert De Niro, Giancarlo Giannini, William Holden and Sylvester Stallone who also received a writing nomination for his screenplay of "Rocky."

NOMINATED FOR best actress were Marie-Christine Barrault, Faye Dunaway, Talia Shire, Sissy Spacek and Liv Ullmann.

Best supporting nominations went to Ned Beatty, Burgess Meredith, Laurence Olivier, Jason Robards and Burt Young among the actors and Jane Alexander, Jodie Foster, Lee Grant, Piper Laurie and Beatrice Straight among actresses.

Members of the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences will vote on the winners and the Oscars will be presented March 28 on ABC television.

Finch's nomination for best actor was his second. He also was nominated for the award for "Sunday, Bloody Sunday."

Stallone is only the third person in the history of the Oscars to win both best acting and writing nominations in the same year. Charles Chaplin did in 1940 for "The Great Dictator" and was followed the next year by Orson Welles for "Citizen Kane."

IN ADDITION to the best film, "Rocky" won nominations for best actor (Stallone) best actress (Miss Shire), best supporting actor (Young and Meredith), and best original song — "Gonna Fly Now."

"Network" also was nominated for best actor (Finch and Holden), best supporting actor (Beatty) best actress (Miss Dunaway) and best suporting actress (Miss Straight).

of the sleazy cab driver in "Taxi Driver" and Giannini got his for "Seven Beuties."

Olivier's nomination was for "Marathon Man" and Robards for "All the President's Men" which was third in the best film race with eight nominations.

Miss Barrault's nominaton for best actress came on the strength of her role in "Cousin, Cousine," a French film which won a nomination for best foreign language film of the year.

Miss Spacek was nominated for "Carrie" and Miss Ullman for "Face to Face."

IN THE BEST supporting actress race, Miss Alexander was nominated for "All the President's Men," Miss Foster for her role of a teenaged prostitute in "Taxi Driver" Miss Grant for "Voyage of the Damned" and Miss Laurie for "Carrie."

Carter to appoint panel to nominate FBI leader

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Carter will appoint a committee to "canvass the nation" for a new FBI director who can restore the bureau's prestige, Atty. Gen. Griffin Bell said Thursday.

"I'm looking to a time when the FBI is an institution that is respected by all Americans, as they used to think of the FBI," Bell said.

Bell also disclosed he is thinking about giving the investigative duties of the Drug Enforcement Administration to the FBI and broadening the FBI's involvement in organized crime, white collar crime, price-fixing and monopolies.

BELL SAID HE has spent much of his time seeking a replacement for FBI Director Clarence Kelley, who has asked to retire Dec. 31. Bell considers the goal so important that he is establishing an office for himself in FBI headquarters.

"I'd like to have nine people canvass the nation and come up with people they think are qualified," Bell said.

He said the President may name the committee next week. It will be asked to propose names within 90 days.

"I have not seen too many people I thought ought to be head of the FBI," Bell said.

"THE FBI IS a complicated place. It is one of our most important institutuions, I think. My general impression of the FBI is that probably 95 per cent or more of their work is very good."

But for more than a year, he said, "it has been embroiled in a public controversy over something that is a very small part of their work." He referred to "notorious" abuses occurring before Kelley became director in 1973.

Bell said he has asked drug agency administrator Peter Bensinger to "think about" shifting the drug investigations to the FBI. Bell said he considers drugs the nation's "biggest problem, from a crime standpoint."

Bell said this would mean dismantling the agency, created in 1973 by putting drug agents of the Customs bureau and the defunct Bureau of Narcotics and Dangerous Drugs under one organization.

Niece's trial last cross to bear

she hadn't expected Patricia to notice them.

Meanwhile, the judge appointed a new lawyer to represent DeLuca: Michael P. Toomin, a private attorney in Chicago and respected defense counsel.

Now the wait was almost over. Patricia finally would answer the charges of solicitation and conspiracy to commit murder, and murder.

The family hopes the trial will serve justice. But they also realize the trial will reveal every sordid detail of Patricia's war with her family, who disapproved of her relationship with DeLuca. DeLuca, a father of five, had separated from his wife and family to live with Patricia at a Lombard apartment.

The trial, Mrs. Tygrett said, "is something we really wanted to happen. But to have it happen is something we dread, too. I want it to happen yet I don't want it to happen."

temporarily have closed outdoor skating rinks and sledding hills.

The Wheeling Park District has posted signs at rinks and retention ponds, urging skaters to stay off the ice until another hard freeze sets in.

TIM GUNN, Des Plaines Park District athletic supervisor, said all 13 of the district's skating rinks have been shut down for the year. All of the rinks, except for Lake Park, Lee and Howard streets, are artificial and the warmup has thinned the ice, Gunn said.

The warmup was a respite from the harsh weather, permitting residents and public officials to assess damage caused by the cold.

Despite the thaw, some communities still are plagued with freezing water pipes.

Jack Andrews, assistant director of public works in Elk Grove, said five water service lines to village homes have been affected by frozen pipes.

In Des Plaines, 70 of the 103 reported frozen water pipes and meters have been completely thawed and public works crews are working to relieve the rest of them.

Des Plaines Public Works Comr. Joseph Schwab said the freeze level is 5½ or 6 feet below the ground in some places and the warming trend will not have any impact on freezing pipes. "They're still continuing to freeze up," Schwab said. "We had seven or eight new ones reported Wednesday."

DONALD RENNER, superintendent of public works in Arlington Heights, said the village has received 125 calls about frozen water pipes in the last couple of months.

At $35 an hour, Arlington Heights already has spent $10,000 repairing pipes throughout the village. Renner said some flooding on side streets has occurred because ice has clogged up the drains.

The roofing industry is one group benefiting from the spring-like thaw. Local roofing companies have been deluged in the past few days with calls from residents whose ceilings are leaking melted snow.

"Every year there is a spring thaw that brings out the leaks," said Sharon Van Doorn of Van Doorn Roofing, Palatine. "The flood of calls has started. It's a panic type situation."

she hadn't expected Patricia to notice them.

Meanwhile, the judge appointed a new lawyer to represent DeLuca: Michael P. Toomin, a private attorney in Chicago and respected defense counsel.

Now the wait was almost over. Patricia finally would answer the charges of solicitation and conspiracy to commit murder, and murder.

The family hopes the trial will serve justice. But they also realize the trial will reveal every sordid detail of Patricia's war with her family, who disapproved of her relationship with DeLuca. DeLuca, a father of five, had separated from his wife and family to live with Patricia at a Lombard apartment.

The trial, Mrs. Tygrett said, "is something we really wanted to happen. But to have it happen is something we dread, too. I want it to happen yet I don't want it to happen."

temporarily have closed outdoor skating rinks and sledding hills.

The Wheeling Park District has posted signs at rinks and retention ponds, urging skaters to stay off the ice until another hard freeze sets in.

TIM GUNN, Des Plaines Park District athletic supervisor, said all 13 of the district's skating rinks have been shut down for the year. All of the rinks, except for Lake Park, Lee and Howard streets, are artificial and the warmup has thinned the ice, Gunn said.

The warmup was a respite from the harsh weather, permitting residents and public officials to assess damage caused by the cold.

Despite the thaw, some communities still are plagued with freezing water pipes.

Jack Andrews, assistant director of public works in Elk Grove, said five water service lines to village homes have been affected by frozen pipes.

In Des Plaines, 70 of the 103 reported frozen water pipes and meters have been completely thawed and public works crews are working to relieve the rest of them.

Des Plaines Public Works Comr. Joseph Schwab said the freeze level is 5½ or 6 feet below the ground in some places and the warming trend will not have any impact on freezing pipes. "They're still continuing to freeze up," Schwab said. "We had seven or eight new ones reported Wednesday."

DONALD RENNER, superintendent of public works in Arlington Heights, said the village has received 125 calls about frozen water pipes in the last couple of months.

At $35 an hour, Arlington Heights already has spent $10,000 repairing pipes throughout the village. Renner said some flooding on side streets has occurred because ice has clogged up the drains.

The roofing industry is one group benefiting from the spring-like thaw. Local roofing companies have been deluged in the past few days with calls from residents whose ceilings are leaking melted snow.

"Every year there is a spring thaw that brings out the leaks," said Sharon Van Doorn of Van Doorn Roofing, Palatine. "The flood of calls has started. It's a panic type situation."

The way we see it

Larson action good for village

Buffalo Grove Village Mgr. Daniel T. Larson has resigned under pressure from the village board, rather than give up his outside business interests.

The controversy which led to his departure was sparked by recent disclosures that Larson is a partner in a development corporation and is affiliated with a real estate agency.

Larson had previously been forced to resign his position as a salesman with a Mount Prospect real estate agency because of possible conflict with his village job. Even so Larson did not inform the board of his new business ventures because he did not believe they interfered with his activities as village manager.

Larson's resignation is in the best interest of the village. Although he was an able administrator who saw Buffalo Grove through 5½ years of tremendous growth, the village board and residents have a right to insist their highest paid employe not dabble in other business ventures.

The holding of dual jobs may not be an outright conflict of interest, but there is a potential for impropriety in mixing village administration and real estate.

The situation could have been averted if the village board had adopted a strict ethics code, but instead the board opted for a one paragraph statement, opposing conflict, which has wide latitude for interpretation.

This is a critical period in Buffalo Grove's growth with the construction of more than 800 new housing units planned for this year. It is important for the village board to start immediately on an intensive search to find the best possible replacement for Larson.

The new village manager will help shape the direction the village will take, and it is imperative that he be highly qualified and free of even the appearance of conflict of interest.

Crane new ACU leader

The American Conservative Union, one of the nation's leading conservative groups, this week selected a qualified and articulate chairman — U.S. Rep. Philip M. Crane, R-12th.

Crane's staunch conservativism often puts him out of the mainstream of American — and Northwest suburban — political thought. However, he will provide the conservative minority with meaningful leadership.

This new forum will give Crane a broader opportunity to promote his philosophical point of view. It should also give him a new opportunity to promote change in the Republican Party.

Crane acknowledges his positions often spark debate rather than government improvement. However, he has accepted the fact that a new "third party" conservative movement would meet with less success than former California Gov. Ronald Reagan's abortive attempt to seize control of the GOP last year.

Ideally, this realization should lead Crane and other conservatives to a more practical strategy for improving the two-party system. It should point Crane and the conservatives away from extremist positions and towards more realistic methods of solving the nation's problems.

Big Jim's snowy lesson

The winter's severe weather has taught many lessons in recent weeks, and Gov. James R. Thompson can be counted among its pupils.

One recent blast of Old Man Winter's breath sent snow, wind and plummeting temperatures down upon Springfield. It caused Thompson to advise state workers to stay home if it was too hazardous to ride to work.

Thompson viewed his admonition in much the same light as a concerned parent who warns a child to look both ways before crossing a street.

However, the imprecision of his message left some capitol workers confused and later angered. Those who heeded his warning were angry when they discovered they would lose a day's pay. Those who braved the icy roads were irate because they thought they should get another day off, to bring them even with their stay-at-home colleagues.

Thompson "resolved" this crisis by announcing that those who stayed home would not lose pay but those who worked would not get another day off.

After that, Thompson, still something of a novice about the inner workings of state government, said the episode had given him a lesson in the "Springfield work ethic."

What the governor should have learned is to speak more specifically when he was talking to the minions who fill the halls of government.

Pronouncements from a governor tend to take on the meaning those who hear them want them to have. And so, Thompson must remember the art of communications is especially important for him at all times.

Next time, the misunderstanding might be on matters less trivial.

McGovern daughter finds goodwill among Cubans

Martha Angle and Robert Walters

In Washington

Three weeks ago, two young Americans returned home tired and excited after four months of study at a major foreign university — a story that would ordinarily interest only their friends and family.

But these students, and their experiences abroad, were far from ordinary. Mary McGovern, 21-year-old daughter of Sen. George McGovern, D-S.D., and Tod Norbitz, her 21-year-old classmate from Clark University in Worcester, Mass., had just completed a crash course in Spanish, history and political science at the University of Havana.

They were the first Americans to attend Cuba's leading university in more than two decades, and their visit had been arranged by the Castro government with the blessings of the U.S. State Department.

THEIR SEMESTER abroad was a well kept secret. Sen. McGovern, who paved the way for his daughter's trip following his own visit to Cuba two years ago, realized her plans might anger many Cuban exiles in this country and he wanted her home safe and sound before word of her venture leaked out.

Now, in an exclusive interview, the two students have shared their impressions of a country that has become alien and frightening to most Americans. "The main reason we wanted to go," said Mary McGovern, "was simple intellectual curiosity. For people our age, Cuba is the great unknown."

McGovern and Norbitz were struck by the nationalistic fervor of today's Cubans, the pride in what the small country has accomplished since the revolution of 1959. "There is plenty of criticism of the government, but it is all in the Socialist perspective," Norbitz said.

FOR THE AVERAGE Cuban, the students said, life is far better in a material sense than it was in the prerevolutionary era. Medical care is free. Food and clothing are both rationed and cheap. Housing is being constructed at a furious pace, and rents are pegged at a fixed and modest percentage of each worker's salary. Education, universal and free, is heavily emphasized — and Cuban universities are now training large numbers of foreign students from Communist and non-Communist countries alike.

Cuban workers put in an eight-hour day five and a half days a week, but are guaranteed four weeks of paid vacation per year by the nation's Constitution. And in striking contrast to the profit-oriented entertainment business in capitalist countries, Cuban bars, night clubs and restaurants lower their prices on weekends so average citizens can afford to patronize them. Television is ubiquitous, with sets installed free in new housing.

FROM CUBANS in all walks of life, the students heard repeated expressions of hope that "peaceful coexistence" with the U.S. can be achieved. Like other recent American visitors, they came away convinced that Cuba is anxious to normalize relations with this country.

There are a number of public and private signals emanating from the Carter administration that just such a policy shift is in the works. While Cuba is not on the front burner of Carter's foreign policy stove, it soon may be. The anti-hijacking treaty of 1973 which effectively closed off Havana as a haven for terrorists will expire on April 15, and Castro is likely to demand and receive some easing of the U.S. trade embargo against Cuba as the price for renewing the pact.

It's about time this country revised its head-in-the-sand attitude towards Cuba, in any event. Notwithstanding our very real differences with the Castro regime, it is inconsistent — to say the least — to pursue detente with the Soviet Union and improved communications with the Peoples Republic of China while pretending that a country 90 miles off our shores simply doesn't exist.

Understanding glaucoma – a way to save the eyes

Jim Bishop

The miracle of sight is appreciated when it is threatened. The complex of rods and cones, the lens which passes an image back to an optic nerve which leads to "seeing" inside the brain are dull matters to the person with good eyes.

The average man will shave his face a thousand times before he will make an appointment with an ophthalmologist. A woman blues her eyelids and beads the lashes to enhance her eyes. Children stick grimy knuckles in them. Hard-hat workmen get steel filings stuck in them.

The human eye far surpasses anything man can devise. It is like a tiny balloon filled with water. The front of it expands or depresses a bit to focus on something distant or as close as this paper.

IT WEARS A translucent cover called a comea. Beneath that is the retina. Then comes the pupil, with its tiny rods and cones, which picks up pieces of images and sends them back across vitreous fluid to the optic nerve. The whole thing is automatic.

Sometimes eyes quit. They stop seeing. Usually, they stop forever. The causes, in order of frequency are: cataracts, glaucoma, diabetes and accidents. A week or so ago, almost 2,000 ophthalmologists met at the Diplomat Hotel in Hollywood, Florida, for the First International Glaucoma Congress.

Glaucoma should be understood. Five million Americans have it. It is not an infectious disease. Nor is it, as some feel, the time when the tear ducts dry up.

THERE ARE several types of glaucoma, but they all have one thing in common. The fluid which circulates under the cornea is no longer draining back into the body through microscopically small ducts. Either that or, for some reason, the fluid is not getting into the eye.

Tears wash only the outer surface. Infants get glaucoma. So do adults. The statistcs climb dangerously at age 40. In chronic glaucoma, there is no pain, no spasmodic blurry vison, no quick dimness of sight.

It's insidious. The words are Dr. Allan Kolker's. He teaches ophthalmology at Washington University in St. Louis. The presence or absence of the condition can be proved with a small tonometer. The ophthalmologist rests it on the eyeball.

THE TONOMETER measures eyeball pressure. Not blood pressure. If the eye is filled with undrained fluid it will render a higher reading than, say, 13 to 21 millimeters of mercury. Dr. Hans Goldman of Switzerland says there is no such thing as abnormal eye pressure — "only a damaging one or a safe one."

Pressure damages the optic nerve behind the eyeball. It reduces nourishment. An injured nerve reduces sight. It never returns to full strength.

Acute glaucoma is different. It comes with blinding headaches. Dr. Kolker calls it "a toothache in the eye." Untreated, it can cause complete blindness in two days. Treatment consists of pilocarpine drops in the eye.

GLAUCOMA, WHETHER chronic or acute, is treatable. It cannot be cured. The world of medicine has reached a stage where it can stop the threat of blindness in its tracks. It cannot restore sight, merely stop its deterioration at whatever level it has attained when treatment begins.

Most of us are fairly faithful in having an annual examination. Our brains are imprisoned in fragile structures called the body. Our doctors examine the parts and give us counsel about weight, blood pressure, heart, lungs, kidney function, many things.

HE MERELY peeks into each eye to see if the blood vessels are engorged. He gives it as much attention as his peek into your ears.

An optometrist can prescribe proper glasses. An optician will grind them and fit them. Only the ophthalmologist is qualified to look inside your eyes, study the optic nerves and tell you that your windows on the world are in reasonably good health.

Eyes are rationed. Only two to a customer . . .

Cold brings good things

Last Saturday, when the thermometer plummeted to 7 degrees, I set out to interview an owner of an Arlington Heights business for a project in a business principles and management course at school. My teacher said it would be easy, but it turned out to be not such a simple task!!!

I traipsed all over the icy blocks of downtown Arlington Heights desperately trying to find an owner to interview. Either they were too busy or didn't feel like helping a poor, frozen high school student on a class project.

Finally I arrived at the "Bell Book Store" with blue fingers and numb toes. I nervously asked (it was my last chance!) if they would like to be interviewed, and they said YES!!! So I would like to publicly thank Jim and Sandy Bell, owners of the "Bell Book Store" in Arlington Heights, for taking time out of their hectic Saturday to help a poor, frozen high school student on a class project. Your kindness and time was greatly appreciated !!!

On the Friday all the schools in the Chicago area were closed, I did not listen to the radio; I didn't watch Action Seven's John Coleman warn, "It's going to be cold tomorrow!!" So I came to Oakton Community College for my 8:30 a.m. class and found out after my ride home had left that there was no school. (Transportation to Park Ridge via the buses is far and few between even on nice days.)

Mr. Jim Coursey, chief of security at OCC was kind enough to get the blue van running and take the few uninformed students home. Little things like that make me appreciate the community of Oakton.

Several neighbors have said they feel so sorry for the girls delivering the papers this winter. The paper is always near the door, rain, sleet or snow.

They collect payments regularly and don't let it pile up to one large sum. They are always friendly and polite.

We're lucky to have Karen and Sue Novak.

The miracle of sight is appreciated when it is threatened. The complex of rods and cones, the lens which passes an image back to an optic nerve which leads to "seeing" inside the brain are dull matters to the person with good eyes.

The average man will shave his face a thousand times before he will make an appointment with an ophthalmologist. A woman blues her eyelids and beads the lashes to enhance her eyes. Children stick grimy knuckles in them. Hard-hat workmen get steel filings stuck in them.

The human eye far surpasses anything man can devise. It is like a tiny balloon filled with water. The front of it expands or depresses a bit to focus on something distant or as close as this paper.

IT WEARS A translucent cover called a comea. Beneath that is the retina. Then comes the pupil, with its tiny rods and cones, which picks up pieces of images and sends them back across vitreous fluid to the optic nerve. The whole thing is automatic.

Sometimes eyes quit. They stop seeing. Usually, they stop forever. The causes, in order of frequency are: cataracts, glaucoma, diabetes and accidents. A week or so ago, almost 2,000 ophthalmologists met at the Diplomat Hotel in Hollywood, Florida, for the First International Glaucoma Congress.

Glaucoma should be understood. Five million Americans have it. It is not an infectious disease. Nor is it, as some feel, the time when the tear ducts dry up.

THERE ARE several types of glaucoma, but they all have one thing in common. The fluid which circulates under the cornea is no longer draining back into the body through microscopically small ducts. Either that or, for some reason, the fluid is not getting into the eye.

Tears wash only the outer surface. Infants get glaucoma. So do adults. The statistcs climb dangerously at age 40. In chronic glaucoma, there is no pain, no spasmodic blurry vison, no quick dimness of sight.

It's insidious. The words are Dr. Allan Kolker's. He teaches ophthalmology at Washington University in St. Louis. The presence or absence of the condition can be proved with a small tonometer. The ophthalmologist rests it on the eyeball.

THE TONOMETER measures eyeball pressure. Not blood pressure. If the eye is filled with undrained fluid it will render a higher reading than, say, 13 to 21 millimeters of mercury. Dr. Hans Goldman of Switzerland says there is no such thing as abnormal eye pressure — "only a damaging one or a safe one."

Pressure damages the optic nerve behind the eyeball. It reduces nourishment. An injured nerve reduces sight. It never returns to full strength.

Acute glaucoma is different. It comes with blinding headaches. Dr. Kolker calls it "a toothache in the eye." Untreated, it can cause complete blindness in two days. Treatment consists of pilocarpine drops in the eye.

GLAUCOMA, WHETHER chronic or acute, is treatable. It cannot be cured. The world of medicine has reached a stage where it can stop the threat of blindness in its tracks. It cannot restore sight, merely stop its deterioration at whatever level it has attained when treatment begins.

Most of us are fairly faithful in having an annual examination. Our brains are imprisoned in fragile structures called the body. Our doctors examine the parts and give us counsel about weight, blood pressure, heart, lungs, kidney function, many things.

HE MERELY peeks into each eye to see if the blood vessels are engorged. He gives it as much attention as his peek into your ears.

An optometrist can prescribe proper glasses. An optician will grind them and fit them. Only the ophthalmologist is qualified to look inside your eyes, study the optic nerves and tell you that your windows on the world are in reasonably good health.

Eyes are rationed. Only two to a customer . . .

Cold brings good things

Last Saturday, when the thermometer plummeted to 7 degrees, I set out to interview an owner of an Arlington Heights business for a project in a business principles and management course at school. My teacher said it would be easy, but it turned out to be not such a simple task!!!

I traipsed all over the icy blocks of downtown Arlington Heights desperately trying to find an owner to interview. Either they were too busy or didn't feel like helping a poor, frozen high school student on a class project.

Finally I arrived at the "Bell Book Store" with blue fingers and numb toes. I nervously asked (it was my last chance!) if they would like to be interviewed, and they said YES!!! So I would like to publicly thank Jim and Sandy Bell, owners of the "Bell Book Store" in Arlington Heights, for taking time out of their hectic Saturday to help a poor, frozen high school student on a class project. Your kindness and time was greatly appreciated !!!

On the Friday all the schools in the Chicago area were closed, I did not listen to the radio; I didn't watch Action Seven's John Coleman warn, "It's going to be cold tomorrow!!" So I came to Oakton Community College for my 8:30 a.m. class and found out after my ride home had left that there was no school. (Transportation to Park Ridge via the buses is far and few between even on nice days.)

Mr. Jim Coursey, chief of security at OCC was kind enough to get the blue van running and take the few uninformed students home. Little things like that make me appreciate the community of Oakton.

After reading letters to the editor on Feb. 8 about two Herald newsboys, I felt I must write about our newsgirls.

Several neighbors have said they feel so sorry for the girls delivering the papers this winter. The paper is always near the door, rain, sleet or snow.

They collect payments regularly and don't let it pile up to one large sum. They are always friendly and polite.

We're lucky to have Karen and Sue Novak.

Woman battles national Jaycees on men-only membership policy

by LEA TONKIN

"I wanna be a Jaycee just like you, Daddy," reads the pin Kathy McShane wears.

"The little girl shown on the pin looks like she's 5 years old, which is about how old the equal membership drive is," said Ms. McShane, a Palatine resident who recently was appointed to the Full and Equal Membership Committee of the Chicago Jaycees.

The Jaycees, she said, is a group aiming for personal and professional development through their participation in community activities. Ms. McShane's status as a member is somewhat tenuous, however. The United States Jaycees organization has a men-only membership policy.

"I DON'T SEE the logic of women being excluded from the Jaycees," said Ms. McShane, who is employed as a member of the cash management group for the Jewel Companies Inc., Chicago. Although many Jaycees are sponsored by their employers, Ms. McShane joined as an individual.

"One of the things Jaycees members address themselves to is service to the community," she said. "Women are interested in personal growth. Their talents shouldn't be overlooked."

Ms. McShane acknowledges that women have the option of participation in women's auxiliary groups affiliated with the Jaycees. But she favors equal participation in professional development and social programs, noting the potential for duplication of effort in separate groups for men and women.

Sharing a Jaycee involvement with her husband Steve, Ms. McShane says she has gained new organizational and public speaking skills during her one-year stint as a member of the Chicago chapter. She has served as chairman of the chapter's criminal justice committee, participated in community recreation programs and currently offers job placement counseling to ex-offenders participating in the Safer Foundation program.

'I DON'T SEE the logic of women being excluded from the Jaycees" said Kathy McShane, campaigning for full and equal membership.

"THE CHICAGO chapter has allowed women members for the past five years," Ms. McShane said. "Although the question of equal membership for women has come up at national conventions the last two years, it was voted down." Court decisions have upheld the right of a private organization to set membership standards.

"In the Chicago chapter the only way we exist, allowing women members, is under three sanctions from the national Jaycees." Ms. McShane said. "We cannot host a national convention, we've lost voting privileges in national elections and we cannot have members nominated in national elections." The chapter "more than likely would have been expelled" if the three conditions were not obeyed, she said.

Despite vocal opposition from some Jaycee members, the national interest in membership for women has blossomed in the past few years, she says. Pilot programs in Alaska, Massachusetts and Washington, D.C. allow women as Jaycee members. Ms. McShane said the national Jaycee "Parade of States" ranking of club activities has climbed dramatically for the three states during the recent trial period.

Through the Chicago Jaycees' committee, Ms. McShane and others suggest each chapter set its own membership rules.

"IF SOME MEN see the Jaycees as 'boys' night out' and they are serving the community, that's fine," she said. "But in a neighboring community, women might be allowed to join."

"It's an idea gaining momentum," Ms. McShane said. Trips to meet with other Illinois Jaycees, "soft sell" discussions about the issue upon request, and contact with other chapters throughout the United States are among her activities. Sales of the "I wanna be a Jaycee" buttons to fellow members are increasing, she says. Literature is distributed at state gatherings, as equal membership supporters aim for national acceptance in the 1978 national convention.

"We do run into rather vehement opposition, mostly at state conventions," Ms. McShane said. "We realize that we're trying to change people's attitudes, and that's a difficult thing to do."

Stocks bounce back, gain 4 points

NEW YORK (UPI) — Stocks made their first gain this week on the New York Stock Exchange Thursday.

The Dow Jones industrial average, ahead more than six points at one time, finished with a gain of 4.08 points to 937.92. Prior to Thursday, the Dow this year had fallen 70.81 points, including 8.40 Wednesday.

The market's sharp decline had left blue chips and glamors attractively priced, analysts said. The smaller investor appeared to be doing some buying. Institutions have cleared out of many of the higher-priced stocks.

STANDARD & Poor's 500-stock index, containing some over-the-counter stocks, rose 0.09 to 100.82.

Of the 1,881 issues traded, 713 advanced, 713 declined and 455 remained unchanged.

Volume totaled 22,340,000 shares, compared with 23,640,000 Wednesday.

The market was helped by a warming trend in the weather in the East. James Schlesinger, President Carter's energy chief, said the immediate crisis was over in the Midwest and East. The U.S. Labor Dept. reported unemployment related to the weather declined sharply in the last week.

Schlesinger also said the recently enacted emergency legislation that allows higher natural gas prices was not indicative of the administration's long-term policy.

GENERAL MOTORS, a four-point loser the past two days, was the second most active issue, gaining 3/8 to 71 3/8.

Howard Johnson was the most active issue off 3/8 to 10¼. Trading included blocks of 266,900 shares at 10 1/8 and 112,500 shares at 10. Gulf & Western, up 1/8 to 15 1/8, was the third most active issue with a block of 190,000 shares at 15.

Prices were higher on the American Stock Exchange. The Amex market value index gained 0.22 to 112.65 and the average price of a common share increased by two cents. Advances topped declines, 300 to 278, among the 898 issues traded. Volume totaled 3,020,000 shares, compared with 3,200,000 Wednesday.

McBride claims election victory

Lloyd McBride claimed victory over insurgent Ed Sadlowski in the election for the United Steelworkers presidency Thursday, saying the outcome was a repudiation of his opponent's "irrational" attempts to discredit the union. But Sadlowski refused to accept defeat. His attorney said Sadlowski would decide shortly whether to challenge the legality of the election, risking what he described as "several years of a cloud over the union." McBride, who promised to continue the policies of retiring President I.W. Abel, cautiously waited until three days after the balloting to claim victory. His own tally showed a 75,000 vote edge with about 525,000, or 95 per cent, of the ballots counted unofficially.

Arlington Bank & Trust assets up

Total assets at the Bank & Trust Co. of Arlington Heights increased from $69,796,614 to $78,104,939 during 1976, reported president W.C. Wolf at the bank's recent annual meeting. Record net earnings amounted to $4.55 a share compared with $3.55 a share in 1975, a total profit after taxes of $689,561. Loans increased from $41,733,427 in 1975 to $46,225,839 in 1976. Wolf said completion of the bank's $650,000 expansion and remodeling program in the Arlington Market shopping center is expected in September. New board members elected at the meeting include James G. Blackburn of Palatine, president of the Assurance Agency in Arlington Heights; and James J. Cunningham Jr. of Arlington Heights, president of John Henricks, Inc., Arlington Heights. Board members reelected at the meeting are John H. Brinker Jr., Robert H. Bukowski, Ronald . Chinnock, Stephen Jurco, Hugo J. Moirano, Dr. Keith G. Wurtz, W.C. Wolf and Blaine J. Yarrington.

Heating bills may rise $100

Severe weather and higher fuel prices may add nearly $100 to the average American homeowner's heating bill this winter, boosting it to $290, the Federal Energy Administration reported Thursday. That comes out to 45 per cent more than the cost during the previous winter, and compares with an estimated increase of only $23 per home that would have resulted from higher prices alone. Assuming continued cold weather, the energy administration said, Americans heating with gas, oil and electricity will pay $6 billion more this winter than the total fuel bill of $13.2 billion in the 1975-76 heating season. About two-thirds of the increase is due to the extremely cold weather, analysts said. Even if the weather improves, the agency said, average heating bills will rise $73 to $270.

Motorola reports record sales

Motorola Inc., Schaumburg, Thursday reported record sales and earnings for the fourth quarter and full year of 1976. For the year, the company reported sales and other revenues of $1.5 billion compared with the 1975 figure of $1.3 billion. Earnings for the year reached $88 million, or $3.10 a share compared with $41 million or $1.46 a share the previous year. During the fourth quarter of 1976, earnings amounted to $26 million or 91 cents a share on sales of $412 million. This compares with fourth quarter earnings in 1975 of $12 million or 43 cents a share on sales of $356 million. Motorola chairman Robert W. Galvin reported increased net margins on sales, earnings and the company's return on average invested capital. Communications, semiconductor and automotive products divisions contributed to gains in sales and earnings, Galvin said, predicting continued improvement.

Dual phone book listing proposed

The Illinois Commerce Commission said Thursday it will open hearings to consider requiring all Illinois telephone companies to provide dual listing service in telephone directories without charge. The proposal would require telephone companies to list on the same line any two adult customers with the same last name and telephone number who live together, such as husband and wife or two brothers or sisters. The commission, which will begin hearings on the topic March 7 in Springfield, is proposing that all residential directories issued after June 1, 1977, or as soon as possible thereafter, provide the dual listing service.

State official explains proposal

by DIANE GRANAT

State Schools Supt. Joseph Cronin discussed his recent decision to allow Elk Grove Township voters to hold a referendum to decide whether a unit school district will be formed in their area.

The proposed unit district would combine Elk Grove Township Dist. 59 schools, Elk Grve High School and Forest View High School under one school board and administration. Dist. 59 is one of seven elementary districts in the Dist. 214 area.

In a question and answer sesssion with Herald reporter Diane Granat, Cronin explored the unit district proposal.

What are the educational advantages of forming a unit district in Elk Grove Township?

The extension of reading and foreign language programs from the elementary grades in Dist. 59 to the high school level are reasons why a unit district might be better for the children, Crnin said.

He was referring to bilingual programs, reading clinics and the federally sponsored Right to Read program in the elementary schools, Dist. 59 officials said.

What other educational benefits would the children get in a unit district?

Better communication between the elementary and the upper grades, allowing "more programs going from kindergarten through grade 12," would be another benefit, Cronin said.

"Even when there is only one board (communication between the two levels) is difficult, but it's easier when you have the same board and the same superintendent giving directions to the staff," he said.

Will it hurt the quality of education in the high schools to have an elementary district manage Forest View and Elk Grove high schools by July 1, the date the unit district would begin if it is approved by a majority of the Dist. 59 voters?

JOSEPH CRONIN

"At that point it wouldn't be an elementary district anymore. They would have two high school principals and the board could decide whether they want an assistant superintendent for the high schools."

Another "local option," Cronin said, would be for Dist. 214 to "loan some staff" to Dist. 59 to get the high school administration established.

What would happen to the remaining elementary districts in Dist. 214 if Dist. 59 pulls out? Will the formation of the Elk Grove unit district have a domino effect?

Cronin said he would support a change creating two or three unit districts out of the Dist. 214 area. "I don't think that it would necessarily be bad to have two or three unit districts instead of the eight districts right now. But eight units, we would have to look at that one case by case," he said.

Cronin believes that if Dist. 214 encompassed all the elementary districts and became one unit district it would be too large. "That would be too big, with 60,000 kids in the elementary and the junior and senior highs all together," he said.

Will you urge other school districts in the Dist. 214 area to adopt a unit system?

"We believe in citizen initiative and local determination," Cronin said. "I'm not going to go around promoting it, although the (Illinois) Citizens Task Force on School Finance is talking about putting in some incentives for those districts that want to unify."

Why didn't you give more details about why you opposed Cook County Schools Supt. Richard Martwick's recommendation to not hold a referendum on the unit district issue?

"On the advice of my counsel who said you can give some reasons . . . but while you have to look at the (school) code, the code doesn't say that I have to debate," Cronin said.

"The code simply says that I look at the transcript (of the public hearings) and make some determinations on size, compactness and educational factors. I don't have to write a thesis on it. I just review the evidence," he said.

State official explains proposal

by DIANE GRANAT

State Schools Supt. Joseph Cronin discussed his recent decision to allow Elk Grove Township voters to hold a referendum to decide whether a unit school district will be formed in their area.

The proposed unit district would combine Elk Grove Township Dist. 59 schools, Elk Grve High School and Forest View High School under one school board and administration. Dist. 59 is one of seven elementary districts in the Dist. 214 area.

In a question and answer sesssion with Herald reporter Diane Granat, Cronin explored the unit district proposal.

What are the educational advantages of forming a unit district in Elk Grove Township?

The extension of reading and foreign language programs from the elementary grades in Dist. 59 to the high school level are reasons why a unit district might be better for the children, Crnin said.

He was referring to bilingual programs, reading clinics and the federally sponsored Right to Read program in the elementary schools, Dist. 59 officials said.

What other educational benefits would the children get in a unit district?

Better communication between the elementary and the upper grades, allowing "more programs going from kindergarten through grade 12," would be another benefit, Cronin said.

"Even when there is only one board (communication between the two levels) is difficult, but it's easier when you have the same board and the same superintendent giving directions to the staff," he said.

Will it hurt the quality of education in the high schools to have an elementary district manage Forest View and Elk Grove high schools by July 1, the date the unit district would begin if it is approved by a majority of the Dist. 59 voters?

JOSEPH CRONIN

"At that point it wouldn't be an elementary district anymore. They would have two high school principals and the board could decide whether they want an assistant superintendent for the high schools."

Another "local option," Cronin said, would be for Dist. 214 to "loan some staff" to Dist. 59 to get the high school administration established.

What would happen to the remaining elementary districts in Dist. 214 if Dist. 59 pulls out? Will the formation of the Elk Grove unit district have a domino effect?

Cronin said he would support a change creating two or three unit districts out of the Dist. 214 area. "I don't think that it would necessarily be bad to have two or three unit districts instead of the eight districts right now. But eight units, we would have to look at that one case by case," he said.

Cronin believes that if Dist. 214 encompassed all the elementary districts and became one unit district it would be too large. "That would be too big, with 60,000 kids in the elementary and the junior and senior highs all together," he said.

Will you urge other school districts in the Dist. 214 area to adopt a unit system?

"We believe in citizen initiative and local determination," Cronin said. "I'm not going to go around promoting it, although the (Illinois) Citizens Task Force on School Finance is talking about putting in some incentives for those districts that want to unify."

Why didn't you give more details about why you opposed Cook County Schools Supt. Richard Martwick's recommendation to not hold a referendum on the unit district issue?

"On the advice of my counsel who said you can give some reasons . . . but while you have to look at the (school) code, the code doesn't say that I have to debate," Cronin said.

"The code simply says that I look at the transcript (of the public hearings) and make some determinations on size, compactness and educational factors. I don't have to write a thesis on it. I just review the evidence," he said.

Director uses his movie as a warning of doom

by GENIE CAMPBELL

George Cosmatos not only directed "The Cassandra Crossing," he co-authored it. And because so much of his own personal emotions and ideas are wrapped up in the film, he lovingly describes it, at times staunchly defends it, like a daughter.

Primarily, it's the word disaster spoken frequently in connection wuth "The Cassandra Crossing" that haunts Cosmatos the most. He appreciates the good reviews — "classic of disaster films" and "disaster with heart" — but why use disaster at all, he questions. Cosmatos is extremely sensitive.

The why is easy to answer, even easier for movie promoters to push. After all, "The Cassandra Crossing" does lead viewers on a harrowing ride. A transcontinental train with 1,000 passengers on board who have been exposed to a fatal plague is destined for even further doom as the train is mysteriously rerouted to cross a disused, rickety bridge over a deep mountain chasm. Chances are they won't make it.

COSMATOS THINKS the murders on board and the inevitable crash don't really signify or, leastways, add up to disaster. It's a ploy to hold viewers' attention while he spoon-feeds them his real message.

"People call it a train movie. But if you make a movie in an office, do you call it an office movie? In an apartment, is it an apartment movie? Of course not," said the Greek director, who was in Chicago recently to promote his movie.

Nor is disaster the way to categorize "The Cassandra Crossing," he firmly believes. He's not after pure sensationalism. Yet without the suspense, adventure and intrigue — who would listen? Cosmatos might be right.

The 34-year-old director first made a name for himself four years ago with "Massacre in Rome" starring Richard Burton. Cosmatos felt compelled to direct it.

"It dealt with human rights and retributions under international law. I did it for moral reasons," he said. And it was that exact frame of mind that prompted him to tackle "The Cassandra Crossing."

"THE LEAKAGE OF germs from a lab has always bothered me. It's more frightening than any nuclear weapon. And much more destructive. The scope of germs is unbelievable, especially man made ones. It's bugged me for years."

Cosmatos' fear is real. Though he did not contract it himself as a child, he experienced the cholera epidemic in Egypt where his father was a Warner Bros. executive and his grandfather a Greek ambassador.

'The Cassandra Crossing' reviewed on page 3

Pausing to stare out the hotel window at pedestrians battling gusty, cold winds, he called Chicago "Siberia."

And then his thoughts quickly returned. "But this is nothing like the hot, sticky sun, the smell of medicine, death, the sirens. It's always stayed in the back of my mind."

He wanted "The Cassandra Crossing" to capture that fear — to make people aware it could happen again. "But I didn't want to preach either."

According to Cosmatos, without "candy-coating" the message, no one would go to see the film. People are too used to television for which one isn't required to think.

"But I was fighting inside myself with two dangers. I wanted it (the film) to be a commercial success, of course, and I also wanted to get my point across." And Cosmatos thinks he won.

IT'S A MICROCOSM of human emotion erupting on the train that takes in love-hate-action-adventure. It's all strung together. Do you know what I mean?" his English finally failing him in describing the simultaneous turmoil and unbridled emotions.

"The most difficult aspect of the film was creating the atmosphere — the invisible threat of germs out of control."

Filmed on location in Italy, Switzerland and France, timing became important too. Some scenes had to be shot right the first time in a matter of minutes at borrowed stations, in between regularly scheduled trains.

And there were the psychological difficulties of working with 15

"IT'S A VERY strange picture. Even those who hate it — and you can't please everyone — always have something good to say about it." said director George Cosmatos about his new film. 'Superstar' authors write new opera

by VERNON SCOTT

The authors of the rock opera "Jesus Christ Superstar" have written another opus, titled "Evita."

They like to think of their new work as opera and not rock.

Opera has not been a popular means of musical self-expression for composers since Puccini and Verdi departed this vale at the beginning of the century.

Opera houses of the world endlessly restage the classic but musty works of long dead Italians and Germans. And while "Jesus Christ Superstar" may not join "Tosca" and "Aida" in opera's pantheon, it is at least a start.

Englishmen Andrew Lloyd Webber, 38, and Tim Rice, 32, created "Superstar" and spent the past three years composing "Evita," based on Argentina's Eva Peron, the tiny, powerful and controversial blonde second wife of the late Argentine dictator, Juan Peron.

The collaborators are a Mutt and Jeff pair. Rice is tall and blond. Webber is smallish and dark. They speak rapidly and interlace their observations like a duet from "Il Trovatore."

Webber and Rice appear not to aspire to grand opera. Perhaps they fall somewhere between Sigmund Romberg and Rodgers and Hart.

Like "Jesus Christ Superstar," their new work came to life as a double record album. They hope it will become first a theatrical presentation and then a motion picture.

They were asked why they chose Evita Peron, who died in 1952, as the subject of their second major work.

"She suited our style," Rice answered. "Hers is a strong story which is also true and dramatic."

"We didn't purposely seek a woman as the central character," Webber put in. "It was her strength and dynamics which attracted us."

"I went to Argentina for a couple of weeks to do some research," Rice said. "But we weren't interested in her politics. We sought to get into Evita's head to find out what sort of woman she really was.

"Actually, she was two different people. There was the public Evita and the private Evita. Both were exciting and vibrant."

Webber said, " 'Evita' is a much more complex work than 'Superstar,' considerably more mature in content and musically."

THE PARTNERS SAID they had not made a saint of the late dictator's wife. Early response from Argentina, they said, has been favorable.

In England, "Evita" is an unqualified smash, socko hit. The album is No. 1 after six weeks in release.

"It is starting out four times better than 'Superstar,' " said Webber.

"We thought 'Superstar' was an accident," Rice said. "We produced the album and never thought of it as a play or film. It still works best as a record because everyone has a fixed idea of Christ. And seeing an actor in the role clashes too much."

"It's still playing in the London theater after five years," Rice added. "Because the album was such a huge hit we couldn't change many things in staging it as a play. Audiences would have objected to departures."

So far, they guess, "Superstar" has earned about $10 million from record sales, concerts, stage performances and the Universal movie.

CLEARLY, THE Englishmen would like to see "Evita" follow suit. They think it has the potential to surpass their first effort.

" 'Evita' has been such a success in England we feel we should make a stage effort," said Webber, the composer. "We've had offers from New York, Hollywood and London to produce it as a movie. But we think the first step would be the stage."

Rice, the lyricist, said "Evita" was constructed for the stage in the first place and this time the partners will retain more creative control than they did with "Superstar." They will produce, not direct, "Evita."

"We knew nothing of production five years ago," Rice added. "But we've learned with about 20 different productions of 'Superstar' around the world."

"We are aware of the pitfalls now," his partner agreed. "The fact that we've produced the record first, instead of going directly to the stage of movies, works well for us.

"IN THEATER THE critics must make a judgment on one hearing. But a record can be played many times before conclusions are drawn. This way we know if the music is really good and not being judged on the basis of visual interpretation."

Rice said, "Many times a good score is buried forever because a theatrical presentation fails. With an album the music and lyrics stand on their own."

"Evita" doesn't sound like conventional opera. Nor is it operetta. Neither can it accurately be described as a rock opera. Whatever, Webber and Rice seemed destined to make another very large splash in the music world.

Randhurst art show hails high school award winners

Talented high school students in the area will receive public recognition for their achievement in art through the Scholastic Art Awards exhibit which opens Saturday at Randhurst Shopping Center, lower level, Mount Prospect. The display runs through Feb. 26.

Wieboldt's Randhurst store serves as regional sponsor for the 1977 Scholastic Art Awards program, conducted nationally by Scholastic Magazines, Inc.

There are 15 classifications in the fields of painting, drawing, printmaking, design, three-dimensional art and photography. Teachers will select the best work done in their classes and send it to the regional sponsor for judging by art educators, artists and photographers recommended by the advisory committee.

GOLD ACHIEVEMENT keys and certificates of merit will be awarded for outstanding work, after which blue ribbon finalists will be selected from the gold key winners. These will be forwarded to Scholastic Magazines in New York, where they will be judged along with other regional winners at the 50th annual national exhibition.

Among the winners at the national show, 70 will be awarded scholarships to art schools and colleges and 50 Hallmark honor prizes of $100 will go to the best painting or drawing from each region.

In addition, the photography division offers 220 cash awards in black-and-white and color photography, as well as three scholarships.

Buddy Rich band to play Feb. 18

Buddy Rich and his 15-piece "Big Band Machine" will appear in concert Friday, Feb. 18, at Randhurst Ice Arena, Mount Prospect. The 8 p.m. performance is sponsored by the Cavaliers Drum and Bugle Corps of Park Ridge to serve as a fund-raising event for the group.

Tickets are available at the Arena, the Open Pantry, Mount Prospect, and at all Ticketron outlets. Prices are $4-$6. Further information can be obtained at 259-5534.

MOS opening tonight

Music On Stage opens its production of "H.M.S. Pinafore" tonight at 8:30 in Cutting Hall, Palatine. Additional performances of the Gilbert and Sullivan musical are Saturday and Feb. 18, 19, 25 and 26.

Tickets on Fridays are $3.50 adults, $2.50 senior citizens and students; Saturdays, all $4. Information 991-0333.

Community Arts League meets

The Community Arts League of Wheeling and Buffalo Grove meets Tuesday at 8 p.m. at Hoyne Savings and Loan, Wheeling. An oil painting demonstration will be given by Sue Robertson, a Wheeling resident who has won many awards for her work.

As a fund-raising project, the League will be selling printed note cards in packages of 12, with two nature scenes done by artists Sylvia Westgard and Sue Robertson. The two were the winning entries in a League members' contest.

The note cards will be available at League meetings or by calling 537-3871 or 537-2666.

Village Theatre to audition

Open auditions for "Don't Drink the Water," a Village Theatre production, will be held Monday and Tuesday at 8 p.m. at Pioneer Park, Arlington Heights. The Woody Allen comedy has a cast of four women and 12 men of various ages and types.

Performances will be given in early April at Arlington High School. Information 259-3200.

Heidelberg Orchestra concert

Members of Arlington Heights Community Concerts Association will hear a classical music concert by the Heidelberg Chamber Orchestra tonight at 8 in St. James Parish Center, Arlington Heights. Hungarian flutist Antal Szabo will be featured.

The orchestra, composed of strings, flute and harpsichord, is unusual in that it performs without conductor. This season marks its first full-scale tour of the United States.

Winter Art Fest

Over 100 artists are participating in the Winter Art Fest at Randhurst Shopping Center in Mount Prospect Saturday and Sunday during store hours.

Valentine date for M&S

Valentine's Day (Monday) is set for the next Masque & Staff general meeting to be held in the lower level meeting room of Elk Grove Village Public Library, 101 Kennedy Blvd., at 8:30 p.m.

The M&S dinner/show, "Play It Again, Sam," to be produced in April, will be the main topic of discussion. Production crews are now being assembled.

Information 437-0679.

Demonstration for Art Guild

Glenn Nerwin, a Mount Prospect artist, will demonstrate the uses of the airbrush, its techniques and applications at next Thusday's meeting of Arlington Heights Art Guild. His program follows an 8 p.m. business session at Our Saviour's Lutheran Church, 1234 N. Arlington Heights Rd. Guests are welcome.

Nerwin has completed a mural for the village hall of Mount Prospect and an 8x40 foot mural at the corner of Willow and Berkshire for area residents.

'Mack and Mabel'

"Mack and Mabel," a musical presented by Majors Productions, Inc., is on stage tonight and Saturday at Northwest Center for the Performing Arts, Streamwood. Curtain is at 8:30. Tickets are $3.50, with special rates for students and senior citizens. A dinner-theater combination is also available with Monaco Restaurant for $6.25. Reservations 289-2000.

Art show in retrospect

"Woodfield II Retrospect" is the title of a show at Countryside Art Gallery, featuring artists who were juried in a show last spring at Woodfield Shopping Mall, Schaumburg. The gallery at 407 N. Vail, Arlington Heights, is open Tuesday through Sunday 1 to 5 p.m. The display continues through Feb. 25. Information 253-3005.

Randhurst art show hails high school award winners

Talented high school students in the area will receive public recognition for their achievement in art through the Scholastic Art Awards exhibit which opens Saturday at Randhurst Shopping Center, lower level, Mount Prospect. The display runs through Feb. 26.

Wieboldt's Randhurst store serves as regional sponsor for the 1977 Scholastic Art Awards program, conducted nationally by Scholastic Magazines, Inc.

There are 15 classifications in the fields of painting, drawing, printmaking, design, three-dimensional art and photography. Teachers will select the best work done in their classes and send it to the regional sponsor for judging by art educators, artists and photographers recommended by the advisory committee.

GOLD ACHIEVEMENT keys and certificates of merit will be awarded for outstanding work, after which blue ribbon finalists will be selected from the gold key winners. These will be forwarded to Scholastic Magazines in New York, where they will be judged along with other regional winners at the 50th annual national exhibition.

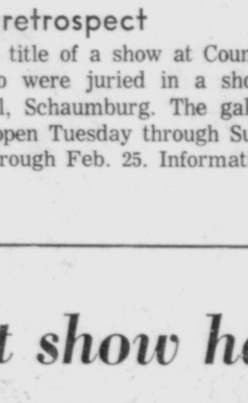
Among the winners at the national show, 70 will be awarded scholarships to art schools and colleges and 50 Hallmark honor prizes of $100 will go to the best painting or drawing from each region.

In addition, the photography division offers 220 cash awards in black-and-white and color photography, as well as three scholarships.

Buddy Rich band to play Feb. 18

Buddy Rich and his 15-piece "Big Band Machine" will appear in concert Friday, Feb. 18, at Randhurst Ice Arena, Mount Prospect. The 8 p.m. performance is sponsored by the Cavaliers Drum and Bugle Corps of Park Ridge to serve as a fund-raising event for the group.

Tickets are available at the Arena, the Open Pantry, Mount Prospect, and at all Ticketron outlets. Prices are $4-$6. Further information can be obtained at 259-5534.



Buddy Rich

Area actors to appear with Playwrights

Three area residents have roles in the Playwrights' Center production of "Allison," opening Feb. 18 for a four-weekend run at the Center, 110 W. Kinzie St., Chicago.

Hank de Groh of Arlington Heights, Bob Calvaresi of Rolling Meadows and Karen Knudsen of Palatine are appearing in the cast. "Allison" is the story of a woman whose marriage ends in divorce after 10 years. The play chronicles her attempt to fashion a new life and value system for herself as an artist and emotionally independent woman.

Ticket information is available at 664-0998.

'The Cassandra Crossing'

Workable plot shields disaster

Review

The Geneva - Stockholm Express racing across Europe with 1,000 passengers aboard, many of whom have been exposed to a fatal virus, suddenly disappears without a trace. That's what "The Cassandra Crossing" is promising moviegoers.

Yet the new Carlo Ponti film, directed by George Cosmatos, would, if judged on its final scene, be just another so-called disaster film. A rickety bridge over a deep mountain chasm collapses, spilling people out of the cars like cookies shaken one by one from an animal cracker box.

Yet the boundaries of pure sensationalism are checked by a viable, entertaining plot that makes that final human catastrophe a bit less frightening and gross to watch.

ALL THE FIRST class passengers are exposed to the mysterious, deadly plague which the U.S. supposedly develops while illegally experimenting in germ warfare at the World Health Organization in Geneva.

A fleeing terrorist unknowingly carries the bacteria with him onto the train as he attempts to escape the city. Somehow he gets to the station and on the train without infecting anyone along the way, which is rather unusual since the disease is highly contagious. But if you begin to fret over this one detail, the rest of the movie will begin to fall apart too.

Col. Mackenzie (Burt Lancaster) attached to WHO is merely a cog in the military wheel and must carry out orders handed down from the top.

The train is completely sealed off and sidetracked to an empty concentration camp in Poland where the passengers are to be quarantined until the danger is over. Yet it becomes evident to some of the passengers that the train is never meant to arrive at its destination.

ONE IS Richard Harris, an eminent doctor. Without Harris, the film would have a gapping hole. He manages to act aloof, powerful, weak and vulnerable all at the same time and remain very convincing besides.

Sophia Loren is a natural as his spunky, beautiful ex-wife, She and Harris reveal far more depth in feeling and character than might be expected in a movie whose priorities lie elsewhere.

And Lancaster aptly portrays a man haunted by his conscience, yet too disciplined to ignore orders. However, his role isn't very significant.

HARRIS REMAINS the central figure, but cameo performances by Ava Gardner, Martin Sheen, O.J. Simpson and Lee Strasberg make the train ride a bit faster.

Movies with large casts take too long to set the scene. "The Cassandra Crossing" is no exception. But you can never quite forget where you are for the chilling, loud musical score by Jerry Godsmith. It's very effective until it becomes redundant. "The Cassandra Crossing" is rated (R).

'Fun with Dick and Jane'

See Dick grow up. See Jane grow up. See Dick and Jane marry. Watch them credit themselves to death.

See Dick get fired. See Jane cry. See the nursery repossess Dick's and Jane's front lawn. See Dick and Jane become desperate. See them become robbers in "Fun with Dick and Jane."

George Segal and Jane Fonda turn the economic pinch, more like crunch, into a far-fetched hilarious comedy, though anyone who's experienced problems of unemployment might liken it to rubbing salt in a wound.

STILL, IT'S a madcap affair for which Segal is noted and Fonda can nicely accommodate. Some effort is taken to uncover potholes in the system and the ruthlessness of corporate dealings. Yet nothing is to be taken too seriously here, except the laughs.

Gerald Gaiser's book, "Dick and Jane," was not a comedy. But three screenwriters have made it into one, with Fonda even playing out one scene on a toilet — no doubt a first.

The first half of the movie is best, while the novelty of the idea is still fresh.

IN A VARIETY of outlandish skits, the movie shows Dick and Jane trying to make the best of what they believe can only be a temporary situation. But Dick defaults on his unemployment by appearing as an extra in an opera, and Jane is unable to hold down a job at all.

Food stamps are too late in coming. The couple are held up coming out of the loan office with borrowed cash.

So in order to make ends meet, they turn to robbing — even the telephone company. It's a low key, polite operation. Jane won't even allow Dick to load his gun.

THE PAYOFF is a $200,000 slush fund which Dick's old company keeps for payoffs. They take it right out from under the nose of Dick's former boss played by Ed McMahon, who should be highly commended for his performance. You even forget it's Ed McMahon.

"Fun with Dick and Jane" is rated (PG). Don't take it seriously, but do see it for lots of fun. It was directed by Ted Kotcheff who also gave us "The Apprenticeship of Duddy Kravitz."

WHY DOES DICK look like a Mouseketeer? Why does Jane look pensive? They're planning their first heist that's why. "Fun with Dick and Jane" opens today at area theaters.

Movie guide

Designed to help readers decide which movies they want to see, this guide includes a listing of movies currently playing in the Northwest suburban area plus capsule summaries and comments, based on reports of the Independent Film Journal, for selected films of interest to readers.

"Freaky Friday" — A teenage girl whose fondest wish is to change places with her mother, unexpectedly finds her wish granted in this latest Walt Disney release. Stars Jodie Foster, Barbara Harris, Patsy Kelly, Kaye Ballard and Ruth Buzzi. (G).

"Rocky" — Sylvester Stallone wrote the script and stars as the title character in this small, unpretentious and genuinely involving story of a local clubhouse prizefighter who gets a chance-of-a-lifetime shot at the world heavyweight title and finds love and self-respect along the way. (PG).

"Silver Streak" — A comedy adventure set principally on a luxury train en route from Los Angeles to Chicago. Hostages are held aboard the train by racketeers engaged in an international art hoax. Stars Gene Wilder, Jill Clayburgh, Richard Pryor, Patrick McGoohan and Scatman Crothers. (PG).

"King Kong" — Multi-dollar remake of the 1933 "King Kong" classic, in which the giant ape commutes downtown from the Empire State Building to the twin towers of the World Trade Center. Stars Jeff Bridges, Charles Grodin and Jessica Lange. (PG)

"Network" — The quartet of award-caliber performances by Peter Finch, Faye Dunaway, Robert Duvall and William Holden is a whopping show in itself in this biting look at a television network, the cut throat tactics rampant behind-the-scenes and the questionable message delivered by the medium to its viewers. (R).

"A Star Is Born" — The eternal show business classic, originally staring Janet Gaynor and Frederic March and later remade with Judy Garland and James Mason, surfaces for the third time, this time transposing Barbra Streisand and Kris Kristofferson into a Rock and Roll setting. (R).

Warning of doom...

Yet Cosmatos automatically defends his film against big-name padding.

"I did not invent any roles. I chose Sophia Loren for her strength and vitality. The chemistry was just right. Burt Lancaster is a real man, and then I went looking for another equally as strong who could stand up to Lancaster," he said. Harris was his choice.

AND UNLIKE THE well-publicized clashes occurring on many movie sets, Cosmatos said "there was never any friction. The cast was so diverse, they always had new things to share."

He describes Harris as a "good man, well cultured; Sophia Loren as mother earth; Ava Gardner as the "Auntie Mame" type.

"Martin Sheen is an incredibly good person and O. J. Simpson is great." He is "young, enthusiastic, a black Robert Mitchum — he moves with natural grace," he added.

"I didn't even know he was a football star when I chose him. He was very flattered by that," said Cosmatos, who requested pictures of good-looking black actors from Hollywood agents. O. J.'s was one of the pictures forwarded to him in Rome, where he resides.

"Now we're the best of friends. He calls me Yogro — that's my name (George) in Greek," continued Cosmatos.

Since he saw his first movie, "Captain Blood," at the age of six, Cosmatos has been enamored of movies and filmmaking. Yet there are parts of the business he detests. Arranging for financial backing is one.

"I wouldn't wish funding on my worst enemy," said Cosmatos, who smokes four packs a day because of it but maintains he never inhales.

"THE CASSANDRA Crossing" cost $6 million to make in Europe. It would have cost more than three times that much if filmed in the United States.

"I hate trying to get money. It makes me nervous. Directors have to work under so much pressure. Painters can say, 'I don't feel like painting today. I'll do it tomorrow.' A director has to be creative every minute because it's costing money."

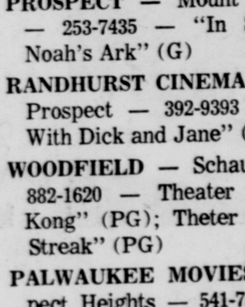
Cosmatos may complain, but he's not about to quit the business. Soon he'll begin directing "The Sweetheart Deal" being produced by David Niven Jr. and after that, "Gemini Contender" based on the best seller.

"And I still want to do a movie about the first revolt of the blacks in Haiti and a swashbuckler film like the old Errol Flynn kind. Only trouble is I haven't found a new Errol Flynn."

Violinist performs Sunday with Northwest Symphony

Blair Milton, a member of the Chicago Symphony Orchestra since 1975, will be guest violinist at the second concert of the season for Northwest Symphony Orchestra.

Directed by Perry Crafton, Northwest Symphony will perform Sunday at 7:30 p.m. at Maine East High School Auditorium, Dempster and Potter, Park Ridge.



Blair Milton

Milton is a native of Willowdale, Canada, graduateing from McGill University, Montreal, and recently completed work on his doctor of music degree at Indiana University.

Season tickets for the remaining three concerts by Northwest Symphony are $5.50 for adults and $2.75 for students and senior citizens. Single concert tickets, $3 for adults and $1.50 for students and seniors, may be purchased at the door or ordered from Savena Gorsline, 824-1279, or Vicki Steinbach, 83-2611. Children under 12 are admitted free if accompanied by an adult.

League artists show their work

Three members of the Community Arts League of Wheeling and Buffalo Grove are exhibiting their work this month in area locations.

A new member, David Wu, has a display at the Buffalo Grove Medical Center, along with one by Judy Byrnes. Sue Robertson is exhibiting watercolors at the Bank of Buffalo Grove.

The League has announced its new officers. Nita Duncanson is president; Judy Byrnes, vice president; June Monahan, secretary; and Sue Robertson, treasurer.

'The Cassandra Crossing'

Workable plot shields disaster

Review

The Geneva - Stockholm Express racing across Europe with 1,000 passengers aboard, many of whom have been exposed to a fatal virus, suddenly disappears without a trace. That's what "The Cassandra Crossing" is promising moviegoers.

Yet the new Carlo Ponti film, directed by George Cosmatos, would, if judged on its final scene, be just another so-called disaster film. A rickety bridge over a deep mountain chasm collapses, spilling people out of the cars like cookies shaken one by one from an animal cracker box.

Yet the boundaries of pure sensationalism are checked by a viable, entertaining plot that makes that final human catastrophe a bit less frightening and gross to watch.

ALL THE FIRST class passengers are exposed to the mysterious, deadly plague which the U.S. supposedly develops while illegally experimenting in germ warfare at the World Health Organization in Geneva.

A fleeing terrorist unknowingly carries the bacteria with him onto the train as he attempts to escape the city. Somehow he gets to the station and on the train without infecting anyone along the way, which is rather unusual since the disease is highly contagious. But if you begin to fret over this one detail, the rest of the movie will begin to fall apart too.

Col. Mackenzie (Burt Lancaster) attached to WHO is merely a cog in the military wheel and must carry out orders handed down from the top.

The train is completely sealed off and sidetracked to an empty concentration camp in Poland where the passengers are to be quarantined until the danger is over. Yet it becomes evident to some of the passengers that the train is never meant to arrive at its destination.

ONE IS Richard Harris, an eminent doctor. Without Harris, the film would have a gapping hole. He manages to act aloof, powerful, weak and vulnerable all at the same time and remain very convincing besides.

Sophia Loren is a natural as his spunky, beautiful ex-wife, She and Harris reveal far more depth in feeling and character than might be expected in a movie whose priorities lie elsewhere.

And Lancaster aptly portrays a man haunted by his conscience, yet too disciplined to ignore orders. However, his role isn't very significant.

HARRIS REMAINS the central figure, but cameo performances by Ava Gardner, Martin Sheen, O.J. Simpson and Lee Strasberg make the train ride a bit faster.

Movies with large casts take too long to set the scene. "The Cassandra Crossing" is no exception. But you can never quite forget where you are for the chilling, loud musical score by Jerry Godsmith. It's very effective until it becomes redundant. "The Cassandra Crossing" is rated (R).

'Fun with Dick and Jane'

See Dick grow up. See Jane grow up. See Dick and Jane marry. Watch them credit themselves to death.

See Dick get fired. See Jane cry. See the nursery repossess Dick's and Jane's front lawn. See Dick and Jane become desperate. See them become robbers in "Fun with Dick and Jane."

George Segal and Jane Fonda turn the economic pinch, more like crunch, into a far-fetched hilarious comedy, though anyone who's experienced problems of unemployment might liken it to rubbing salt in a wound.

STILL, IT'S a madcap affair for which Segal is noted and Fonda can nicely accommodate. Some effort is taken to uncover potholes in the system and the ruthlessness of corporate dealings. Yet nothing is to be taken too seriously here, except the laughs.

Gerald Gaiser's book, "Dick and Jane," was not a comedy. But three screenwriters have made it into one, with Fonda even playing out one scene on a toilet — no doubt a first.

The first half of the movie is best, while the novelty of the idea is still fresh.

IN A VARIETY of outlandish skits, the movie shows Dick and Jane trying to make the best of what they believe can only be a temporary situation. But Dick defaults on his unemployment by appearing as an extra in an opera, and Jane is unable to hold down a job at all.

Food stamps are too late in coming. The couple are held up coming out of the loan office with borrowed cash.

So in order to make ends meet, they turn to robbing — even the telephone company. It's a low key, polite operation. Jane won't even allow Dick to load his gun.

THE PAYOFF is a $200,000 slush fund which Dick's old company keeps for payoffs. They take it right out from under the nose of Dick's former boss played by Ed McMahon, who should be highly commended for his performance. You even forget it's Ed McMahon.

"Fun with Dick and Jane" is rated (PG). Don't take it seriously, but do see it for lots of fun. It was directed by Ted Kotcheff who also gave us "The Apprenticeship of Duddy Kravitz."

WHY DOES DICK look like a Mouseketeer? Why does Jane look pensive? They're planning their first heist that's why. "Fun with Dick and Jane" opens today at area theaters.

Movie guide

Designed to help readers decide which movies they want to see, this guide includes a listing of movies currently playing in the Northwest suburban area plus capsule summaries and comments, based on reports of the Independent Film Journal, for selected films of interest to readers.

"Freaky Friday" — A teenage girl whose fondest wish is to change places with her mother, unexpectedly finds her wish granted in this latest Walt Disney release. Stars Jodie Foster, Barbara Harris, Patsy Kelly, Kaye Ballard and Ruth Buzzi. (G).

"Rocky" — Sylvester Stallone wrote the script and stars as the title character in this small, unpretentious and genuinely involving story of a local clubhouse prizefighter who gets a chance-of-a-lifetime shot at the world heavyweight title and finds love and self-respect along the way. (PG).

"Silver Streak" — A comedy adventure set principally on a luxury train en route from Los Angeles to Chicago. Hostages are held aboard the train by racketeers engaged in an international art hoax. Stars Gene Wilder, Jill Clayburgh, Richard Pryor, Patrick McGoohan and Scatman Crothers. (PG).

"King Kong" — Multi-dollar remake of the 1933 "King Kong" classic, in which the giant ape commutes downtown from the Empire State Building to the twin towers of the World Trade Center. Stars Jeff Bridges, Charles Grodin and Jessica Lange. (PG)

"Network" — The quartet of award-caliber performances by Peter Finch, Faye Dunaway, Robert Duvall and William Holden is a whopping show in itself in this biting look at a television network, the cut throat tactics rampant behind-the-scenes and the questionable message delivered by the medium to its viewers. (R).

"A Star Is Born" — The eternal show business classic, originally staring Janet Gaynor and Frederic March and later remade with Judy Garland and James Mason, surfaces for the third time, this time transposing Barbra Streisand and Kris Kristofferson into a Rock and Roll setting. (R).

Yet Cosmatos automatically defends his film against big-name padding.

"I did not invent any roles. I chose Sophia Loren for her strength and vitality. The chemistry was just right. Burt Lancaster is a real man, and then I went looking for another equally as strong who could stand up to Lancaster," he said. Harris was his choice.

AND UNLIKE THE well-publicized clashes occurring on many movie sets, Cosmatos said "there was never any friction. The cast was so diverse, they always had new things to share."

He describes Harris as a "good man, well cultured; Sophia Loren as mother earth; Ava Gardner as the "Auntie Mame" type.

"Martin Sheen is an incredibly good person and O. J. Simpson is great." He is "young, enthusiastic, a black Robert Mitchum — he moves with natural grace," he added.

"I didn't even know he was a football star when I chose him. He was very flattered by that," said Cosmatos, who requested pictures of good-looking black actors from Hollywood agents. O. J.'s was one of the pictures forwarded to him in Rome, where he resides.

"Now we're the best of friends. He calls me Yogro — that's my name (George) in Greek," continued Cosmatos.

Since he saw his first movie, "Captain Blood," at the age of six, Cosmatos has been enamored of movies and filmmaking. Yet there are parts of the business he detests. Arranging for financial backing is one.

"I wouldn't wish funding on my worst enemy," said Cosmatos, who smokes four packs a day because of it but maintains he never inhales.

"THE CASSANDRA Crossing" cost $6 million to make in Europe. It would have cost more than three times that much if filmed in the United States.

"I hate trying to get money. It makes me nervous. Directors have to work under so much pressure. Painters can say, 'I don't feel like painting today. I'll do it tomorrow.' A director has to be creative every minute because it's costing money."

Cosmatos may complain, but he's not about to quit the business. Soon he'll begin directing "The Sweetheart Deal" being produced by David Niven Jr. and after that, "Gemini Contender" based on the best seller.

"And I still want to do a movie about the first revolt of the blacks in Haiti and a swashbuckler film like the old Errol Flynn kind. Only trouble is I haven't found a new Errol Flynn."

Violinist performs Sunday with Northwest Symphony

Blair Milton, a member of the Chicago Symphony Orchestra since 1975, will be guest violinist at the second concert of the season for Northwest Symphony Orchestra.

Directed by Perry Crafton, Northwest Symphony will perform Sunday at 7:30 p.m. at Maine East High School Auditorium, Dempster and Potter, Park Ridge.

Blair Milton

Milton is a native of Willowdale, Canada, graduateing from McGill University, Montreal, and recently completed work on his doctor of music degree at Indiana University.

Season tickets for the remaining three concerts by Northwest Symphony are $5.50 for adults and $2.75 for students and senior citizens. Single concert tickets, $3 for adults and $1.50 for students and seniors, may be purchased at the door or ordered from Savena Gorsline, 824-1279, or Vicki Steinbach, 83-2611. Children under 12 are admitted free if accompanied by an adult.

League artists show their work

Three members of the Community Arts League of Wheeling and Buffalo Grove are exhibiting their work this month in area locations.

A new member, David Wu, has a display at the Buffalo Grove Medical Center, along with one by Judy Byrnes. Sue Robertson is exhibiting watercolors at the Bank of Buffalo Grove.

The League has announced its new officers. Nita Duncanson is president; Judy Byrnes, vice president; June Monahan, secretary; and Sue Robertson, treasurer.

Planning an elegant dinner out?

A staff anxious to please, a rather appealing menu and a pleasant atmosphere compensate for slight shortcomings in the food and service at The Atrium.

It's a posh, contemporary restaurant of continental and American cuisine where you can plan on spending a lot of money, wearing a suit coat and tie and dining only with reservations made in advance.

Featuring:
The Atrium

The Atrium, which attracts a lunch crowd to equal its evening patronage, seems slightly misplaced at 3223 W. Algonquin Rd., Rolling Meadows, at the end of a long line of fast-food and much less elegant restaurants.

The lunch menu is complete with appetizers and special sandwich concoctions and is especially attractive to executives who can spare more than an hour. The restaurant also offers a lavish Sunday buffet brunch for $5.95, featuring everything from eggs Benedict to fruit and cheese blintzes.

BUT THE ATRIUM is best known for its dinner menu which begins with a somewhat out-of-the-ordinary appetizer list that includes a generous and piping hot helping of oysters Rockefeller, $3.50, mushrooms stuffed with crab meat, $3, or tasty escargots in garlic butter, $3.25.

All dinner entrees are served with a plain and unimpressive tossed salad, for which patrons must pay an additional 50 cents if they want Roquefort dressing. Also, if one is willing to pay a little extra, there is a refreshing spinach salad with mushrooms, bacon and a vinaigrette dressing or a delicious Caesar salad fixed tableside for two or more.

Although there are extensive offerings from the broiler and the seafood platter, the real gourmet pleasures offered at The Atrium come under a list of house specialities.

AT THE TOP OF that list is Veal Oscar A La Waldorf, thick slices of veal sauteed in butter and covered with king crab meat, then glazed in Bearnaise sauce.

The dish, $9.25, which comes with a wild rice mix, was a delight except for gritty bits in the crab mixture which seemed to be tiny pieces of crab shell.

The Beef Wellington, $9.50, is an enjoyable filet mignon in shallots and a mushroom base, baked in a pastry shell. If you're unable to select an entree and don't mind sharing with the one you love, there is an aristocratic Chateaubriand (filet mignon and all the trimmings for two), $20.95, or a coronation rack of lamb bougetiere for two, $22.95.

THE AFTER-DINNER coffees are an especially nice touch and include a robust Vienna blend of cinnamon and chocolate coffee with brandy or a Brazilian blend of coconut and chocolate coffee with white rum, $2 each.

The fresh strawberries for dessert, $1.75, come piled high with rich whipped cream. Strawberries Romanoff, a $2 special of sour cream, brown sugar, vanilla ice cream and a touch of spirits, is worth lingering over.

However, the cherries jubilee, $2, is a disappointment: a goblet of cherries and vanilla ice cream in brandy that is flamed in the same glass and set in front of you to just peter out slowly. There is little show in the preparation of foods at your table.

Yet, The Atrium seems popular enough and well patronized. If you aren't hungry, there's always lively entertainment in the adjacent and very comfortable lounge.

With slightly more than two years experience tucked away, the brother and two sisters who own The Atrium seem to be striving for the excellence that marks some of Chicago's finest eating places. But they still have a ways to go.

"Customers were lining up

That's how Susan Jones of Bewickered, suppliers of wicker furniture and accessories at Mount Prospect Countryside Court, described consumer response to advertising in The Herald. Here, in part, is her letter:

We at Bewickered wanted to let you know how great our Wounded Wicker Sale was – with the help of The Herald! We ran one ad in The Herald the Thursday before our Saturday evening sale, and even though temperatures were well below zero, customers were lining up before the sale started! What's more, the four-hour Wounded Wicker Sale had a higher sales volume than any entire day's sales we've ever had!

The sale was a super success, and you can be sure we'll be running ads again and often in The Herald.

Yours truly,

"Customers were lining up before the sale started"
That's how Susan Jones of Bewickered, suppliers of wicker furniture and accessories at Mount Prospect Countryside Court, described consumer response to advertising in The Herald. Here, in part, is her letter:
We at Bewickered wanted to let you know how great our Wounded Wicker Sale was – with the help of The Herald! We ran one ad in The Herald the Thursday before our Saturday evening sale, and even though temperatures were well below zero, customers were lining up before the sale started! What's more, the four-hour Wounded Wicker Sale had a higher sales volume than any entire day's sales we've ever had!
The sale was a super success, and you can be sure we'll be running ads again and often in The Herald.
Yours truly,
Susan K. Jones

Bo-Dino to solo on stage

Dean Weiss was a successful Des Plaines banker who deep down in his heart always wanted to be a clown. Last April he left the office for "clown pan alley" and changed his gray flannel suit for baggy pants and suspenders.

Billing himself as Bo-Dino the Clown, Weiss has been performing for schools, organizations and special programs. He presents pantomimes, song and dance routines, and other old vaudeville skits.

"The clown has been relegated to circuses, and I 'm trying to put him back on stage where he belongs," said Weiss, who is presenting a two-hour all-family show Feb. 24, 8 p.m., at Guild Playhouse, 620 Lee St., Des Plaines. The show is being written and directed by Betty Bryant.

Tickets are $3 for adults; $1.50 for children aged 14 and under. Information: 299-1487 or 692-6159.

And how does the banker-turned-clown feel about his new identity?

"I'm having a ball," said Weiss.

'Accent on Youth'

Montalban steals show

by GENIE CAMPBELL

(A review)

Reviving old comedies is risky business.

That's why it is a bit unusual for Drury Lane North in Marriott's Lincolnshire Resort to produce an oldie, "Accent on Youth," first staged in 1934, without a single sigh from the audience.

But then it's not the play itself that's weathered the years or become a viable period piece. The sophisticated comedy is filled with cliches and sexual overtones that over the years have become not only outmoded, but slightly ridiculous.

The saving factor is Ricardo Montalban, who manages not only to steal the show, but carry it as well. Or to put it another way, anyone who loves to see his Cordoba car commercials on television will be absolutely starstruck watching Montalban in person.

HE PROJECTS that favorite image that everyone has come to expect, a suave, unpredictable but very endearing sort of fellow. It's the kind that makes the most of Montalban's affinity for such a role. It might look easy. Buh the handsome Latin American has his work cut out for him, you can be sure.

"Accent on Youth" is about a debonair but somewhat eccentric playwright, Steven Gaye (Ricardo Montalban), who has followed his numerous successful comedies with a tragedy of sorts, titled "Old Love."

Ricardo Montalban

It's the May-December syndrome again where a young woman falls helplessly in love with a man old enough to be her father, a theme that isn't as tragic or funny as it is extremely common.

GAYE HIMSELF is recently disengaged from a flamboyant young woman who we assume was the impetus behind his new work. When she suddenly reappears on the scene, Gaye decides to give up playwriting altogether to accompany her on a never-ending holiday.

But first he has to terminate the employment of his faithful, young secretary who, before she walks out the door for the last time, confesses her unrequitted love for him. At the same time she is telling him off. The scene is the best in the play.

Few actors in this role could convince the women of all ages in the audience that he is so charming, so utterly irresistible. Montalban is one. And there are just enough warmth and spunk in his leading lady, Kim Zimmer, as the secretary, to make the exchange between the two very entertaining.

YET, THOUGH there is a feeble attempt to undermine our preoccupation with youth and to distinguish between sexuality and age, the plot has little to sustain itself — at least not for three acts. Neither the dialog nor many of the supporting cast are very exciting.

Art Kassul as the very proper manservant, Flogdell, holds his own quite well, though Mary Seibel is miscast as the femme fatale she's meant to portray. Tim Halligan, Gaye's competition, is so blah, it's nard to believe he's even in the race.

Of course, Montalban is on stage practically the whole time. And that's what the people have paid for. Even so, it would have been far more effective to bring the final curtain down on "Accent on Youth" an act early when the only heart-rendering scene of the play takes place. It appears Samson Raphaelson didn't quite know how he wanted his comedy to end, which is more than evident by the third act.

'Barefoot' keeps kicking

by LAURA SCHMALBACH

Night out

Chances are the heroine would be working instead of kibitzing with a telephone repairman, and with today's emphasis on premarital togetherness her new husband's preference for bathtubs, not showers, would be worked out in advance.

But despite the anachronisms in Neil Simon's "Barefoot in the Park," the story of two starry-eyed newlyweds setting up house in New York City is still a funny play 14 years after it was written. And the current production at Arlington Park Theater does it justice.

"Barefoot in the Park," like so many other Simon plays, bases its success on a well-written script. The saga of Paul and Corrie Bratter is full of bright one-liners, and the setting itself — a top-floor apartment in a brownstone — is the focus of a running gag throughout the play as one character after another arrives huffing and puffing at the Bratters' door.

THE COMEDY centers around Paul (James MacArthur) and Corrie (Lucy Saroyan) and their atttmpts to transform a glorious six-day honeymoon into a happy marriage, despite a leaking roof in February, an eccentric upstairs neighbor (Hans Conried) and a charming but lonely mother-in-law (Barbara Britton).

MacArthur as the well-meaning, stuffy young lawyer appears a little too deadpan the first two acts, but his stilted delivery eases by the end of the play. And his understated portrayal is an effective foil to former Northwestern University student Lucy Saroyan, the daughter of playwright William Saroyan.

She presents a bright, bubbly performance as the inexperienced, little rich girl trying to loosen her mother's apron strings and start a marriage at the same time. She's delightful whether she's blithely ordering Paul to run out for Scotch or tearfully demanding a divorce less than two weeks after the wedding.

HANS CONRIED and Barbara Britton as the adventuresome Victor Velasco and the proper Mrs. Bratter are just as effective, and the aftermath of their wild dinner date on Staten Island gets some of the biggest laughs in the play.

A special nod goes to set director William B. Fosser, whose realistic skylight added to the over-all feeling of a top-floor apartment.

"Barefoot in the Park," under the direction of Harvey Medlinsky, runs through Feb. 27.

The On Stage Majority has generated plenty of popularity in the Chicago area, and it's easy to see why.

The four-member group boasts versatility and good voices, and with that combination it's hard to go wrong. But silly jokes and a loud delivery took the edge off opening night at Allgauer's Fireside in Northbrook and left me wishing the group would steer away from "Disco Duck" and concentrate on songs which showcase its talent.

The On Stage Majority was strongest in numbers featuring four-part harmonies, including a barbershop quartet routine that skillfully blended good music and comedy. They also created several effective parodies of '60s rock groups like the Four Seasons and Jay and the Americans, and all four members play more than one instrument throughout the show — often at the same time.

Even if some of the kid-stuff material didn't work out, that's the appeal of the On Stage Majority — there's sure to be another routine coming up that will.

The group includes Jim and Fred Sanford, Dick Jess and Jim Beverly. On Stage will be appearing at Allgauer's through this month.

100 orchid paintings on exhibit

A display of 100 orchid paintings, all masterpieces of Andrey Avinoff, is open in the Nature House at Countryside Mall, Palatine, through Feb. 19.

It marks America's largest exhibit on an orchid theme and features the last great work of this giant of science and the arts.

Avinoff was a naturalist who is most often identified by his portraits of butterflies and flowers. His 100 watercolors of orchids were the culmination of that lifelong interest.

The art exhibit accompanies a plant show and sale at the Mall, which concludes Monday. Tropical plants, fresh flowers, pottery, plant hangers and baskets are on sale during Mall hours. A free lecture on orchid growing is Sunday at 2 p.m.

Library shows wood sculpture

"The Bearded Ones," six wooden figures sculpted by Ed Jirasek of Arlington Heights, are currently on exhibit during February at the Arlington Heights Memorial Library.

Jirasek, who is participating this weekend in Randhurst's winter art fair, is teaching a course in wood sculpture at Hersey High School on Monday nights. Applicants are still being accepted.

The doctor says

Medicine may cause man's breast pain

My grandfather is 69 and has been badly crippled from rheumatoid arthritis. He also has high blood pressure and gout. He takes Aldactone for his blood pressure and other medicines for his gout and arthritis.

He confided to me about a problem he has been having with his breasts and wondered if it affected other older men or if there was any danger of cancer. His nipples feel painful and tender to touch and so does the area around them.

Is this because of his diseases or medicines and is there any reason for him to worry about cancer of the breast?

Rarely men do have cancer of the breast and any man who develops a lump of the breast area should have an examination. Young boys sometimes have a small lump for a year or two that is not clinically important even though it may be disturbing.

The sensations your grandfather compalins about, without a lump, are not an indication of cancer. The most likely cause is the Aldactone. It does stimulate the breasts in some instances. The enlarging breasts may be tender. He should discuss it with his doctor and if it bothers him too much, perhaps he can be switched to another medicine.

Since your grandfather has several illnesses, his doctor may be reluctant to make changes if his present program is working well. Your grandfather should stay on his medicines and not make any changes on his own. Despite the concern he has, living with the complication of Aldactone is better than the consequences of high blood pressure.

If your grandfather has any extra body fat he should lose it. I am sending you The Health Letter number 1-8, Blood Pressure, to give you more information. Others who want this information can send 50 cents for it with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for mailing. Write to me in care of Paddock Publications, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, N.Y. 10019.

Can you tell me why a 16-year-old boy would steal? He takes things from stores or his friends' homes. He is not denied most things we can afford, but he comes home with radios, tools, clothes, watches. I don't know how he can do it and not get caught. What can we do to help?

When a teenager steals, it has to be evaluated in terms of the reason. If he steals once, because his buddies dared him to take something, that may not be so important even though it is wrong. But, if it is repeated, and particularly if there is little or no need to do so, it is an important symptom.

Your boy should have an evaluation by a professional to see if he has any important psychiatric problems. Sometimes such behavior is an outgrowth of a hyperactive child or it can represent a conflict in psychosocial sexual development. The only sensible thing to do is have an evaluation by a child psychiatrist to find out what the symptom of stealing really represents. With attention to the real problem rather than concentrating on the act of stealing such a professional could help him a good deal. And, I do think it is important to do something about it now while he is at an age where he can best benefit from professional counseling.

Bananas will ripen in brown paper bag

Dear Dorothy: If there is anything I'm a constant loser on, it's bananas. And from what I can gather, none of my neighbors or friends fares any better. I'd give up, except that we all love them. Is there any guide one can follow?—Joanne Glazer

Let's assume you buy half a dozen at a time and that they're in a plastic bag. Get them out of the pastic. Leave three on the counter, put the other three in a brown paper bag along with one or two pieces of other fruit — apples, pears, oranges. You'll find that the bananas will ripen fairly rapidly. Should some ripen too fast, put them in the refrigerator. The outer skin may darken but the flesh will stay good for a couple of days.

Dear Dorothy: The trouble with aluminum screens is that they leave a film on the windows terribly difficult to remove. There must be a way to clean windows like this. What is it?—Henry C. Morgan

Some have reported luck using a powdered aluminum cleaner, but the one best way is to use the cleanser that contains a bit of oxalic acid. Simply follow the instructions on the cleanser.

Dear Dorothy: You'd never dream that the sweater I have was brand-new two weeks ago. It looks as if it's a year old — covered with fuzz and fuzzy balls. How do you get this stuff off?—Patricia Quail

This happens with certain sweaters, and the simple thing to use is one of the de-fuzzing gadgets. They do a good job.

Dear Dorothy: This is intended to help all those who wonder what to do with the rest of tomato sauce or puree when only a small amount is needed. Just pour it into an ice cube tray and let it freeze into blocks. Then put the blocks in plastic bags or containers in the freezer.—Katherine Rehusch

The doctor says

Medicine may cause man's breast pain

My grandfather is 69 and has been badly crippled from rheumatoid arthritis. He also has high blood pressure and gout. He takes Aldactone for his blood pressure and other medicines for his gout and arthritis.

He confided to me about a problem he has been having with his breasts and wondered if it affected other older men or if there was any danger of cancer. His nipples feel painful and tender to touch and so does the area around them.

Is this because of his diseases or medicines and is there any reason for him to worry about cancer of the breast?

Rarely men do have cancer of the breast and any man who develops a lump of the breast area should have an examination. Young boys sometimes have a small lump for a year or two that is not clinically important even though it may be disturbing.

The sensations your grandfather compalins about, without a lump, are not an indication of cancer. The most likely cause is the Aldactone. It does stimulate the breasts in some instances. The enlarging breasts may be tender. He should discuss it with his doctor and if it bothers him too much, perhaps he can be switched to another medicine.

Since your grandfather has several illnesses, his doctor may be reluctant to make changes if his present program is working well. Your grandfather should stay on his medicines and not make any changes on his own. Despite the concern he has, living with the complication of Aldactone is better than the consequences of high blood pressure.

If your grandfather has any extra body fat he should lose it. I am sending you The Health Letter number 1-8, Blood Pressure, to give you more information. Others who want this information can send 50 cents for it with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for mailing. Write to me in care of Paddock Publications, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, N.Y. 10019.

Can you tell me why a 16-year-old boy would steal? He takes things from stores or his friends' homes. He is not denied most things we can afford, but he comes home with radios, tools, clothes, watches. I don't know how he can do it and not get caught. What can we do to help?

When a teenager steals, it has to be evaluated in terms of the reason. If he steals once, because his buddies dared him to take something, that may not be so important even though it is wrong. But, if it is repeated, and particularly if there is little or no need to do so, it is an important symptom.

Your boy should have an evaluation by a professional to see if he has any important psychiatric problems. Sometimes such behavior is an outgrowth of a hyperactive child or it can represent a conflict in psychosocial sexual development. The only sensible thing to do is have an evaluation by a child psychiatrist to find out what the symptom of stealing really represents. With attention to the real problem rather than concentrating on the act of stealing such a professional could help him a good deal. And, I do think it is important to do something about it now while he is at an age where he can best benefit from professional counseling.

Bananas will ripen in brown paper bag

Dear Dorothy: If there is anything I'm a constant loser on, it's bananas. And from what I can gather, none of my neighbors or friends fares any better. I'd give up, except that we all love them. Is there any guide one can follow?—Joanne Glazer

Let's assume you buy half a dozen at a time and that they're in a plastic bag. Get them out of the pastic. Leave three on the counter, put the other three in a brown paper bag along with one or two pieces of other fruit — apples, pears, oranges. You'll find that the bananas will ripen fairly rapidly. Should some ripen too fast, put them in the refrigerator. The outer skin may darken but the flesh will stay good for a couple of days.

Dear Dorothy: The trouble with aluminum screens is that they leave a film on the windows terribly difficult to remove. There must be a way to clean windows like this. What is it?—Henry C. Morgan

Some have reported luck using a powdered aluminum cleaner, but the one best way is to use the cleanser that contains a bit of oxalic acid. Simply follow the instructions on the cleanser.

Dear Dorothy: You'd never dream that the sweater I have was brand-new two weeks ago. It looks as if it's a year old — covered with fuzz and fuzzy balls. How do you get this stuff off?—Patricia Quail

This happens with certain sweaters, and the simple thing to use is one of the de-fuzzing gadgets. They do a good job.

Eight named for DAR citizen award

Barbara W. Heller

Liz La Plante

Robbe Giesel

David K. Rehr

Lori Zimmanck

Linda Platt

Kathryn M. Vastine

Kari Sena

Eli Skinner Chapter Daughters of the American Revolution has named seniors from eight area high schools as recipients of the chapter's Good Cttizen awards.

The awards were made for dependability, service, leadership and patriotism. Winners were chosen by their classmates and instructors.

From Arlington High School the award went to Barbara W. Heller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David J. Heller of Arlington Heights. Active in church work, Barbara is also a nurse's aide at Lutheran Home and Service for the Aged, Arlington Heights.

Liz La Plante, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William La Plante, Arlington Heights, was chosen from Buffalo Grove High. Liz is also active in her church. A member of a nationally ranked private gymnastics team in Schaumburg, she has taught tumbling for the park district. Liz was also a campaign worker for Jim Thompson.

ROBBE GIESEL, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Giesel of Mount Prospect, was chosen from Forest View High. Active in church work, Robbe has taught vacation Bible school and served as a counselor at church summer camp for two summers.

Chosen from John Hersey High was David K. Rehr, son of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Rehr, Arlington Heights. David was active in political campaigns during the primaries and in November for state representative, state's attorney, governor, U.S. Congressman and president. He is also active in church.

Prospect High's Good Citizen is Lori Zimmanck, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Zimmanck, Arlington Heights. Cerebral Palsy, Teen Aides for Special Kids and church work are among her interests. She has also served as a candy striper at Northwest Community Hospital.

Linda Diane Platt, niece of Mr. and Mrs. W.J. Caverley Jr., Prospect Heights, is the Good Citizen from Wheeling High. Linda holds a state office, convention secretary, in the Illinois Association of Student Councils. She has also been a volunteer nurses aide.

GOOD CITIZEN from Palatine High is Kathryn M. Vastine, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Vastine, Palatine. Kathryn is active in scouting and has done volunteer work for the Village Hall. She has earned the American Red Cross First Aid and Lifesaving cards and teaches the handicapped to swim at the YMCA where she is also diving instructor.

Kari Sena, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Sena, Rolling Meadows, has been chosen from William Fremd High. Active in church work, Kari is also a member of the Illinois Music Educators Association and is assistant choir director and pianist for the primary choir at Bethel Lutheran Church. She has directed and taught folk dancing for the Scandinavian Festival on Washington Island, Wis., for the past four years.

North West Federal Savings presents plant specialist Ginny Beatty's "Fun With Plants" program. It's a fun new way to get a complete book of creative and helpful plant ideas, and to enjoy them one at a time.

From January 31st through March 12th, North West Federal is offering a different collection of fun plant ideas every two weeks. Stop by any North West Federal Savings Center and pick up the idea pages that interest you.

Collect all the idea pages and you'll have a nifty book of fifty plant ideas to keep you growing for years to come. And they're all free.

Collect your idea pages in this beautiful, handy binder for permanent reference.

We think you'll enjoy your plant ideas so much that you'll want to refer to them often. To make it easy for you, North West Federal is also offering a handsome "Fun With Plants" binder for only $1.00 with a $50 deposit. Each binder contains a simple-to-use index so you can easily find the idea you're looking for. It's also a handy way to identify your plant book when it goes on your bookshelf.

Below are a few of the subjects we'll be growing into during the "Fun With Plants" program. A free brochure at your neighborhood North West Federal will tell you more.

Meet plant specialist Ginny Beatty in person.

To make the ideas more fun, Ginny Beatty will personally appear at all 5 North West Federal Savings Centers to help you with her suggestions, and your questions. You'll like Ginny. She's lived with plants all her life, with many years of practical experience in growing plants in commercial greenhouses and in the home environment. She's a licensed tree expert and a consultant in environmental education and urban horticulture. Ginny appears on many TV and Radio shows, hosts a daily radio program called Plant Talk, and is author of several books. Meet Ginny between 10 A.M. and 1 P.M. at North West Federal on these Saturdays:

Where there's fire, there's smoke

Andy sends the Encyclopaedia Britannica's 1977 Yearbook of Science and the Future to Michael Fox, 8, of Ottawa, Ont., Canada, for his question

WHY DOES A FIRE SMOKE?

To make a fire burn, you must have a combination of three things fuel, heat to ignite the fuel, and air to make the fuel burn. Once the flame is leaping, you must use great care. Under control, fire is a wonderful thing. But it can be most destructive if not kept under tight control.

When you strike a match and produce fire, you are first of all providing enough heat by friction to ignite the chemical tip of the match. Air then causes the flame to flare and the fire burns the matchstick.

Smoke is seen rising from a fire if there isn't the right amount of oxygen to burn all of the carbon in the fuel. If burning were complete, we could not see smoke or even hot gases rising from the fire.

Smoke is actually small, solid specks of unburned carbon (which we call soot) being carried away by the gases. If the fire were in your fireplace, some of the specks of carbon would cling to the chimney and make it black. The rest would rise, making specks of carbon visible and forming smoke.

IN MANY LARGE cities, and in some small industrial ones for that matter, smoke causes a serious problem. If fuel is not properly burned in the factories, the fire used for production of manufactured items can also produce smoke. In the air, it can pollute and cause many problems to the health and welfare of people.

Smoke mixed with fog is called smog. It's not a very nice thing. Smog can make things dirty, choke our plants and trees and get into our lungs.

Imperfect burning causes smoke. A proper balance of the three things necessary to make a fire — namely fuel, heat to ignite the fuel and air to make the fuel burn — can solve many smoke problems.

Have you ever left a smoking log in your fireplace at night, only to discover in the morning that just a few ashes remain? Well, the log is made up of carbon and other elements. In the burning process, carbon combines with oxygen to form carbon dioxide. Hydrogen combines with oxygen to form water vapor. These gases become part of the air. The log contains minerals that do not burn, and these remain as ashes.

Andy sends a Student Globe to Laurie Bugg, 14, of Hinton, W. Va., for her question

CAN IT HAIL WHEN THE TEMPERATURE IS WARM?

A hailstone is a small ball of ice. It has frozen moisture as a nucleus and generally falls during violent thunderstorms when the temperature of the surface is quite warm and often well above freezing.

Hail forms when the temperature of the upper atmosphere is below freezing. Drops of moisture in the clouds are frozen but do not fall immediately because the force exerted on them by the wind is greater than the force from gravity. The delay gives more ice a chance to build up, adding weight which eventually brings the hail to the earth.

There is a convention known as "Aces over two bids" that rears its ugly head from time to time. When you play this convention you respond two notrump to deny holding an ace; with one ace you bid that suit; with two aces you jump to three notrump, and so on.

The convention would work beautifully with today's hand where South could bid two spades and jump to seven hearts after partner responded with three diamonds to show that ace. However, with most hands the normal responding system works out much better. But even with this hand the grand slam can be reached after North responds with a negative two notrump.

North's two-notrump response followed by the raise from three hearts to four hearts are normal. South might well follow up by merely bidding six hearts, but there is some chance for North to hold the ace of diamonds. In any event, assuming North is a good player, South can afford to bid five clubs.

North knows that this is an effort to reach six or seven. He has shown nothing at all up to this point so he bids five diamonds. This can only be interpreted as showing the ace and South bids seven hearts.

Where there's fire, there's smoke

Andy sends the Encyclopaedia Britannica's 1977 Yearbook of Science and the Future to Michael Fox, 8, of Ottawa, Ont., Canada, for his question

WHY DOES A FIRE SMOKE?

To make a fire burn, you must have a combination of three things fuel, heat to ignite the fuel, and air to make the fuel burn. Once the flame is leaping, you must use great care. Under control, fire is a wonderful thing. But it can be most destructive if not kept under tight control.

When you strike a match and produce fire, you are first of all providing enough heat by friction to ignite the chemical tip of the match. Air then causes the flame to flare and the fire burns the matchstick.

Smoke is seen rising from a fire if there isn't the right amount of oxygen to burn all of the carbon in the fuel. If burning were complete, we could not see smoke or even hot gases rising from the fire.

Smoke is actually small, solid specks of unburned carbon (which we call soot) being carried away by the gases. If the fire were in your fireplace, some of the specks of carbon would cling to the chimney and make it black. The rest would rise, making specks of carbon visible and forming smoke.

New show drags down Ms. Walker

by JOAN HANAUER

NEW YORK (UPI) — Nancy Walker has turned up a winner in Las Vegas in what otherwise looks like a loser of a show.

But with ABC's recent track record, maybe it will turn out to be a natural.

The title is "Blansky's Beauties," and it debuts Saturday from 7-7:30 p.m. the night that traditionally has been the network's jinx.

MISS WALKER plays Nancy Blansky, who does everything but sweep the stage as she puts on the shows at a Vegas hot spot called The Oasis.

With Miss Walker are Caren Kaye and 19 other showgirls, none of whom ever wears very much. If "Charlie's Angels" are near the top of the Nielsen ratings each week — and there are only three of them — think what 20 long-legged, empty-headed beauties could do.

The girls' IQ is displayed when Nancy is trying to get her Great Dane, Blackjack, to do tricks. "Sit!" she commands. The dog doesn't, but all the girls sit with a thud.

In another segment one of the girls who lives with Nancy glides into her living room partly wrapped in a big black towel and announces that is what she will wear to a party.

"OH, A BLACK towel," Nancy says. "Did somebody die in our bathtub?" Believe it or not, when Nancy Walker says it, it sounds funny.

As an added attraction in the opening episode, Roz Kelly as Pinky Tuscadero, Fonzie's former girlfriend on "Happy Days," roars briefly on stage aboard her motorcycle.

Regulars on the show also include Nancy's two nephews, one of whom is a precocious kid and the other her stage manager.

The show also squeezes some chorus line dancing into its half-hour, as Blansky's beauties kick up their stiletto heels and prove they will never make the Marine Corps Precision Drill Team.

New show drags down Ms. Walker

by JOAN HANAUER

NEW YORK (UPI) — Nancy Walker has turned up a winner in Las Vegas in what otherwise looks like a loser of a show.

But with ABC's recent track record, maybe it will turn out to be a natural.

The title is "Blansky's Beauties," and it debuts Saturday from 7-7:30 p.m. the night that traditionally has been the network's jinx.

MISS WALKER plays Nancy Blansky, who does everything but sweep the stage as she puts on the shows at a Vegas hot spot called The Oasis.

With Miss Walker are Caren Kaye and 19 other showgirls, none of whom ever wears very much. If "Charlie's Angels" are near the top of the Nielsen ratings each week — and there are only three of them — think what 20 long-legged, empty-headed beauties could do.

The girls' IQ is displayed when Nancy is trying to get her Great Dane, Blackjack, to do tricks. "Sit!" she commands. The dog doesn't, but all the girls sit with a thud.

In another segment one of the girls who lives with Nancy glides into her living room partly wrapped in a big black towel and announces that is what she will wear to a party.

"OH, A BLACK towel," Nancy says. "Did somebody die in our bathtub?" Believe it or not, when Nancy Walker says it, it sounds funny.

As an added attraction in the opening episode, Roz Kelly as Pinky Tuscadero, Fonzie's former girlfriend on "Happy Days," roars briefly on stage aboard her motorcycle.

Regulars on the show also include Nancy's two nephews, one of whom is a precocious kid and the other her stage manager.

The show also squeezes some chorus line dancing into its half-hour, as Blansky's beauties kick up their stiletto heels and prove they will never make the Marine Corps Precision Drill Team.

...we're all you need

Last year, Janet Walsh expected easy money every month from her two-flat in Peoria.

Now every month she does much better at Home.

Some people think they can sink their savings into any, old investment, then just sit back and wait for the money to roll in. But sometimes it's not quite that easy.

With a monthly income account at Home Federal Savings, you can relax and let your money do all the work.

The savings you've worked so hard to build up stay intact, and we mail you a check for the interest every month. Right to your home or anywhere in the world.

You'll have a nice feeling when you open the envelope, because your savings will be earning the highest interest allowed by federal regulation—up to 7¾% a year.

For instance, here's how much your monthly check can be:

Area girls seek two Illinois crowns

by JEFF NORDLUND

If the performers at the state girls gymnastics tournament today and Saturday at Maine East High School turn in the same scores they did at the district-level meets, this is going to be an important weekend for some Mid-Suburban League teams and individuals.

That goes most for Palatine's Lori Erickson who heads the list of district scorers in the all-around competition, as well as vaulting and floor exercise. She may do in this first-ever girls' state meet what Bart Conner did several years back to the boys' meet — dominate it.

The figures are there to prove it. Erickson, in addition to her first position in three events, is fourth on the uneven parallel bars and second on the balance beam. Right behind her in the number of appearances in the "top 10" list is Hersey's Mary Charpentier.

CHARPENTIER SCORED the second best all-around total, while bowing to Erickson for the Hersey District title last week, and she is among the leaders in the balance beam where she is first, vaulting (ninth), uneven bars (seventh) and floor exercise (fourth).

It may be Charpentier and her teammates who land the team title, though Maine East and Palatine, whose only competitor is Erickson, also rate strong consideration.

Host Maine East looks especially tough, placing 10 scorers in the top 10 list of the events. East is led by all-around girl Donna Maincini and Ellen Barrett, who scored the highest district mark on the uneven bars.

How much Erickson can single-handedly affect the team standings is hard to determine, but she has been a consistently high scorer all season. Two weeks ago she won the Mid-Suburban League all-around championship. A transfer student from Minnesota this year, she has been a real bonus to Palatine's program.

"SHE'S VERY poised out there," Palatine coach Alita Cyrlin said of Erickson earlier this week. "She doesn't get hyper. She's very modest, sharp and precise.

"She's improved this season, perfecting each move," the coach added. "She's always been a strong competitor. I hope she has a good meet, but it means so much to everyone, you can never tell what is going to happen."

"We're not going into the meet overly confident," Cyrlin said. "We're just hoping for the best."

CHARPENTIER has finished second to Erickson in the all-around at both her conference and district meets the last two weeks. Her coach, Mariann Naparstek, is confident Charpentier can beat Erickson on a given night, though.

"Mary only lost to Lori by two-tenths of a point in the all-around earlier this season," Naparstek said. "This state meet is the big thing for Mary. She was conference champion last year. This year she is aiming for the state meet."

In addition to Charpentier, Hersey qualified Carol Wagner in floor exercise and vaulting, as well as Cheryl Coniglio and Laurie Haberer in floor exercise and Nanette Freiberg on the uneven bars.

Other all-around qualifiers from the MSL are Fremd's Tracy Moore, who placed third in the district scoring, Arlington's Donna Wasielewski, Prospect's Mary Beth Martensen and Hoffman Estates' Jackie Heuer.

THERE WILL BE more than 300 gymnasts from 61 schools competing in today's preliminary events.

The preliminaries begin at 1 p.m., followed by a 7 p.m. session where district qualifiers from Elgin, Hersey, Hoffman Estates, Evanston and Maine North will compete.

The top 12 scorers in each of the events based on today's scores will compete in the finals, beginning at 7 p.m. Saturday. The finals will be televised live on WGN-TV (channel 9).

The all-around title will be decided Friday based on the preliminary event scores.

HIGH HOPES. Lori Erickson of Palatine was the highest scorer from all the district tourneys last week in the all-around competition and in vaulting and floor exercise too. Saturday, when the state meet at Maine East High School, wraps up, could be a big day for the gymnast.

Leighty delivers

Illini nip NU; Purdue stunned

Rick Leighty sank a 25-foot shot at the buzzer Thursday night to give Illinois a 65-63 Big Ten victory over Northwestern in Evanston.

After Billy McKinney tied the score at 63-63 on a jump shot with 39 seconds left, Illinois ran the clock down and called a time out.

Leighty then took the inbounds pass from Steve Lanter in the key and sank the shot.

McKinney was the game high scorer with 23, while Audie Matthews had 19 to lead Illinois.

WISCONSIN exploded for eight straight points early in the second half and the Badgers went on to shock second place Purdue 76-74 in Madison.

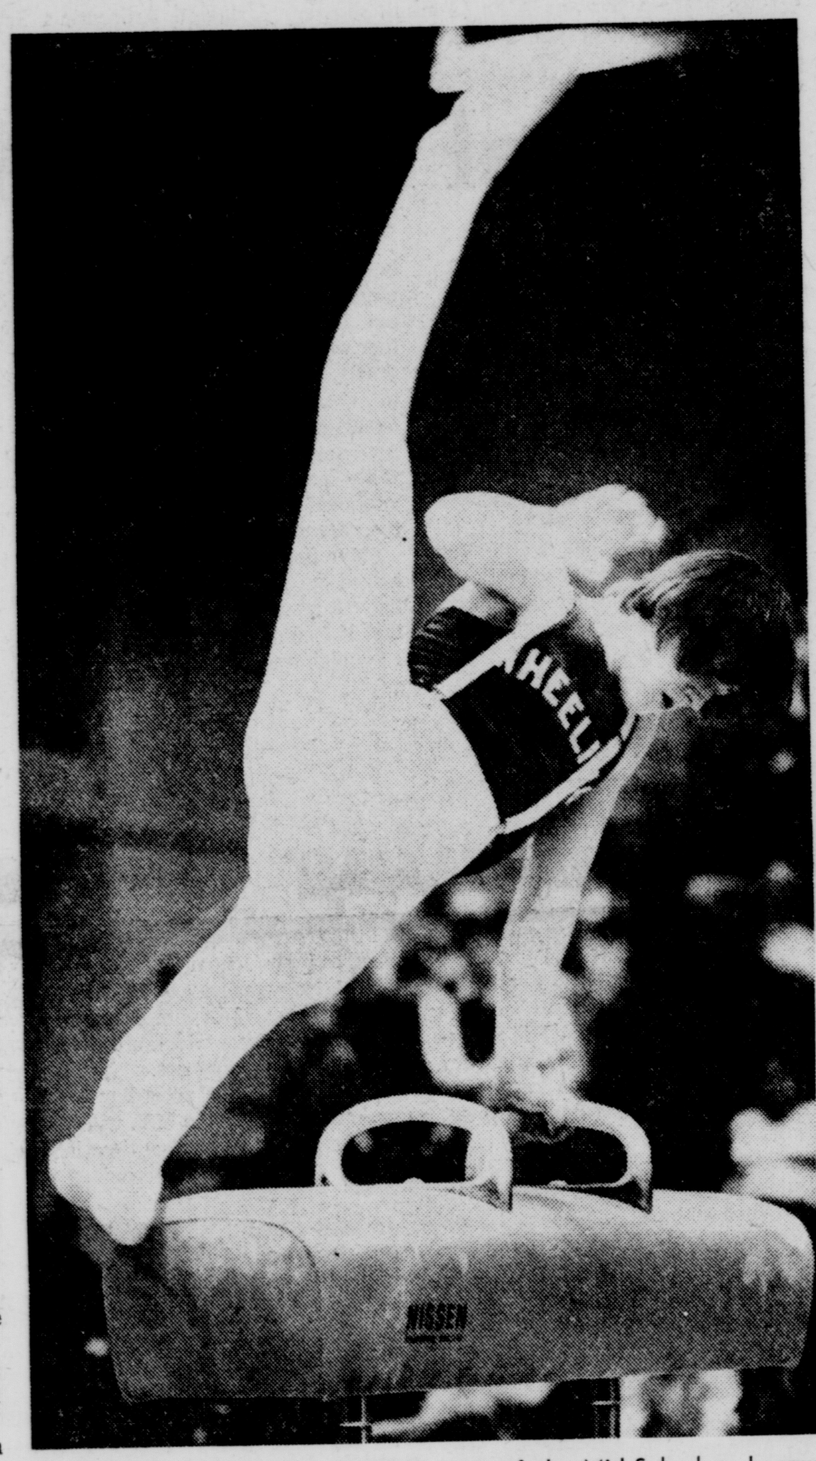
Freshman forward James "Stretch" Gregory, who scored 17 points, led the Badger rally. He hit a jump shot and a layup, and guard Arnold Gaines and center Mark Newburg added jump shots, as the Badgers spurted to a 46-38 lead.

Forward Walter Jordan scored 22 points and guard Eugene Parker added 18 for the Boilermakers, which fell to 8-3 in the Big Ten and 14-6 overall. The victory gave Wisconsin a 3-9 conference record and 7-13 overall.

Mike Thompson, Kevin McHale and Ray Williams all topped the 20-point mark to lead 8-2 Minnesota to a 91-65 victory over Ohio State in Columbus.

Thompson scored 24 points, McHale 23 and Williams 21 to personally outscore the entire Buckeye team as Minnesota raised its Big Ten record to 8-2 and its overall mark to 17-2.

The Buckeyes dropped their sixth straight game in falling to 2-8 in the league and 7-12 overall. Freshman Jim Ellinghausen led Ohio State with 14.



WHEELING captured the North Division of the Mid-Suburban League with the help of side horse specialist Jim Geske. Geske aided the Wildcats in their win over Buffalo Grove with a score of 8.25.

Bowling tourney opens in Peoria

by ART MUGALIAN

It's time for Forest View's bowlers to make amends, according to first-year coach Warren Myers.

The Falcon girls will head into today's 8 a.m. first round of the IHSA state bowling tourney at Peoria's Town and Country Lanes with the best district score in the state. But that's in the past.

The Falcons were also the favorites last year and had actually taken a 54-pin lead into the final round before dropping down to second as Abingdon won the title.

THIS YEAR the Falcons failed to win the Mid-Suburban championship for the first time in four years and Myers took the blame on himself.

"I was getting plenty of static around the school," said Myers, whose team finished second behind Arlington in the league standings. "They kidded me a lot about taking a championship team and running it into the ground."

But Myers' crew of bowlers shrugged off the conference setback and bowled a splendid 5170 series to win their own district meet last Saturday. The Falcons will join Arlington, which won the Hersey District with 4388 pins, in the state meet today.

"It could be a real barnburner in this meet," said Myers. "Arlington is a team that can roll up the big scores and so are we. But it all comes down to one day."

MYERS WILL take seven bowlers to Peoria, including MSL champion Nancy Lachus, a three-year veteran of the state meet who led the 1974 Falcon team to the state title. Lachus rolled a sizzling 601 in the Forest View district meet Saturday.

Joining Lachus will be starters Judy Pleickhardt, Karen Toppel and Karen Ellingsworth, plus subs Debbie Compton, Julie Mathews, and Cheryl Hanson. The only Falcons who weren't on last year's state runnerup team are Toppel, a transfer, and Ellingsworth, a freshman.

Pleickhardt set a state-meet record last year with an impressive 581 series. Pleickhardt was also the MSL champ a year ago with a 163 average. Lachus' leading average this season was just a shade under 164.

Arlington's road to the state meet was tougher than Forest View's. While the Falcons blasted their nearest district competition by more than 650 pins, the Cardinals finished only 99 pins ahead of second-place Hersey.

COACH LINDA Thompson hopes her Cardinal bowlers can recover from their sub-par performance in time for today's first round. Arlington had been by far the most consistent team in the MSL. The Cards whitewashed 11 of their 12 league opponents, losing only to Forest View, 3-1.

Thompson's seven state-meet bowlers are Barb Dougherty, Carol Howland, Caroline Schaefer, Dana Wallner, Nancy Weber, Denise Randolph and Kathy Golden. Only Weber managed to break 500 (501) in the district meet.

Forest View's 5170 was the highest district score ever rolled. Defending champ Abingdon rolled a 4934 Saturday and Evergreen Park had the third-highest score, a 4930.

Thirty-two teams will vie for the state title, which has been won twice by Abingdon and once each by Forest View and Dixon.

TODAY'S SECOND session will begin at 2 p.m. and Saturday's semis and finals are scheduled for 9 a.m. and 1 p.m.

Return to those days of 'Eddlemania'

It takes perfect conditions for a high school athlete to become an enduring legend beyond his home town.

Those conditions rarely exist in the sophisticated, anti-hero 1970s.

They did exist in the early 1940s when people, caught in a tunnel with a depression at one end and war at the other, were looking for heroes.

Americans are losing the awe they once had for their sports figures and are becoming more cynical about fun and games at all levels.

IT IS REFRESHING to look back on a time when a young athlete could have a very positive effect on thousands of people's lives.

It is refreshing to look back on a legend.

His name was Dwight Eddleman. He was christened Thomas Dwight but soon became known as "Dike." He did everything and did it well for Centralia High School and the University of Illinois and became a statewide sports hero, a name on everyone's lips.

The writers called it "Eddlemania" and it particularly applied to basketball, a sport that pervaded every niche of community life in Southern Illinois.

NELSON CAMPBELL calls it "incredible, a phenomenon, the perfect combination of talent and charisma at the perfect time."

Campbell, who is the manager of the River Trails Tennis Center and a walking historian on Illinois high school basketball, should know. He grew up in a town near Centralia. He saw "Eddlemania" develop.

"Dike probably received more total publicity than any high school athlete in the country," Campbell recalled this week. "He was directly in the line of fire as four Chicago daily newspapers, three in St. Louis and two in Champaign-Urbana battled for circulation.

"IT WAS SUCH a phenomenon in basketball," Campbell said, "that when Associated Press or United Press moved a Centralia score without Dike's point total in parenthesis, papers from one end of the state to the other screamed for that extra bit of information."

A typical line would read:

Centralia 93, Peoria Central 46 (Eddleman 35).

Oldtimers say no other Illinois high school athlete was ever accorded such status.

Eddleman was born in Perks, Ill., a town about 10 miles north of the Ohio River and not your real land of opportunity. His father, a widower and railroad man, sent the boy 95 miles north to Centralia for his education, and Dike lived with his aunt and uncle.

"THERE WAS A pride in the Centralia of the early 1940s." Campbell said. "An oil boom in the area meant that a disproportionate percentage of the people were working and that Illinois was temporarily the fifth-ranking state in oil production.

"Virtually all the boys wore oil field boots to school. This wasn't a L'il Abnerism, as many city writers concluded, but a way by which to identify with one of the few positive facets of the economy. Because Dike wore field boots, thousands of high schoolers all over the state followed suit."

By eighth grade, Eddleman was high jumping 6 feet and he ended up winning the state four times, bettering 6-6 on 20 occasions in an era when only one human being had ever cleared 6-10.

BY HIS freshman year at Centralia, Dike was the No. 2 man on a basketball team good enough for fourth place in Illinois. He was an exceptional punter in football and strong runner out of the single wing, but a heel injury was to cut short his football career until his senior year.

Eddleman was the state's top scorer in basketball as a sophomore, but Centralia was ousted in the sectional final by Salem. They finished 30-2.

Centralia was expected to be great in 1941-42, and they didn't disappoint — until the very end.

BY FEBRUARY, Centralia was 30-1, and the only loss was actually planned. Fearing that his great team might succumb to jealousies, Arthur Trout, a legend in the coaching ranks, started Eddleman and four reserves against Harrisburg. Later he substituted the four regulars as a unit but benched Eddleman.

Centralia lost by one point for what was to be its only regular-season defeat in 45 games. The stated objective was to show Dike he couldn't get along without the other regulars and the other regulars they couldn't get along without Dike.

Trout's real objective may simply have been to lose a game and thus relax the tension in a day when no unbeaten team had ever won the state title.

"People started to speculate how well Centralia would do in the Big Ten," Campbell said. "They were booked into some major college gyms around the state and the crowds were greater than for the top college teams."

INCREDIBLY, Centralia did not win the state championship. Morton coach Norm Ziebell made some defensive adjustments against Eddleman that might only work once but worked in the state semis. Morton won 30-29 despite two steals and baskets by Eddleman in the final 12 seconds.

The next night Centralia routed Canton by 30 in a third-place playoff, finishing 45-2 for the season, with Eddleman equaling the entire Canton total.

The 6-foot-2 Eddleman had another year but had to operate with much smaller and much less gifted teammates. They lost seven times. But they won the state title.

Down by 13 points with five and a half minutes remaining against Paris in the final game, Centralia roared back behind Eddleman. They scored the final 15 points and won by two on Dike's layup with one second remaining.

The University of Illinois won the Dike Eddleman sweepstakes and, after three years of World War II military service, he completed his college.

At Illinois Eddleman won 11 varsity letters. He played on Big Ten football and basketball title teams. He dominated the high jump in track and gilded his performance with a 6-8 leap for a bronze medal in the 1948 Olympics.

All this — and the Western Conference Honor Medal for Scholarship as well!

EDDLEMAN WAS A five-year regular at guard with the old Fort Wayne Zollners, forerunners of the Detroit Pistons, in the National Basketball Assn.

"Dike never had an agent, never had a CPA for a financial adviser," Campbell said. "He never held a press conference. He never tried high society or to exploit his name via the insurance or public relations routes.

"He simply got a job when his pro days were over with Central Soya in central Illinois. He married the high school cheerleader, bought a modest home, sent his daughter to the old State U. The fancy life never appealed to him."

TODAY EDDLEMAN works in alumni relations for the University of Illinois and, as Campbell says, "he's in his element, probably for keeps."

"Maybe he's as common as an old shoe," Campbell said, "but I think it's great. He gives talks to kids about how sports prepare you for life, the old-fashioned virtues. You don't find many guys like this anymore."

"Eddlemania."

You had to be there to understand it. Nelson Campbell was there, and he will never forget how it gripped an entire state for years.

"IT WASN'T merely Dike's exploits which grabbed people," he said. "It was a combination of super talent, unrelenting drive, a handsome face, an incredible humility, a colorful coach.

"He answered the need for heroes at a time when people traveled less, had fewer diversions and, excepting temporary assignments in fox holes, could envision little of life beyond the ridge.

"In a state known for sending a railsplitter to the White House," Campbell summed up, "it was easy to see a bit of the Lincolnesque in a poor boy from the sticks who called everybody over 25 'Mister.' We knew the American Dream wasn't exactly making huge splashes as we were involved in war with millions unemployed, but wasn't Dike Eddleman a beautiful teenaged example?"

Area girls seek two Illinois crowns

by JEFF NORDLUND

If the performers at the state girls gymnastics tournament today and Saturday at Maine East High School turn in the same scores they did at the district-level meets, this is going to be an important weekend for some Mid-Suburban League teams and individuals.

That goes most for Palatine's Lori Erickson who heads the list of district scorers in the all-around competition, as well as vaulting and floor exercise. She may do in this first-ever girls' state meet what Bart Conner did several years back to the boys' meet — dominate it.

The figures are there to prove it. Erickson, in addition to her first position in three events, is fourth on the uneven parallel bars and second on the balance beam. Right behind her in the number of appearances in the "top 10" list is Hersey's Mary Charpentier.

CHARPENTIER SCORED the second best all-around total, while bowing to Erickson for the Hersey District title last week, and she is among the leaders in the balance beam where she is first, vaulting (ninth), uneven bars (seventh) and floor exercise (fourth).

It may be Charpentier and her teammates who land the team title, though Maine East and Palatine, whose only competitor is Erickson, also rate strong consideration.

Host Maine East looks especially tough, placing 10 scorers in the top 10 list of the events. East is led by all-around girl Donna Maincini and Ellen Barrett, who scored the highest district mark on the uneven bars.

How much Erickson can singlehandedly affect the team standings is hard to determine, but she has been a consistently high scorer all season. Two weeks ago she won the Mid-Suburban League all-around championship. A transfer student from Minnesota this year, she has been a real bonus to Palatine's program.

"SHE'S VERY poised out there," Palatine coach Alita Cyrlin said of Erickson earlier this week. "She doesn't get hyper. She's very modest, sharp and precise.

"She's improved this season, perfecting each move," the coach added. "She's always been a strong competitor. I hope she has a good meet, but it means so much to everyone, you can never tell what is going to happen."

"We're not going into the meet overly confident," Cyrlin said. "We're just hoping for the best."

CHARPENTIER has finished second to Erickson in the all-around at both her conference and district meets the last two weeks. Her coach, Mariann Naparstek, is confident Charpentier can beat Erickson on a given night, though.

"Mary only lost to Lori by two-tenths of a point in the all-around earlier this season," Naparstek said. "This state meet is the big thing for Mary. She was conference champion last year. This year she is aiming for the state meet."

In addition to Charpentier, Hersey qualified Carol Wagner in floor exercise and vaulting, as well as Cheryl Coniglio and Laurie Haberer in floor exercise and Nanette Freiberg on the uneven bars.

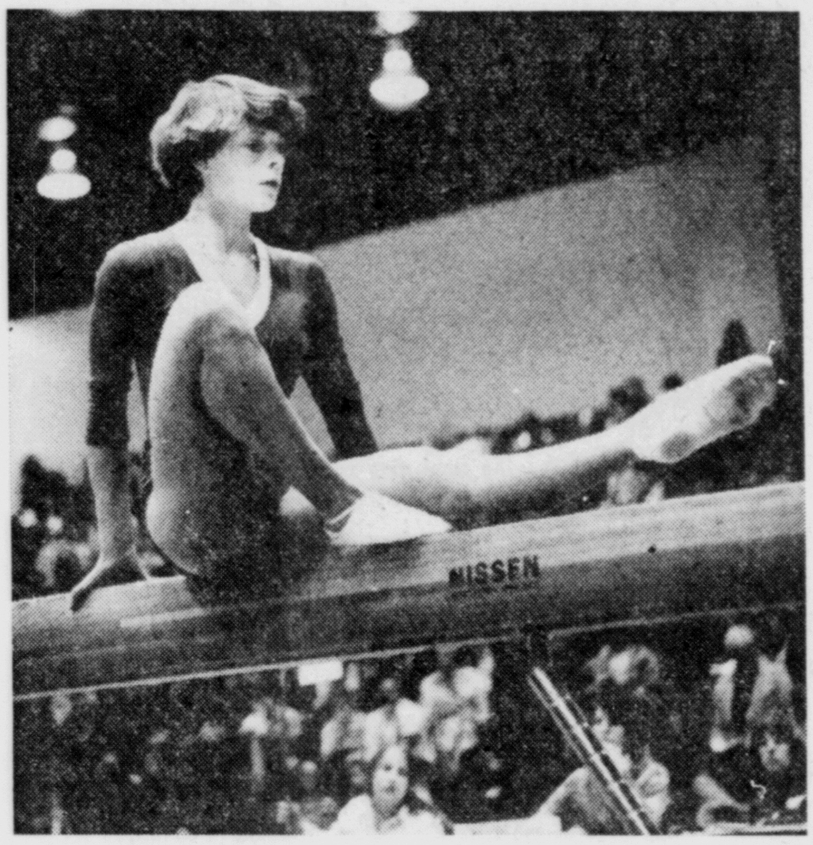
Other all-around qualifiers from the MSL are Fremd's Tracy Moore, who placed third in the district scoring, Arlington's Donna Wasielewski, Prospect's Mary Beth Martensen and Hoffman Estates' Jackie Heuer.

THERE WILL BE more than 300 gymnasts from 61 schools competing in today's preliminary events.

The preliminaries begin at 1 p.m., followed by a 7 p.m. session where district qualifiers from Elgin, Hersey, Hoffman Estates, Evanston and Maine North will compete.

The top 12 scorers in each of the events based on today's scores will compete in the finals, beginning at 7 p.m. Saturday. The finals will be televised live on WGN-TV (channel 9).

The all-around title will be decided Friday based on the preliminary event scores.



HIGH HOPES. Lori Erickson of Palatine was the highest scorer from all the district tourneys last week in the all-around competition and in vaulting and floor exercise too. Saturday, when the state meet at Maine East High School, wraps up, could be a big day for the gymnast.

Leighty delivers

Illini nip NU; Purdue stunned

Rick Leighty sank a 25-foot shot at the buzzer Thursday night to give Illinois a 65-63 Big Ten victory over Northwestern in Evanston.

After Billy McKinney tied the score at 63-63 on a jump shot with 39 seconds left, Illinois ran the clock down and called a time out.

Leighty then took the inbounds pass from Steve Lanter in the key and sank the shot.

McKinney was the game high scorer with 23, while Audie Matthews had 19 to lead Illinois.

WISCONSIN exploded for eight straight points early in the second half and the Badgers went on to shock second place Purdue 76-74 in Madison.

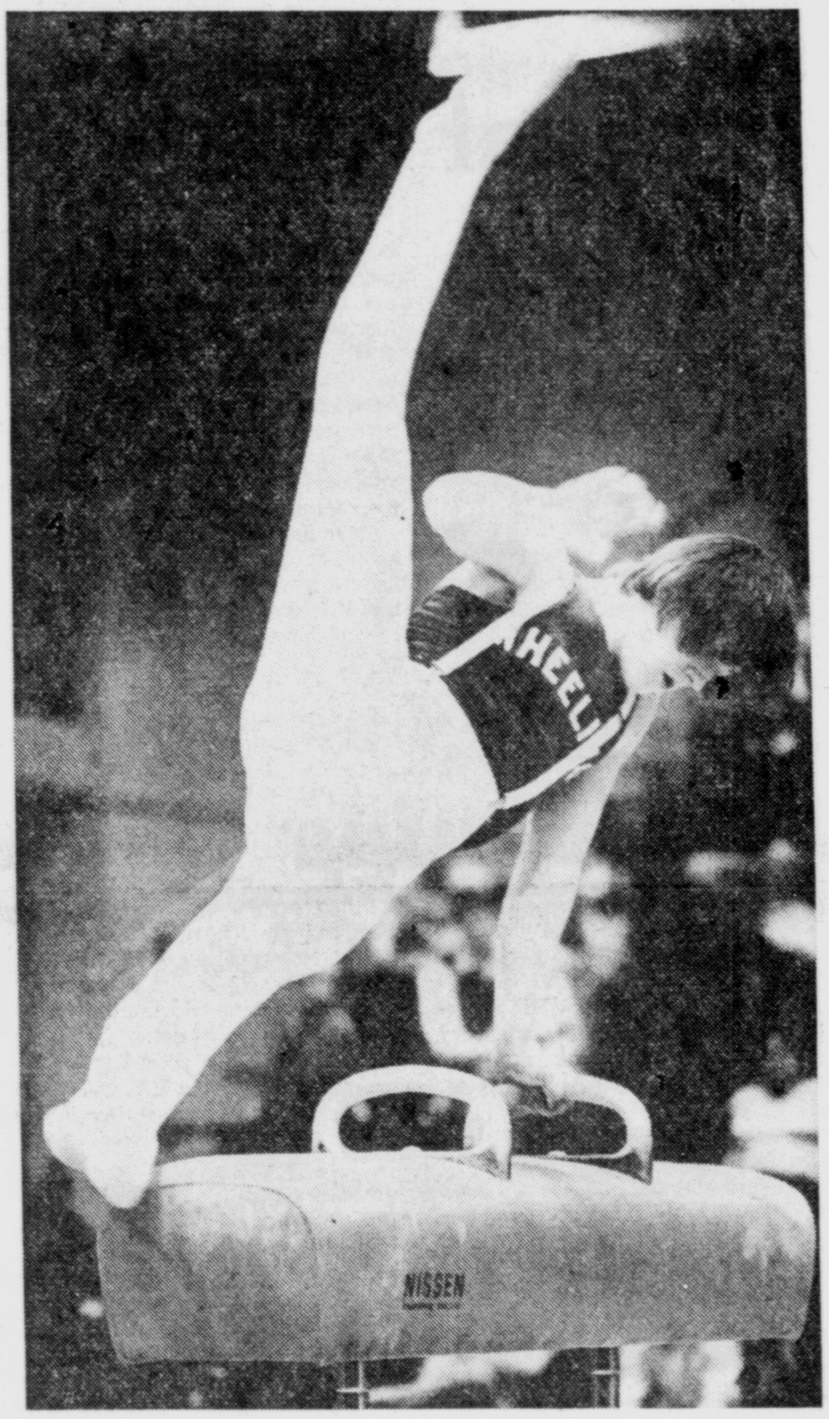
Freshman forward James "Stretch" Gregory, who scored 17 points, led the Badger rally. He hit a jump shot and a layup, and guard Arnold Gaines and center Mark Newburg added jump shots, as the Badgers spurted to a 46-38 lead.

Forward Walter Jordan scored 22 points and guard Eugene Parker added 18 for the Boilermakers, which fell to 8-3 in the Big Ten and 14-6 overall. The victory gave Wisconsin a 3-9 conference record and 7-13 overall.

Mike Thompson, Kevin McHale and Ray Williams all topped the 20-point mark to lead 8-2 Minnesota to a 91-65 victory over Ohio State in Columbus.

Thompson scored 24 points, McHale 23 and Williams 21 to personally outscore the entire Buckeye team as Minnesota raised its Big Ten record to 8-2 and its overall mark to 17-2.

The Buckeyes dropped their sixth straight game in falling to 2-8 in the league and 7-12 overall. Freshman Jim Ellinghausen led Ohio State with 14.



WHEELING captured the North Division of the Mid-Suburban League with the help of side horse specialist Jim Geske. Geske aided the Wildcats in their win over Buffalo Grove with a score of 8.25.

Bowling tourney opens in Peoria

by ART MUGALIAN

It's time for Forest View's bowlers to make amends, according to first-year coach Warren Myers.

The Falcon girls will head into today's 8 a.m. first round of the IHSA state bowling tourney at Peoria's Town and Country Lanes with the best district score in the state. But that's in the past.

The Falcons were also the favorites last year and had actually taken a 54-pin lead into the final round before dropping down to second as Abingdon won the title.

THIS YEAR the Falcons failed to win the Mid-Suburban championship for the first time in four years and Myers took the blame on himself.

But Myers' crew of bowlers shrugged off the conference setback and bowled a splendid 5170 series to win their own district meet last Saturday. The Falcons will join Arlington, which won the Hersey District with 4388 pins, in the state meet today.

"It could be a real barnburner in this meet," said Myers. "Arlington is a team that can roll up the big scores and so are we. But it all comes down to one day."

MYERS WILL take seven bowlers to Peoria, including MSL champion Nancy Lachus, a three-year veteran of the state meet who led the 1974 Falcon team to the state title. Lachus rolled a sizzling 601 in the Forest View district meet Saturday.

Joining Lachus will be starters Judy Pleickhardt, Karen Toppel and Karen Ellingsworth, plus subs Debbie Compton, Julie Mathews, and Cheryl Hanson. The only Falcons who weren't on last year's state runnerup team are Toppel, a transfer, and Ellingsworth, a freshman.

Pleickhardt set a state-meet record last year with an impressive 581 series. Pleickhardt was also the MSL champ a year ago with a 163 average. Lachus' leading average this season was just a shade under 164.

Arlington's road to the state meet was tougher than Forest View's. While the Falcons blasted their nearest district competition by more than 650 pins, the Cardinals finished only 99 pins ahead of second-place Hersey.

COACH LINDA Thompson hopes her Cardinal bowlers can recover from their sub-par performance in time for today's first round. Arlington had been by far the most consistent team in the MSL. The Cards whitewashed 11 of their 12 league opponents, losing only to Forest View, 3-1.

Forest View's 5170 was the highest district score ever rolled. Defending champ Abingdon rolled a 4934 Saturday and Evergreen Park had the third-highest score, a 4930.

Thirty-two teams will vie for the state title, which has been won twice by Abingdon and once each by Forest View and Dixon.

TODAY'S SECOND session will begin at 2 p.m. and Saturday's semis and finals are scheduled for 9 a.m. and 1 p.m.

Evert and Court reach Slims semis

Topseeded Chris Evert and Margaret Court won quarter-final matches in the $100,000 Virginia Slims tennis tournament Thursday night at the International Amphitheater as Evert beat her best friend for the second time in Slims competition.

Evert eliminated Kristien Shaw, her roommate on the tour, 6-0, 6-1, running her string of victories over Shaw to 23 games before Shaw won one game in the final set. In their only previous meeting, Evert won by a 6-0, 6-0 score.

Court had to go three sets to defeat Rosemary Casals, 5-7, 6-3, 7-6 and advance to Friday night's semi-final match against Nastasha Chmyreva, a Russian star. Chmyreva defeated Julie Anthony 7-5, 7-5 Thursday night.

Evert will play Betty Stove, who won over Brigitte Cuypers 6-4, 6-3 Thursday, in Saturday's semifinals.

Chmyreva and Olga Morozova defeated Lindy Mottram and Renata Tomanova, 6-2, 6-4, in a doubles quarter-final.

Cavaliers, Bucks, Bullets win

Jim Brewer scored 18 points and Austin Carr 17 Thursday night to pace the Cleveland Cavaliers to an easy 116-101 NBA victory over the Indiana Pacers.

Brewer, who also grabbed nine rebounds, tossed in 14 third-period points as the Cavs opened up a 25-point lead late in the third period.

Seven Cavs scored in double figures, with Camp Russell adding 15 points and Bobby Smith 14. Billy Knight topped the Pacers with 26.

Swen Nater had game highs of 28 points and 18 rebounds and keyed a second half comeback in leading the Milwaukee Bucks to a 112-102 victory over the Kansas City Kings.

Phil Chenier scored six straight points during a 63-second span in the closing minutes to lead Washington to a 109-103 come-from-behind victory over the Phoenix Suns.

Flyers romp; Sabres, Rangers gain

Rick MacLeish scored two goals and Bill Barber added a goal and four assists Thursday night to lead the Philadelphia Flyers to a 9-2 rout over the Washington Capitals.

MacLeish scored at 1:57 and Gary Dornhoefer and Bob Kelly later scored within 41 seconds to give Philadelphia a 3-0 first period lead as the Flyers increased their Patrick division lead over the idle New York Islanders by six points.

Defenseman Jerry Korab scored two goals to lead Buffalo to a 4-3 victory over Boston in lifting the Sabres within two points of the first-place Bruins in the Adams Division.

The Sabres, who have two games in hand on the Bruins, took a 2-1 first period lead on goals by Korab and Andre Savard. Korab made it 3-1 at 2:09 of the second period on a 35-foot slap shot and Brian Spencer made it 4-1 at 11:41 of the same period.

The Rangers tied the game at 4-4 with eight minutes left on a goal by Pat Hickey and Murdoch scored his 22nd goal on the road to pull the Rangers to within six points of thirdplace Atlanta in the Patrick Division.

Massengale has Hope Classic lead

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. — Rik Massengale, hoping to join Bruce Lietzke, Tom Watson and Jerry Pate as a 1977 winner, took another step in that direction Thursday with a six-under-par 66, that gave him a four-stroke lead after two rounds in the $200,000 Bob Hope Desert Classic.

Massengale won the Hartford Open last year for his second tour of victory but his play in four previous events this year was erratic at best.

Wednesday, the 30-year-old Texan shot a 64 at Indian Wells for the best competitive round of his career and the 66 he got at Tamarisk on Thursday gave him a 36-hold total of 14-under-par 130.

They use four courses in the Hope before the cut is made for the final round, making it the longest event of the year at 90 holes.

Lietzke, who won the Tucson Open four weeks ago and the Hawaiian Open last week for more than $100,000 in earnings this year, tried to keep pace with Massengale when he shot a 67, also at Tamarisk. That gave the 25-year-old transplanted Texan a 36-hold score of 10 under par 134 and virtually made it a two-man race for a $40,000 prize.

Wally Armstrong also shot a 67 at Tamarisk to stand at 136 while Hubert Green had a 68 at Tamarisk and Alan Tapie a 70 at the host LaQuinta course to trail by another stroke at 137.

Paul Moran, with a 67 at Bermuda Dunes, and Ron Cerrudo, with a 68 at Tamarisk, were at 138 while Dave Hill, Gay Brewer, Jerry McGee and Steve Melnyk were at 139, five under par but nine shots off the lead.

NFL labor talks resume Monday

WASHINGTON — The NFL players and owners ended a three-day round of bargaining Thursday and agreed to meet again Monday in New York City in hopes of settling their three-year labor dispute.

Ed Garvey, executive director of the NFL Playres Association, and Sargent Karch, executive director of the owners' Management Council, issued a joint statement which sounded a slight note of optimism.

"We are still hoping to achieve an agreement in the near future," they said in announcing Monday's session.

This was in contrast to Garvey's glum declaration Wednesday that "after two days of negotiations, there is absolutely no progress . . . There is little optimism on our side."

Neither he nor Kasrch would amplify on their brief statement following a one-hour meeting Thursday morning.

THE NEW CHAMP of Mid-Suburban League diving, Buffalo Grove's Alan Cymbal, shows the form that won him the title Thursday night at Arlington's Olympic Pool. Cymbal dueled Arlington's Scott McCratic down to the final dive to win with 417.15 points, just short of the league record.

Buffalo Grove's Alan Cymbal saved the best for last and that was enough to bring him the Mid-Suburban League diving title Thursday night at Arlington's Olympic Pool.

Cymbal dueled Arlington's Scott McCratic down to the final dive, the dive which gave Cymbal enough to edge McCratic, 417.17 to 406.05.

"The inward 1½ pike is the best dive I have and I saved it for last," said the exuberant senior who can figure the scoring well enough in his head to know that he'd won it long before the judges' totals were announced. "I knew I had to hit it good but that it would have been close either way."

THE WIN was especially satisfying to Cymbal, who finished a disappointing 10th in the Hinsdale Diving Invitational earlier in the season while McCratic took second. That invitational is regarded as a preview to the state meet.

"My finish at Hinsdale actually turned out for the better," said Cymbal. "It made me wake up and realize that if I didn't start hitting my dives, I wouldn't be going anywhere."

McCratic, who's only a junior and will be back next year, and Cymbal were separated by little more than a point after eight dives of the 11-dive meet. The eight-dive totals had McCratic slightly ahead with 273.39 points to Cymbal's 271.95.

Prospect's John Kriescher was a distant third in the final standings with 347.85 points. A pair of Wheeling divers, Mike Wargo (316.20) and Bob Black (312.39) finished fourth and fifth respectively.

FOREST VIEW freshman Casey Platt took sixth with 297.03 points.

Cymbal just missed breaking the Mid-Suburban League diving record, 417.76, set by Hersey's Bill Cashmore last year.

Mike Amtman of Arlington racked up a record 308.25 points to win the MSL sophomore diving crown. A pair of Forest View sophomores, Paul Ruud (240.51) and Jeff Clyde (221.04) were second and third respectively on the sophomore level.

Going into today's MSL swimming finals, the team point totals after diving are as follows: Wheeling 21, Arlington 20, Buffalo Grove 18, Prospect 15, Forest View 14, Elk Grove 5, Hersey 0, Rolling Meadows 0.

Three-way tie?

Swimming finals at Olympic pool

A three-way tie for the Mid-Suburban League swimming title is a very real possibility when the results of tonight's conference swimming meet are in.

Arlington shooting for its fifth straight league crown, Prospect and Elk Grove all have a chance at taking at least a piece of the MSL championship. Swimming finals start at 7 p.m. at Olympic Pool, 660 N. Ridge, Arlington Heights.

A rare tie between Arlington and Prospect during the dual meet season set the stage for the tie. Elk Grove's win over Prospect last week, coupled with Arlington's earlier win over Elk Grove, made the possibility a very real one.

CONFERENCE STANDINGS are based on finish in dual meet competition and finish in the conference meet. The standings presently are Arlington (6-0-1), Elk Grove (6-1), and Prospect (5-1-1).

If Prospect wins the league meet, Elk Grove takes second and Arlington third, then all three would be declared league tri-champions, according to meet director Bill Beckman, Forest View athletic director.

Interestingly enough, that's just how the league meet will finish based on seed times, best times of swimmers in their event which are used to determine lane placement.

If everyone swims according to his previous best time, the MSL will have a tri-champion for the first time in its history. But no one is counting on that.

IF ELK GROVE wins tonight, they claim the prize outright. But if Arlington finishes second behind the Grens, the Cards and Grens will share the crown. Arlington can take the title outright by winning tonight.

Tonight's clash promises some excellent races, especially in the grueling distance event, the 500-yard freestyle. Less than 10 seconds separates the top qualifier in the event (Prospect's Tom Cole with a best time of 4:47.0) from the fifth qualifier (Elk Grove's Gary Drake with a 5:05.4).

Sandwiched in between are Tom Redig of Forest View (4:49.453), Arlington sophomore Jim Burns (5:02.8) and Arlington's Steve Nitch (5:04.9).

Cole and Rolling Meadows' Tom Stahnke, who've been neck and neck in butterfly and 50-yard freestyle all year, avoided a confrontation tonight and will be swimming in opposite events.

COLE, IN addition to the 500, will swim on Prospect's medley relay, then come right back to swim the 200-yard freestyle, where he's ranked first in conference and seventh in state with a best time of 1:47.2.

Stahnke, who's generally been behind Cole all year, will swim Stahnke's specialty, the butterfly, defending the title he won over Cole last year. Stahnke's also entered in the individual medley and Meadows' medley relay team. Stahnke holds the league 50 title which he'll give up this year.

With the top three swimmers in the 50, Cole (22.1), Stahnke (22.5) and Jim Soja of Elk Grove (23.0) not entered, there's a slower, but closely packed field. Dick Hawes (23.3) and Tim Wheeler (23.4), both from Hersey are the tops seeds, followed by Wheeling's Tony Lauber (23.6) and Elk Grove's Ron VanDenBussche (23.8).

In the breaststroke, defending champion Mike Roessler (1:02.8) of Arlington, may have to thwart a challenge by Buffalo Grove's Mark Rusche (1:04.1).

DEFENDING BACKSTROKE champ Spencer Gilchrist (57.5) is seeded first in that event but will have to beat Meadows' Jim Rowland (58.4) and Buffalo Grove's Mike Yaskey (58.9).

Realistic goal tonight for Maine West tankers

Maine West tankers have set their sights on a very realistic goal of third place today in the Central Suburban League South swim meet at Glenbrook North High School, 2300 Schermer Rd., Northbrook.

Diving will get under way at 2 p.m. Swimming is scheduled to start at 7 p.m.

"We're shooting for third but I'll be extremely happy with fourth," said coach Scott Chovanec who, as most everyone else, concedes the title to unbeaten Glenbrook North and second place to once beaten Glenbrook South.

The battle for third will be up for grabs among West, Maine South, Niles North and Maine East, according to Chovanec.

"We're not going to rest for this meet. I feel our best chance to do well will be in the districts, so that's what we're aiming for," Chovanec said.

Randy Roel is perhaps the best shot the Warriors have for an individual title. Roel is a good bet for first or second in the 50-yard freestyle. His seed time of 22.861 is a school record.

Senior diver Steve Dunham is also figured to finish among the top divers in the conference. Rob MacNab, a sophomore, could do well in the butterfly with a time drop from his present 59-second clocking for the event.

Schaumburg baseball registration

Schaumburg Athletic Assn. baseball registration will be held Saturday, Feb. 26 and Saturday, March 5 from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. at the Great Hall on Civic Dr.

Registration is open to all Schaumburg boys and girls who, prior to Aug. 1, 1977, are between 8 and 15 years of age. The registration fee is $30 per player or $50 for a family registering two or more players.

As in prior years, parents of players will be required to participate in the program by fulfilling one of the various program work assignments. However during the 1977 baseball season, there will be a better distribution of same, i.e. a little work for everyone, instead of a lot of work for a few.

For further information call Carl LaPonte at 894-1481 baseball commissioner or Jim Schmieder at 837-4279 and Jerry Splitt 893-6591 assistant commissioners.

Evert and Court reach Slims semis

Topseeded Chris Evert and Margaret Court won quarter-final matches in the $100,000 Virginia Slims tennis tournament Thursday night at the International Amphitheater as Evert beat her best friend for the second time in Slims competition.

Evert eliminated Kristien Shaw, her roommate on the tour, 6-0, 6-1, running her string of victories over Shaw to 23 games before Shaw won one game in the final set. In their only previous meeting, Evert won by a 6-0, 6-0 score.

Court had to go three sets to defeat Rosemary Casals, 5-7, 6-3, 7-6 and advance to Friday night's semi-final match against Nastasha Chmyreva, a Russian star. Chmyreva defeated Julie Anthony 7-5, 7-5 Thursday night.

Evert will play Betty Stove, who won over Brigitte Cuypers 6-4, 6-3 Thursday, in Saturday's semifinals.

Chmyreva and Olga Morozova defeated Lindy Mottram and Renata Tomanova, 6-2, 6-4, in a doubles quarter-final.

Cavaliers, Bucks, Bullets win

Jim Brewer scored 18 points and Austin Carr 17 Thursday night to pace the Cleveland Cavaliers to an easy 116-101 NBA victory over the Indiana Pacers.

Brewer, who also grabbed nine rebounds, tossed in 14 third-period points as the Cavs opened up a 25-point lead late in the third period.

Seven Cavs scored in double figures, with Camp Russell adding 15 points and Bobby Smith 14. Billy Knight topped the Pacers with 26.

Swen Nater had game highs of 28 points and 18 rebounds and keyed a second half comeback in leading the Milwaukee Bucks to a 112-102 victory over the Kansas City Kings.

Phil Chenier scored six straight points during a 63-second span in the closing minutes to lead Washington to a 109-103 come-from-behind victory over the Phoenix Suns.

Flyers romp; Sabres, Rangers gain

Rick MacLeish scored two goals and Bill Barber added a goal and four assists Thursday night to lead the Philadelphia Flyers to a 9-2 rout over the Washington Capitals.

MacLeish scored at 1:57 and Gary Dornhoefer and Bob Kelly later scored within 41 seconds to give Philadelphia a 3-0 first period lead as the Flyers increased their Patrick division lead over the idle New York Islanders by six points.

Defenseman Jerry Korab scored two goals to lead Buffalo to a 4-3 victory over Boston in lifting the Sabres within two points of the first-place Bruins in the Adams Division.

The Sabres, who have two games in hand on the Bruins, took a 2-1 first period lead on goals by Korab and Andre Savard. Korab made it 3-1 at 2:09 of the second period on a 35-foot slap shot and Brian Spencer made it 4-1 at 11:41 of the same period.

The Rangers tied the game at 4-4 with eight minutes left on a goal by Pat Hickey and Murdoch scored his 22nd goal on the road to pull the Rangers to within six points of thirdplace Atlanta in the Patrick Division.

Massengale has Hope Classic lead

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. — Rik Massengale, hoping to join Bruce Lietzke, Tom Watson and Jerry Pate as a 1977 winner, took another step in that direction Thursday with a six-under-par 66, that gave him a four-stroke lead after two rounds in the $200,000 Bob Hope Desert Classic.

Massengale won the Hartford Open last year for his second tour of victory but his play in four previous events this year was erratic at best.

Wednesday, the 30-year-old Texan shot a 64 at Indian Wells for the best competitive round of his career and the 66 he got at Tamarisk on Thursday gave him a 36-hold total of 14-under-par 130.

They use four courses in the Hope before the cut is made for the final round, making it the longest event of the year at 90 holes.

Lietzke, who won the Tucson Open four weeks ago and the Hawaiian Open last week for more than $100,000 in earnings this year, tried to keep pace with Massengale when he shot a 67, also at Tamarisk. That gave the 25-year-old transplanted Texan a 36-hold score of 10 under par 134 and virtually made it a two-man race for a $40,000 prize.

Wally Armstrong also shot a 67 at Tamarisk to stand at 136 while Hubert Green had a 68 at Tamarisk and Alan Tapie a 70 at the host LaQuinta course to trail by another stroke at 137.

Paul Moran, with a 67 at Bermuda Dunes, and Ron Cerrudo, with a 68 at Tamarisk, were at 138 while Dave Hill, Gay Brewer, Jerry McGee and Steve Melnyk were at 139, five under par but nine shots off the lead.

NFL labor talks resume Monday

WASHINGTON — The NFL players and owners ended a three-day round of bargaining Thursday and agreed to meet again Monday in New York City in hopes of settling their three-year labor dispute.

Ed Garvey, executive director of the NFL Playres Association, and Sargent Karch, executive director of the owners' Management Council, issued a joint statement which sounded a slight note of optimism.

"We are still hoping to achieve an agreement in the near future," they said in announcing Monday's session.

This was in contrast to Garvey's glum declaration Wednesday that "after two days of negotiations, there is absolutely no progress . . . There is little optimism on our side."

Neither he nor Kasrch would amplify on their brief statement following a one-hour meeting Thursday morning.

Palatine girls capture first North win, 53-39

by JEFF NORDLUND

Palatine's girls basketball team got a couple things in its 53-39 victory over Arlington Thursday that it's been looking for all season.

First, the Pirates picked up their first Mid-Suburban League North win of the season in five starts. Second, they may have found a shooter in Sue McNeil, who tallied 17 points to lead everyone in the game.

It was McNeil's eight furth-quarter points that helped pull the Pirates far in front of Arlington in the closing moments. Until then, the persistent Cardinals, winless in five conference bids, had stayed within striking range, despite trailing since the first quarter.

IN OTHER Mid-Suburban League games Thursday, Fremd won its 47th straight by downing Buffalo Grove 57-42; Wheeling topped Hersey 47-31; Forest View remained undefeated in a 41-36 win over Conant; Hoffman Estates edged Rolling Meadows 50-45; in overtime; and Elk Grove crunched Fenton 37-16 in a nonconference match.

Though Palatine has had some good scoring performances thus far this season, they haven't been from the same player twice. McNeil, who hit from both inside and outside, may be the answer.

"Sue hasn't been hitting until this game," Palatine coach Sandy Greene said afterward. "She's been lacking in confidence.

"Last game she took a lot of shots and missed," the coach continued, "but today she said she was going to go out and score 10 points. She wound up with 17.

"THIS COULD BE something we've really needed," Greene added.

The Pirates got another fine performance from Cindy Charlier, who clicked from outside for 15 points. Theresa Jasonowicz was third highest in scoring for Palatine with nine points.

"We settled down tonight," Greene said of the game, Palatine's first conference win in two years. "Before, it a team sped things up on us, that would shake us. Today we went slowly and set everything up."

"And we got some excellent defense from Charlier, Jasonowicz and McNeil, too," Greene said.

ARLINGTON FAILED to produce any scorer in double figures. Sandy Norman was tops for the Cards with nine points, followed by Laura Sanders with eight and Kim Broderick with seven.

Visiting Fremd (5-0) weathered a charge by Buffalo Grove (3-2) in the third period of its game to win 57-42. Peggy Hamill and Connie Bruns led the winners with 13 points apiece. Vike Donelda Danz added 12.

Losing coach Ann Penstone credited her team with a good effort, despite the outcome, singling out Allison Allsmiller and Joyce Gallagher for their play. Allsmiler led the Bison with 14, and Gallagher was second with 10.

SECOND-PLACE Wheeling (4-1) used the hot first-quarter scoring of Sandy Rainey to help it beat visiting Hersey (2-3) 47-31. Rainey tallied 10 points in the opening period and finished with 24.

Forest View (6-0) edged past host Conant (4-2) in the final two minutes of their game for a 41-36 win to remain at the top of the south Division. A frigid four-point first quarter put the Falcons behind by six, fighting to within one point by halftime.

Kathy Suchecki scored 17 for the winners, and Julie Phillips and Kathy Surnicki tallied 12 for the losers.

Tracey Farrish scored four of her team's seven overtime points to lead host Hoffman Estates (3-3) to a 50-45 win over Rolling Meadows (1-4). Farrish finished the night with 21 points, one behind high scorer Carol Johnson of Meadows.

DIANE KRETZ dropped 16 points through the hoop, leading Schaumburg (1-4) to a big 61-39 win over host Prospect (0-6). Prospect's Jeannine Hahn and Dina Wilke had 10 points.

Kim Richardson tallied 17 points to lead Elk Grove to its 36-16 nonconference win over Fenton. Teammate Carole Pollitz added 15.

Hawks win; 25 for Nichol

Mike Nichol scored 25 points and playmaking teammate Ed Chmiel added 19 as Harper defeated Elgin, 87-74, in a nonconference junior college basketball game at Elgin Thursday night.

The Hawks, now 6-16, had four scorers in double figures as they beat Elgin for the second time this season. Dan Breen finished with 13 points for Harper and Ron Sulaski had 10.

"WE'VE CHANGED OUR offense and it's starting to pay off," said Harper coach Roger Bechtold. "We're running a one-guard offense now and we're getting good penetration and good shots from around the free throw line."

Nichol hit 12 times from the field, mostly from 15 to 20 feet, and Chmiel contributed eight field goals.

"Chmiel has really come on strong," said Bechtold. "He's come a long way — he's running the offense and he's scoring, too."

Chmiel, who began the season on the bench, got an opportunity to start when three of the Hawks' regulars lost their eligibility. The 6-4 freshman from Schaumburg has been averaging around 15 points per game since cracking the lineup.

HARPER JUMPED OUT to a 39-31 halftime lead and increased the margin to 25 points five minutes into the second half.

Keith Howard had 28 points to lead Elgin.

Palatine girls capture first North win, 53-39

by JEFF NORDLUND

Palatine's girls basketball team got a couple things in its 53-39 victory over Arlington Thursday that it's been looking for all season.

First, the Pirates picked up their first Mid-Suburban League North win of the season in five starts. Second, they may have found a shooter in Sue McNeil, who tallied 17 points to lead everyone in the game.

It was McNeil's eight furth-quarter points that helped pull the Pirates far in front of Arlington in the closing moments. Until then, the persistent Cardinals, winless in five conference bids, had stayed within striking range, despite trailing since the first quarter.

IN OTHER Mid-Suburban League games Thursday, Fremd won its 47th straight by downing Buffalo Grove 57-42; Wheeling topped Hersey 47-31; Forest View remained undefeated in a 41-36 win over Conant; Hoffman Estates edged Rolling Meadows 50-45; in overtime; and Elk Grove crunched Fenton 37-16 in a nonconference match.

Though Palatine has had some good scoring performances thus far this season, they haven't been from the same player twice. McNeil, who hit from both inside and outside, may be the answer.

"Sue hasn't been hitting until this game," Palatine coach Sandy Greene said afterward. "She's been lacking in confidence.

"Last game she took a lot of shots and missed," the coach continued, "but today she said she was going to go out and score 10 points. She wound up with 17.

"THIS COULD BE something we've really needed," Greene added.

The Pirates got another fine performance from Cindy Charlier, who clicked from outside for 15 points. Theresa Jasonowicz was third highest in scoring for Palatine with nine points.

"We settled down tonight," Greene said of the game, Palatine's first conference win in two years. "Before, it a team sped things up on us, that would shake us. Today we went slowly and set everything up."

"And we got some excellent defense from Charlier, Jasonowicz and McNeil, too," Greene said.

ARLINGTON FAILED to produce any scorer in double figures. Sandy Norman was tops for the Cards with nine points, followed by Laura Sanders with eight and Kim Broderick with seven.

Visiting Fremd (5-0) weathered a charge by Buffalo Grove (3-2) in the third period of its game to win 57-42. Peggy Hamill and Connie Bruns led the winners with 13 points apiece. Vike Donelda Danz added 12.

Losing coach Ann Penstone credited her team with a good effort, despite the outcome, singling out Allison Allsmiller and Joyce Gallagher for their play. Allsmiler led the Bison with 14, and Gallagher was second with 10.

SECOND-PLACE Wheeling (4-1) used the hot first-quarter scoring of Sandy Rainey to help it beat visiting Hersey (2-3) 47-31. Rainey tallied 10 points in the opening period and finished with 24.

Forest View (6-0) edged past host Conant (4-2) in the final two minutes of their game for a 41-36 win to remain at the top of the south Division. A frigid four-point first quarter put the Falcons behind by six, fighting to within one point by halftime.

Kathy Suchecki scored 17 for the winners, and Julie Phillips and Kathy Surnicki tallied 12 for the losers.

Tracey Farrish scored four of her team's seven overtime points to lead host Hoffman Estates (3-3) to a 50-45 win over Rolling Meadows (1-4). Farrish finished the night with 21 points, one behind high scorer Carol Johnson of Meadows.

DIANE KRETZ dropped 16 points through the hoop, leading Schaumburg (1-4) to a big 61-39 win over host Prospect (0-6). Prospect's Jeannine Hahn and Dina Wilke had 10 points.

Kim Richardson tallied 17 points to lead Elk Grove to its 36-16 nonconference win over Fenton. Teammate Carole Pollitz added 15.

Hawks win; 25 for Nichol

Mike Nichol scored 25 points and playmaking teammate Ed Chmiel added 19 as Harper defeated Elgin, 87-74, in a nonconference junior college basketball game at Elgin Thursday night.

The Hawks, now 6-16, had four scorers in double figures as they beat Elgin for the second time this season. Dan Breen finished with 13 points for Harper and Ron Sulaski had 10.

"WE'VE CHANGED OUR offense and it's starting to pay off," said Harper coach Roger Bechtold. "We're running a one-guard offense now and we're getting good penetration and good shots from around the free throw line."

Nichol hit 12 times from the field, mostly from 15 to 20 feet, and Chmiel contributed eight field goals.

"Chmiel has really come on strong," said Bechtold. "He's come a long way — he's running the offense and he's scoring, too."

Chmiel, who began the season on the bench, got an opportunity to start when three of the Hawks' regulars lost their eligibility. The 6-4 freshman from Schaumburg has been averaging around 15 points per game since cracking the lineup.

HARPER JUMPED OUT to a 39-31 halftime lead and increased the margin to 25 points five minutes into the second half.

Keith Howard had 28 points to lead Elgin.

Susan, an all-around events competitor, is an animal science major.

—Freshman heavyweight wrestler Jim Pindras of Arlington Heights may be the Carthage (Wis.) College team's most improved grappler by the end of the season.

Wrestling men 40 to 50 pounds heavier, Pindras has a 9-7 record for the 15-2 Carthage Redmen.

Pindras will be Carthage's heavyweight entry in the 1977 College Conference of Illinois and Wisconsin wrestling tourney at Augustana College, Feb. 25-26.

Chris Burbidge, a freshman from Palatine, is a member of the varsity swimming team at Millikin University, which will defend its CCIW title in Kenosha, Wis. later this month.

Ms. Burbidge is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Burbidge of Palatine and a graduate of Palatine High School. She is majoring in mathematics at Millikin.

NIMAGA program

Opening event is Spring Thaw

This year is the 19th renewal of the Northern Illinois Men's Amateur Golf Assn. (NIMAGA) season. Founded in 1959 as a vehicle for amateurs to compete in organized events, it has prospered substantially with last year's total prize payout in excess of $16,000.

At present there are over 400 members who compete once a month from April through October over a wide variety of courses in the Chicago area. There is also a newly added challenge match pitting selected NIMAGA members against a team from their Milwaukee counterpart in a match play championship to be held later in the year at a neutral course.

Competition is divided into four fights of almost identical size: a scratch flight for handicaps 0-5, and three handicap flights whose ranges may vary from tournament to tournament depending upon the number of entries in each event. Trophies and prize money in the form of gift certificates are given in each division with first prize normally being $75 and scaled downward from there.

Included in its membership are many area standouts as well as a number of Sunday golfers who are out for some good, keen competition and a chance to play some courses they wouldn't normally try during the course of a summer.

Membership is $35 per year which also covers the cost of obtaining and updating each person's certified golf handicap. All tournaments are 18 hole events with the exception of the NIMAGA Championship which is a 36 hole affair.

April 16 is the first event, the Spring Thaw, which will be held at St. Andrews and at Indian Lakes golf courses and is open to all members in good standing as of March 1. Anyone interested in membership may receive an application by contacting NIMAGA, P.O. Box 107, Golf, Ill. 60029.

Groot wins Evans grant

Scott Groot, a senior at Buffalo Grove High School, has been awarded an Evans Scholarship to attend Purdue University in West Lafayette, Ind.

Each Evans grant covers full tuition and housing and is renewable for four years, an estimated value of $6,000.

Groot, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard L. Groot of Buffalo Grove, caddied at Hillcrest Country Club.

New camera at Court House

If you would like to see yourself in action on the racquetball court — especially if you want to find out what to do to improve your game — you will have the opportunity through Tuesday, Feb. 15 at The Court House, 106 East College Drive in Arlington Heights.

It is the Arlington Heights club's turn to use the Sanyo camera, videotape recorder and television monitor recently acquired by the Court House group of racquetball clubs. The new equipment is being rotated among the clubs a week at a time.

P.E. convention in Chicago

The annual convention of the Midwest District of the American Alliance for Health, Physical Education and Recreation will be held Feb. 17-19 at the Chicago Sheraton Hotel.

The three-day program will feature sessions on Title IX, Youth Serving Agencies, current health issues, handicapped childrens programs, physical education in foreign countries, athletic injuries, women's sports officiating and much more.

For additional information contact Chic Anderson, athletic director of Palatine High School, at 358-5576.

From campuses nationwide

—Three area girls are members of the Illinois State University badminton team. They are Jean Condon, a graduate of Arlington High School; Jean Connell, a graduate of Schaumburg High School; and Sue Tolzien, a graduate of Prospect High School.

All are sophomores at ISU.

—Phil Dinielli, who prepped at Arlington High School, earned a varsity letter with the Knox College football team last fall.

Norm Hillner, a graduate of Maine West High School, earned a Knox College monogram with the Siwash soccer team.

—Tilly Riske, a MacMurray College junior from Palatine, was voted Most Valuable Player for the month of December for the women's volleyball team.

Tilly, a setter for this team, is in her third year of competition. This year she managed 116 good sets and, defensively, is credited with returning the ball to the front row for a good set 42 times as well as saving the ball 18 times.

—Susan Cassidy of Arlington Heights, a freshman at Iowa State University, is a member of the strong ISU women's gymnastics team.

Susan, an all-around events competitor, is an animal science major.

—Freshman heavyweight wrestler Jim Pindras of Arlington Heights may be the Carthage (Wis.) College team's most improved grappler by the end of the season.

Wrestling men 40 to 50 pounds heavier, Pindras has a 9-7 record for the 15-2 Carthage Redmen.

Pindras will be Carthage's heavyweight entry in the 1977 College Conference of Illinois and Wisconsin wrestling tourney at Augustana College, Feb. 25-26.

Chris Burbidge, a freshman from Palatine, is a member of the varsity swimming team at Millikin University, which will defend its CCIW title in Kenosha, Wis. later this month.

Ms. Burbidge is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Burbidge of Palatine and a graduate of Palatine High School. She is majoring in mathematics at Millikin.

Area ski report

Skiing conditions at area hills are rated from very good to excellent, despite the warmup that has caused melting. None of the areas is making snow.

Split City for Hardwick

Billy Hardwick still owns the top televised four-game series with 1082. But Billy may value a game in which he recorded an incredible seven splits — converting them all — for a miraculous 200 game.

NIMAGA program

Opening event is Spring Thaw

This year is the 19th renewal of the Northern Illinois Men's Amateur Golf Assn. (NIMAGA) season. Founded in 1959 as a vehicle for amateurs to compete in organized events, it has prospered substantially with last year's total prize payout in excess of $16,000.

At present there are over 400 members who compete once a month from April through October over a wide variety of courses in the Chicago area. There is also a newly added challenge match pitting selected NIMAGA members against a team from their Milwaukee counterpart in a match play championship to be held later in the year at a neutral course.

Competition is divided into four fights of almost identical size: a scratch flight for handicaps 0-5, and three handicap flights whose ranges may vary from tournament to tournament depending upon the number of entries in each event. Trophies and prize money in the form of gift certificates are given in each division with first prize normally being $75 and scaled downward from there.

Included in its membership are many area standouts as well as a number of Sunday golfers who are out for some good, keen competition and a chance to play some courses they wouldn't normally try during the course of a summer.

Membership is $35 per year which also covers the cost of obtaining and updating each person's certified golf handicap. All tournaments are 18 hole events with the exception of the NIMAGA Championship which is a 36 hole affair.

April 16 is the first event, the Spring Thaw, which will be held at St. Andrews and at Indian Lakes golf courses and is open to all members in good standing as of March 1. Anyone interested in membership may receive an application by contacting NIMAGA, P.O. Box 107, Golf, Ill. 60029.

Pressure time for Elk Grove in Mid-Suburban

by ART MUGALIAN

Elk Grove's back is against the wall in the Mid-Suburban South basketball race, while in the North Division Arlington, Fremd, Palatine and Wheeling are staging a hot battle for second-place honors behind champion Buffalo Grove.

That's the way things stack up in the MSL with just two weeks of play left.

Idle Rolling Meadows (9-1) has the key in the door and is about to walk through to its first South title. One more loss for Elk Grove before next Friday's Grenadier-Mustang showdown, and Meadows will have just about wrapped it up. Elk Grove (7-2) faces Forest View (5-4) tonight at Forest View in a must game for the Grens.

IN OTHER SOUTH action Friday, winless Conant (0-9) visits Hoffman Estates (5-4) and Schaumburg (3-7) hosts Prospect (4-6). Conant will also play Saturday night when the Cougars entertain Schaumburg.

In the North tonight, Buffalo Grove's state-ranked Bison (8-0) travel to Hersey (1-7), Arlington (4-4) visits Wheeling (3-5), and Palatine (4-4) hosts Fremd (4-4) in their second crosstown tussle this season.

All games are to begin at approximately 8 p.m. or as soon as possible after the sophomore contests.

"We have to concentrate on winning first," said Elk Grove coach Ken Grams after his team lost to Prospect on Tuesday, dropping the Grens a game and a half behind Meadows in the South standings.

GRAMS IS AWARE of the possibilities for breaking a tie — should Rolling Meadows and Elk Grove wind up with identical records. If the two teams split their home-and-home matches, the next tie-breaking criterion is the number of division victories by six points or more.

But the Grens cannot afford to lose another game.

"I think Forest View has matured since the last time we played them," said Grams, whose team beat the Falcons 62-40 earlier. "We saw them beat Hoffman and they played excellent basketball."

The Elk Grove coach was unhappy about the way Prospect shut off the Grenadier fast break in the Knights' 61-52 win Tuesday.

"PROSPECT STOPPED us from running and we can't afford to let that happen," said Grams. "When we're moving the ball down the floor, it tends to spread out our offense and they can't pack in on (Mark) Smith."

Smith, Elk Grove's leading scorer with a 19-point average, was held to just two buckets in the second half against Prospect.

"Last time we did a fine job on Smith, for about a half said Forest View coach Ted Wissen. "Then (Jim) Kennedy got in foul trouble. Smith is the key to the Elk Grove offense.

"Elk Grove's loss to Prospect took a little of the sting out of this game, admitted Wissen. "But we're still going into it wanting to be a spoiler."

The battle for the runnerup spot in the North features a rematch of Fremd's 71-61 win over Palatine in January. Both teams have improved immensely since that time, but Palatine's resurgence has been nothing short of remarkable.

THE PIRATES HAVE won four of their last five, including their first victory over Arlington in 29 meetings. Just one year ago, Palatine was winless in the North.

"No matter what happens, when Palatine and Fremd get together it's generally a good game," said Fremd coach Mo Tharp. "And we're still fighting for second place — we'd like to get some momentum before the tournament begins."

Fremd will have to do a defensive number on the Pirates' Kevin McKenna, the league's top scorer with a 22.5 average.

"We did a fairly good job on him last time," siad Tharp. "Craig Rawlins did the job and we sagged in and gave him a lot of help."

McKENNA scored just 15 points in the first game.

Arlington, a winner over South leader Rolling Meadows on Tuesday, takes on improved Wheeling. The Wildcats aren't out of the running for second place, either.

Wheeling's Brian Bergrowicz is the sixth-leading scorer in the North Division with a 14.4 average.

BUFFALO GROVE, meanwhile, takes on Hersey again, four weeks after the Bison buried the Huskies, 60-28.

Now 21-1, Buffalo Grove clinched their second straight MSL title by whipping Palatine, 83-51 Friday.

Harper avenges hockey setback

Harper's hockey team avenged an earlier loss to St. Xavier by blasting S-X from the ice, 10-6, in Homewood-Flossmoor Tuesday night. Pacing the Hawks was Mark Santelli, who contributed three goals and two assists to the barrage.

Harper opened up a 3-0 lead early in the second period on goals by Santelli, Jim Hoss and Rob Hudec. Hudec ended up with two goals and an assist for the game. Harper never gave up the lead, scoring three goals in the second period and five in the final stanza.

"The first period was close-checking," said Hawk coach Pat Huffer. "We did a good defensive job. Then our game plan was to open it up in the second period and we did just that."

BUDDY WRIGHT and Cary Dickson each had two assists and Mike Rodell, Ron Halle, Jerry Dudziak and Mike Tucker added a goal apiece as the Hawks increased their lead to 7-3 before St. Xavier fought back.

Harper goalie John Roth stopped 33 shots on net and was at his best after S-X cut the margin to 8-6 in the third period. But a goal by Tucker and an open-net marker by Santelli put it out of reach.

"It was a wide-open, hard-hitting third period," said Huffer. "And Roth played his finest game of the season in goal."

The Hawks' next home game is Feb. 24 against DuPage at the Arlington Ice Spectrum. Their record is now 8-2-3.

All games are to begin at approximately 8 p.m. or as soon as possible after the sophomore contests.

"We have to concentrate on winning first," said Elk Grove coach Ken Grams after his team lost to Prospect on Tuesday, dropping the Grens a game and a half behind Meadows in the South standings.

GRAMS IS AWARE of the possibilities for breaking a tie — should Rolling Meadows and Elk Grove wind up with identical records. If the two teams split their home-and-home matches, the next tie-breaking criterion is the number of division victories by six points or more.

At the moment, only Rolling Meadows has failed to win every one of their games by that margin. The Mustangs beat Forest View by a slim point earlier in the year.

But the Grens cannot afford to lose another game.

"I think Forest View has matured since the last time we played them," said Grams, whose team beat the Falcons 62-40 earlier. "We saw them beat Hoffman and they played excellent basketball."

The Elk Grove coach was unhappy about the way Prospect shut off the Grenadier fast break in the Knights' 61-52 win Tuesday.

"PROSPECT STOPPED us from running and we can't afford to let that happen," said Grams. "When we're moving the ball down the floor, it tends to spread out our offense and they can't pack in on (Mark) Smith."

Smith, Elk Grove's leading scorer with a 19-point average, was held to just two buckets in the second half against Prospect.

"Last time we did a fine job on Smith, for about a half said Forest View coach Ted Wissen. "Then (Jim) Kennedy got in foul trouble. Smith is the key to the Elk Grove offense.

"Elk Grove's loss to Prospect took a little of the sting out of this game, admitted Wissen. "But we're still going into it wanting to be a spoiler."

The battle for the runnerup spot in the North features a rematch of Fremd's 71-61 win over Palatine in January. Both teams have improved immensely since that time, but Palatine's resurgence has been nothing short of remarkable.

THE PIRATES HAVE won four of their last five, including their first victory over Arlington in 29 meetings. Just one year ago, Palatine was winless in the North.

"No matter what happens, when Palatine and Fremd get together it's generally a good game," said Fremd coach Mo Tharp. "And we're still fighting for second place — we'd like to get some momentum before the tournament begins."

Fremd will have to do a defensive number on the Pirates' Kevin McKenna, the league's top scorer with a 22.5 average.

"We did a fairly good job on him last time," siad Tharp. "Craig Rawlins did the job and we sagged in and gave him a lot of help."

McKENNA scored just 15 points in the first game.

Arlington, a winner over South leader Rolling Meadows on Tuesday, takes on improved Wheeling, The Wildcats aren't out of the running for second place, either.

Wheeling's Brian Bergrowicz is the sixth-leading scorer in the North Division with a 14.4 average.

BUFFALO GROVE, meanwhile, takes on Hersey again, four weeks after the Bison buried the Huskies, 60-28.

Now 21-1, Buffalo Grove clinched their second straight MSL title by whipping Palatine, 83-51 Friday.

Harper avenges hockey setback

Harper's hockey team avenged an earlier loss to St. Xavier by blasting S-X from the ice, 10-6, in Homewood-Flossmoor Tuesday night. Pacing the Hawks was Mark Santelli, who contributed three goals and two assists to the barrage.

Harper opened up a 3-0 lead early in the second period on goals by Santelli, Jim Hoss and Rob Hudec. Hudec ended up with two goals and an assist for the game. Harper never gave up the lead, scoring three goals in the second period and five in the final stanza.

"The first period was close-checking," said Hawk coach Pat Huffer. "We did a good defensive job. Then our game plan was to open it up in the second period and we did just that."

BUDDY WRIGHT and Cary Dickson each had two assists and Mike Rodell, Ron Halle, Jerry Dudziak and Mike Tucker added a goal apiece as the Hawks increased their lead to 7-3 before St. Xavier fought back.

Harper goalie John Roth stopped 33 shots on net and was at his best after S-X cut the margin to 8-6 in the third period. But a goal by Tucker and an open-net marker by Santelli put it out of reach.

"It was a wide-open, hard-hitting third period," said Huffer. "And Roth played his finest game of the season in goal."

The Hawks' next home game is Feb. 24 against DuPage at the Arlington Ice Spectrum. Their record is now 8-2-3.

Confusion

Name's the same at Virgie (Newsome) High

by BOB WESTON

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (UPI) — They ought to change the name of the Virgie High School basketball team in Eastern Kentucky to Newsome High and be done with it.

If you yell, "Hey, Newsome" to the players on the court during a Virgie game, five heads may swivel in unison because that's how many players there are with that last name.

To compound the confusion, two of the starters are named Jeff Newsome.

Virgie is a tiny community some 25 miles south of Pikeville, deep in the Appalachian mountain country and about as close to the Virginia border as it is to any town in Kentucky.

IF IT WEREN'T for coal mining and basketball, there probably would be no reason for its existence.

This year, the talk in Virgie is all about the basketball team and "those Newsomes."

Winners of 19 of their first 20 games, the Virgie Eagles are beginning to get some big ideas about going all the way to the state championship.

After all, lightly regarded Edmonson County did it last year in Kentucky and that has raised the hopes of many of the small schools around the state.

"I'D LIKE to play the teams in Louisville and Lexington," said Virgie Coach Eugene Lyons, a former Morehead State University Star. "I think we could hold our own pretty well."

Virgie lines up with 6-4 Robert Newsome at one forward, 6-foot Stonie Newsome at the other, 6-6, 250-pound Jeff M. Newsome at center, 5-11 Jeff N. Newsome at one guard, and Chester Johnson — where did he come from? — at the other. The team's "sixth man" is 5-8 sophomore Greg Newsome. Asked to explain how the Newsomes are related, Lyons has to think awhile.

"Robert and Jeff, our center, are brothers," he said. "Jeff, our guard, is a second or third cousin to them. Greg is his brother. And Stonie is not related to any of them, except maybe distantly."

AS MIGHT be expected, the biggest problem for Lyons is when he has to holler instructions to Jeff Newsome on the court.

"Our center is nicknamed Smokey. So when I want him, I usually call him by his nickname," Lyons said. "But sometimes I forget and just call him Jeff. But at least it's better getting the attention of two of the players than none of them."

Robert is the team's leading scorer with a 19-point average, but Lyons considers the 5-foot-11 Johnson his best defensive player. "We usually put him on the other team's best player, no matter how big he is," the coach said.

Lyons readily acknowledges how nice it is to have Johnson in his starting liveup just to reduce the confusion.

Getting the Newsomes all straight was a lot tougher for Lyons last season.

And not just because it was his first year as Virgie coach.

Last year all of his starters were named Newsome, including Donnie, an older brother of Robert and Smokey.

Ski race offers jackpot

A cross country ski race is being held at Waterfall Glen Nature Preserve on Saturday, Feb. 19 at 11 a.m. The winner will be taking home a $300 check.

The race is the first of its kind sponsored jointly by the Forest Preserve District and the Forest Foundation of DuPage County. Prize money is being donated by the Reuss Sporting Goods Store chain of Hinsdale, Wheaton, Glen Ellyn and Wilmette.

The course of the race follows several existing ski trails at the Waterfall Glen Preserve, south of Darien. It is expected that most skiers should be able to complete the approximately six mile course through the forest.

Any skier 16 years of age or older is eligible to enter the contest. Entry blanks are available from Forest Preserve Headquarters, 881 W. St. Charles Rd., Lo bard 60148, or at any of the sports stores. The district also has a supply of maps which outline the course of the race.

In addition to the three hundred dollar first prize, the second place winner will receive $75 and the third place contestant $35. The next seven finishers will be awarded trophies.

Arlington holds second signup

The second registration for the Arlington Heights Boys and Girls Baseball League will be held this Saturday, Feb. 12, at the Olympic Pool Basement in Arlington Heights from 10:00 a.m. to 2:00 p.m.

Area wrestlers launch bids in tourney action

by KEITH REINHARD
Wrestling Editor

The fun and games are over.

Up until this weekend, a participant could shrug off defeat. There was always another opportunity ahead.

It doesn't work that way from this point on. Beginning tonight, over 4,000 wrestlers, representing nearly 400 high schools, will be off and running in the 40th annual Illinois High School Assn. tournament.

STARTING WITH districts, the tourney will continue through sectional action to the two-class state finals showdown at Champaign later in February.

And, beginning now, a loss means the end of the season. The only occasional exception is the wrestleback bracket but this alternate course can lead to a dead end too.

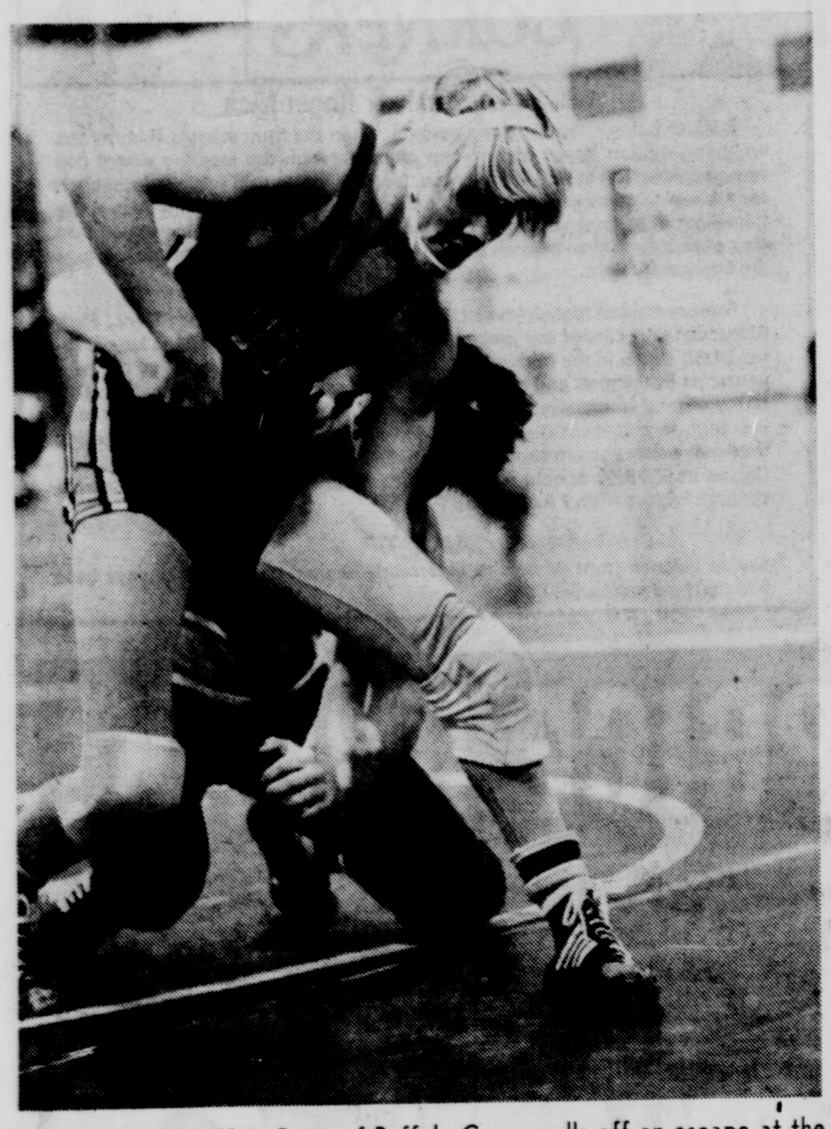
Fifteen area schools will be involved in four of the district meets kicking off this evening. Buffalo Grove will host a district tourney and Wheeling is one of eight guests there.

Elk Grove, Conant, Hoffman Estates and Schaumburg meanwhile will collide with four other teams at Elgin Larkin while Maine West, Forest View and Prospect hook up with six other squads at Ridgewood.

THE REMAINING local clubs — Arlington, Hersey, St. Viator, Rolling Meadows, Palatine and Fremd are among nine teams at the Dundee High School gathering. Sessions at all four sites will commence between 6:30 and 7 p.m. tonight, continue at 1 p.m. tomorrow and wind up Saturday night.

The winners and runnersup at each weight at each district will advance to sectionals the following week. Everyone else can begin storing their gear away.

Here's how the area districts shape up:



NO DOORMAT. Chris Rugg of Buffalo Grove pulls off an escape at the conference meet. His excellent (25-2) record will be tested in a rugged district tourney on the Bison mats this weekend. Among the guests will be Eric Moll of Barrington, who issued Rugg his only two setbacks.

BUFFALO GROVE

A meatgrinder pales by comparison to this loaded gathering. No less than four conference championship teams (Barrington, Highland Park, Glenbrook North and the Wildcats) will join with the host Bison in cutting each other to ribbons.

AT 98 POUNDS Parker Scott Freberg (24-3-1) has the best record, but Bronco Mike Hull (20-10), 'Cat Todd Wilson (16-10) and Wayne Colletee (18-8) are all in contention. At 105 another Giant heads up the pack but again Tom Lembeck (20-3-1) will be strongly challenged by Barrington's Tom Ujiiye (20-7) and Wheeling's Ray Auger.

Kevin Makowski of Barrington (13-4-1) and Spartan Phil Kiefer (20-11) are good bets to meet in the 112 pound finals unless Kiefer goes down a weight. The 119 division would appear to be a tossup between Deerfield's Dean Chudy (27-5), defending district

champ Mark Shearer of GBN (17-14) and Barrington's Pat Connolly (20-7) along with possibly Joe Foreman of Highland Park (12-7).

Returning 119 champ Dan Minorini of the Giants (24-1-1) heads up a tough 126 field that also includes Bison Dave Millay, Wildcat Bob Busse (15-12-1) and Warrior Pete Manhard (16-11). The 132 division is even more awesome with Steve Gouletas of Highland Park (23-2-1) facing the likes of 'Cat Mike Reif, Bison Kirt Lewis, Glenbrook's John Fahey (24-8-1) and Barrington's Gary Wapotish (17-10). Fahey may drop down a weight.

BUFFALO GROVE'S Greg Thomson, a district champ at 132 last year, faces another rugged field at 138 including the likes of Spartan Ted Cichowski (23-8), Parker Tom Mann (14-7), Dave Taylor of the Broncos (22-8) and Wheeling's Tim Miller. Returning state placer Bob Moore of Barrington (26-1) is the class of a 145 bracket that also has Dale Walters of Wheeling along with GBN's Mark Hebein (18-10-1) and Deerfield's John Bauer (16-11).

The situation improves only slightly at 155 where Tim Dunn of the hosts, Barrington's Steve Pinkley (19-4) and Dave Pearlman of the 'Cats are all in the race. Chuck Hall of Highland Park (23-3-1) and Chris Rugg of Buffalo Grove would make a super match for 167 pound honors . . . except that Bronco Eric Moll will probably eliminate one of them en route. Moll finished second in the state last year and is 26-1 now.

The 185 class is weak by contrast and Mark Teutsch of the hosts (10-7) could just have a shot. Wildcat Ken Kent should have no trouble at heavyweight with Mike Lencioni of Highland Park (17-10) his chief adversary.

DUNDEE

Arlington was last in the tourney in 1976 but fresh from a conference meet triumph, the Cardinals could move all the way up to the front end of this district. Dundee won it last year. Crown has picked up some of Dundee's talent this season with the opening of a new school (Jacobs) in the area. Returning individual champs are Scott Malouf of St. Viator and Rick Fitzgerald, now of Crown. Here are some grapplers to watch, by weight.

98 — Steve Miller of Fremd and Mike Falese of Dundee (12-11).

105 — Paul Preissing of Arlington and Dundee's Roger Peterson (23-3).

112 — Malouf, Scott Zust of Palatine (13-10-1), Scott Mattix of Rolling Meadows (18-9), Arlington's Kevin Smith and either Mark Dehmlow (13-7-2) or defending champ Scott Horcher (14-7-1) from Dundee.

119 — Fitzgerald (20-5-1), Arlington's Dan Weber, Scott Brooks of Jacobs, Hersey's Steve Swan (8-7), Fremd's Howard Leggett and Jeff Sheppard of Palatine (18-10).

126 — Lance Gackowski of Palatine, Dundee's Jack Yucius (14-7) and Frank Adame of Arlington (12-9-1).

132 — Dundee's Ron Langlo (15-10) and Bob Milligan of Fremd (12-9-2).

138 — Pete Margiotta of Crown (29-2), Hersey's Brett Benz, Chuck Lynch of Rolling Meadows (20-7-1) and Jeff Penn of Fremd (13-8).

145 — Hersey's Bruce Temesy (12-12-1), Len Gackowski of Palatine (12-11-1) and Kevin Keating of Jacobs.

155 — St. Viator's Gordy Kaiser, Palatine's Al Hazel (15-7), Rich Lobocki of Rolling Meadows (18-9), Mike Zimmerman of Crown (21-5) and Greg Leggett of Fremd (13-10-2).

167 — Palatine's Jim Luzinski, Rubin Mareno of Crown (26-6-1), Arlington's Jeff Richart (13-10) and Jeff Schmidt of Jacobs.

185 — Jason Slezak of Arlington (19-10), Scott Santoro of Palatine and Hersey's Bob Schachner (12-11-1).

Heavyweight — Crown's Mike Bauer (29-5), St. Viator's Dan Skarzynski (17-8), Bill Chauncey of Rolling Meadows (16-10-1), John Thomson of Palatine (10-6-1), Al Nagel of Hersey (11-8) and Arlington's Ted Rumatz.

RIDGEWOOD

Maine North is a front runner to replace Maine West as the champ in the Norridge District. It also does not appear to be a strong meet. There are eight returning district qualifiers including a pair of Norsemen champs in Jack Beals and Bob Tucibat. Here are the contenders:

98 — Prospect's Kevin Rossdeutcher (16-11) and Jim Kupczyk of Ridgewood (20-9).

105 — Russ Valin of Ridgewood (22-6), Prospect's Jeff Munn (14-12) and Tom Krauser of Maine West (6-2).

112 — Tim Cummings of Maine North (19-5-1) and Maine West's Rich Gauger (11-8-1).

119 — Ridgewood's Brian Butler (18-6) and Maine East's Bryan Boliaux (10-7).

132 — Mark Crescenzo of Maine East, and Rick Romano of Notre Dame (10-1).

138 — Beals (23-3), Russ Carlins of Maine East (15-10), Mike Burke of Notre Dame and Rick Pluta of Maine South (12-6).

145 — Wally Jones of Forest View (14-8), Prospect's Terry Reed (11-10), Tucibat (19-7), Frank Wieckowski of Ridgewood (18-6), Notre Dame's Chuck Romano and Bill Baumgardner of Maine South (10-6).

155 — Todd Doney of Prospect (25-7), Steve Mikos of Maine South (16-3) and Rick Wydra of Ridgewood (18-8).

167 — Carl Schimmelman of Prospect, Notre Dame's Dave Mandolini (19-3-1) and Bob Tramatula of Maine North (15-5).

185 — Lon Reitz of Forest View.

Heavyweight — Dave Cavazos of Maine West.

ELGIN LARKIN

Addison Trail, as always, will be the team to beat in this district. Conant, Elk Grove and possibly Hoffman Estates and host Larkin could make the going at least rough for the Blazers. Returning champs are Jon Gluck of Conant, Bob Lindar of Addison Trail and Larkin's John Pasholk. Here are some frontrunners:

98 — Addison's Trail's Gene Vatch (22-7), Elk Grove's Jay Evans, Schaumburg's Mark Zeller, Hoffman's Ron Gordon (26-8) and Conant's Jim Nakashian (19-7).

105 — Gluck, Tom Pawelko of Addison Trail (27-2), Hoffman's Darcy Rice and Elk Grove's Bill Lancaster.

112 — Al Blount of Conant, Linard (18-2), Steve King of Elk Grove (10-7) and Mark Rovnyak of Schaumburg (13-9-2).

119 — Hoffman's Mike Yates (20-8-1), Larkin's Randy May (15-8-1), Trail's Ray Warczynski (10-4) and Elk Grove's Tim Bush (17-7).

126 — Curtis Gordon of Hoffman Estates (15-12), Grove's Dan Black, Tom Wojtas or Rick Powers from Addison Trail, Mike Walston of Conant (15-12-3) and Elgin's Rod McWhorter (17-7).

132 — John Brennan of Conant, Grove's Bob Muff, Gary Dini of Addison Trail (20-6) and Jeff Winesburg of Larkin (15-6-1).

138 — Larkin's Dean Steffen (21-4), Trail's Mike Kukulski (14-6-1) and Keith Ryan of Conant (17-12).

145 — Larkin's Todd Nelson (21-2), Roger Fournier of Hoffman (22-8-1) and Trail's Ernie Vatch (25-4).

155 — Don Wascher of Elgin (14-5), Grove's Bill Dixon (13-9) and Schaumburg's Tony Zolnierczyk (13-10).

167 — Tom Wisniewski of Hoffman, Mike Weston of Conant (19-7-1), John Fink of Schaumburg, Elgin's Mike Pack (17-7) and Greg Close of Addison Trail (12-7-2).

185 — Shawn McGady of Addison Trail (23-3), Elgin's Barney Spates (14-8) and Conant's Jack Kerr (19-10-1).

Heavyweight — Pasholk, Elgin's Bill Tanner (17-7-1) and Conant's Matt Bello (21-8).

Last Waycinden baseball signup

The Waycinden Area Boys' Baseball League will host its final registration Saturday from noon to 2 p.m. at the Mount Prospect Country Club, 600 See Gwun, Mount Prospect.

Those boys who were not members in 1976 should bring a birth certificate or accepted notarized document. League boundaries are Golf Rd. on the north, Goebbert Rd. on the west, Mount Prospect Rd. on the east and Touhy Ave. on the south.

Registration fees range from $28 to $33 for the first boy and from $13 to $18 for the second boy. The third boy is free.

Waycinden accepts boys from 7-16 and the price of the first boy's fee includes a pair of tickets to the Spring Dance at the Lancer's Ballroom in April.

Elk Grove signup

A special registration and pancake day combination for Elk Grove Village Boys Baseball will be held Saturday, Feb. 12 at the VFW Hall, 400 E. Devon.

The activities will be held from 8 a.m. to 2 p.m., and tickets are $1.50 for adults (12 and over) and 75 cents for children.

Registration in the summer program is for boys and girls 8 to 15 years old.

champ Mark Shearer of GBN (17-14) and Barrington's Pat Connolly (20-7) along with possibly Joe Foreman of Highland Park (12-7).

Returning 119 champ Dan Minorini of the Giants (24-1-1) heads up a tough 126 field that also includes Bison Dave Millay, Wildcat Bob Busse (15-12-1) and Warrior Pete Manhard (16-11). The 132 division is even more awesome with Steve Gouletas of Highland Park (23-2-1) facing the likes of 'Cat Mike Reif, Bison Kirt Lewis, Glenbrook's John Fahey (24-8-1) and Barrington's Gary Wapotish (17-10). Fahey may drop down a weight.

BUFFALO GROVE'S Greg Thomson, a district champ at 132 last year, faces another rugged field at 138 including the likes of Spartan Ted Cichowski (23-8), Parker Tom Mann (14-7), Dave Taylor of the Broncos (22-8) and Wheeling's Tim Miller. Returning state placer Bob Moore of Barrington (26-1) is the class of a 145 bracket that also has Dale Walters of Wheeling along with GBN's Mark Hebein (18-10-1) and Deerfield's John Bauer (16-11).

The situation improves only slightly at 155 where Tim Dunn of the hosts, Barrington's Steve Pinkley (19-4) and Dave Pearlman of the 'Cats are all in the race. Chuck Hall of Highland Park (23-3-1) and Chris Rugg of Buffalo Grove would make a super match for 167 pound honors . . . except that Bronco Eric Moll will probably eliminate one of them en route. Moll finished second in the state last year and is 26-1 now.

The 185 class is weak by contrast and Mark Teutsch of the hosts (10-7) could just have a shot. Wildcat Ken Kent should have no trouble at heavyweight with Mike Lencioni of Highland Park (17-10) his chief adversary.

DUNDEE

Arlington was last in the tourney in 1976 but fresh from a conference meet triumph, the Cardinals could move all the way up to the front end of this district. Dundee won it last year. Crown has picked up some of Dundee's talent this season with the opening of a new school (Jacobs) in the area. Returning individual champs are Scott Malouf of St. Viator and Rick Fitzgerald, now of Crown. Here are some grapplers to watch, by weight.

98 — Steve Miller of Fremd and Mike Falese of Dundee (12-11).

105 — Paul Preissing of Arlington and Dundee's Roger Peterson (23-3).

112 — Malouf, Scott Zust of Palatine (13-10-1), Scott Mattix of Rolling Meadows (18-9), Arlington's Kevin Smith and either Mark Dehmlow (13-7-2) or defending champ Scott Horcher (14-7-1) from Dundee.

119 — Fitzgerald (20-5-1), Arlington's Dan Weber, Scott Brooks of Jacobs, Hersey's Steve Swan (8-7), Fremd's Howard Leggett and Jeff Sheppard of Palatine (18-10).

126 — Lance Gackowski of Palatine, Dundee's Jack Yucius (14-7) and Frank Adame of Arlington (12-9-1).

132 — Dundee's Ron Langlo (15-10) and Bob Milligan of Fremd (12-9-2).

138 — Pete Margiotta of Crown (29-2), Hersey's Brett Benz, Chuck Lynch of Rolling Meadows (20-7-1) and Jeff Penn of Fremd (13-8).

145 — Hersey's Bruce Temesy (12-12-1), Len Gackowski of Palatine (12-11-1) and Kevin Keating of Jacobs.

155 — St. Viator's Gordy Kaiser, Palatine's Al Hazel (15-7), Rich Lobocki of Rolling Meadows (18-9), Mike Zimmerman of Crown (21-5) and Greg Leggett of Fremd (13-10-2).

167 — Palatine's Jim Luzinski, Rubin Mareno of Crown (26-6-1), Arlington's Jeff Richart (13-10) and Jeff Schmidt of Jacobs.

185 — Jason Slezak of Arlington (19-10), Scott Santoro of Palatine and Hersey's Bob Schachner (12-11-1).

Heavyweight — Crown's Mike Bauer (29-5), St. Viator's Dan Skarzynski (17-8), Bill Chauncey of Rolling Meadows (16-10-1), John Thomson of Palatine (10-6-1), Al Nagel of Hersey (11-8) and Arlington's Ted Rumatz.

RIDGEWOOD

Maine North is a front runner to replace Maine West as the champ in the Norridge District. It also does not appear to be a strong meet. There are eight returning district qualifiers including a pair of Norsemen champs in Jack Beals and Bob Tucibat. Here are the contenders:

105 — Russ Valin of Ridgewood (22-6), Prospect's Jeff Munn (14-12) and Tom Krauser of Maine West (6-2).

112 — Tim Cummings of Maine North (19-5-1) and Maine West's Rich Gauger (11-8-1).

119 — Ridgewood's Brian Butler (18-6) and Maine East's Bryan Boliaux (10-7).

132 — Mark Crescenzo of Maine East, and Rick Romano of Notre Dame (10-1).

138 — Beals (23-3), Russ Carlins of Maine East (15-10), Mike Burke of Notre Dame and Rick Pluta of Maine South (12-6).

145 — Wally Jones of Forest View (14-8), Prospect's Terry Reed (11-10), Tucibat (19-7), Frank Wieckowski of Ridgewood (18-6), Notre Dame's Chuck Romano and Bill Baumgardner of Maine South (10-6).

155 — Todd Doney of Prospect (25-7), Steve Mikos of Maine South (16-3) and Rick Wydra of Ridgewood (18-8).

167 — Carl Schimmelman of Prospect, Notre Dame's Dave Mandolini (19-3-1) and Bob Tramatula of Maine North (15-5).

185 — Lon Reitz of Forest View.

Heavyweight — Dave Cavazos of Maine West.

105 — Gluck, Tom Pawelko of Addison Trail (27-2), Hoffman's Darcy Rice and Elk Grove's Bill Lancaster.

112 — Al Blount of Conant, Linard (18-2), Steve King of Elk Grove (10-7) and Mark Rovnyak of Schaumburg (13-9-2).

119 — Hoffman's Mike Yates (20-8-1), Larkin's Randy May (15-8-1), Trail's Ray Warczynski (10-4) and Elk Grove's Tim Bush (17-7).

126 — Curtis Gordon of Hoffman Estates (15-12), Grove's Dan Black, Tom Wojtas or Rick Powers from Addison Trail, Mike Walston of Conant (15-12-3) and Elgin's Rod McWhorter (17-7).

132 — John Brennan of Conant, Grove's Bob Muff, Gary Dini of Addison Trail (20-6) and Jeff Winesburg of Larkin (15-6-1).

138 — Larkin's Dean Steffen (21-4), Trail's Mike Kukulski (14-6-1) and Keith Ryan of Conant (17-12).

145 — Larkin's Todd Nelson (21-2), Roger Fournier of Hoffman (22-8-1) and Trail's Ernie Vatch (25-4).

155 — Don Wascher of Elgin (14-5), Grove's Bill Dixon (13-9) and Schaumburg's Tony Zolnierczyk (13-10).

167 — Tom Wisniewski of Hoffman, Mike Weston of Conant (19-7-1), John Fink of Schaumburg, Elgin's Mike Pack (17-7) and Greg Close of Addison Trail (12-7-2).

185 — Shawn McGady of Addison Trail (23-3), Elgin's Barney Spates (14-8) and Conant's Jack Kerr (19-10-1).

Heavyweight — Pasholk, Elgin's Bill Tanner (17-7-1) and Conant's Matt Bello (21-8).

Showdown tonight in Hawk gym

Maine East, Maine South in suburban spotlight

Things will really be rocking tonight when Maine East's cagers travel to Maine South for the premier showdown in the Central suburban League this season.

East (10-0) has a one game edge on challenger South (9-1), and the South Division lead is at stake.

Earlier this season, the East Demons ripped the Hawks 89-61, but that was before the return of South's Ricky Smith. The 6-2 senior guard missed the first nine weeks of the season with ligament damage. Since returning, he has been on a scoring rampage, tallying 32 and 28 points last weekend.

That may help make tonight's game closer, and South must win in order to have a prayer of winning the division title. Smith's addition may help lessen the load carried by Hawks' 6-6 center Russ Schmelzer, who has managed to score at a 22-point clip despite frequent sagging defenses.

Maine East, though, has been ranked in the top ten of several prep polls, and its 17-3 record is one of the reasons. Another reason is the play of 6-4 forward Scott Russ, who clicked for 41 points in a contest last weekend.

In another CSL South match, Maine West will travel to Glenbrook South. The Warriors are aiming for third place in their division behind Maine East and South. Glenbrook South probably has the same idea, since both teams have 5-5 conference records.

Holy Cross power next Lion challenge

St. Viator returns to basketball in the East Suburban Catholic Conference tonight when they travel to meet powerful Holy Cross.

Cross is 18-3 on the year and shelled the Lions 70-50 on the Viator court earlier in the season. Viator coach Ron Cregier admits that his team will need some luck against the Crusaders on their home floor.

"We hope they'll be looking past this game," Gregier said.

St. Viator, 13-7 on the season, is enjoying its best season performance in the 15-year history of the school, and is only two wins away from matching the most wins ever by a Viator basketball team.

The 1968-69 club finished wth a 15-11 record. The Lions have a minimum six games left with the toughest part of their schedule behind them after tonight.

Viator captain Steve Notaro is still on the sick list for tonight's game. How much playing time, if any, Notaro will get will depend on how his recovery from the flu has progressed. Notaro, the Lions second leading scorer has missed the club's last three games.

Saturday night, the Lions travel to take on Montini, (5-12), in a non-conference game.

Final Buffalo Grove baseball registration

Little Leagues are filling up. Final registration for Buffalo Grove Baseball Leagues will be held Saturday from 4:30 to 7 p.m. and Sunday from 1:30 to 4:30 p.m. at Emmerich Park Fieldhouse.

Registration is for boys and girls from 6 to 15 as of July 31, 1977. As soon as league quotas are met, registrants will be placed on a waiting list. The fee is $25 for one child and $40 for two or more. Registration forms can be obtained from area schools, or at the time of registration. For further information, contact Carmen Sparreo, 537-4897.

Sharks highlights

Niles Sharks
Mite AA Hockey Team
Park Ridge 2, Niles 1
Park Ridge scored the deciding goal on a third-period power play. David Englund scored for Niles assisted by Salemi and Derlis. Bill Heintzelman played well in the nets.

Northbrook 3, Niles 2
Against Northbrook the Sharks outshot their opponents 21-17 but lost the game 3-2. A great game in the net was turned in by Heintzelman and defenseman George Chaconas, John Greenland and Nick Salemi. Salemi scored both Niles goals, assisted by Anthony Loverde.

Niles 2, Wilmette 2.
The Niles Mites ran into a stone wall, firing 27 shots at Wilmette in a 2-2 tie. Goals were scored by Loverde and Salemi, with assists from Chaconas and Greenland.

Niles 7, Glenview 1
The Sharks outshot Glenview 57-16.

Niles 4, Winnetka 0
Nick Chacoras was in the net for the game, while goals for Niles were tallied by David Englund (3), Salemi, Loverde, Gaines and Greenland.

Niles 4, Hoffman Estates 0
Nick Chaconas again recorded a shutout. George Chaconas, Salemi, Calkins and Englund poked the puck into the Hoffman net.

Squirts highlights

Youth hockey
Bob's Phillips 66 Warriors 1, Barrington 5
Warriors Peacock and Blanchard skated hard at their wing positions, but Arlington just kept rolling. The lone goal for the losers was scored by Carlsen unassisted.

Bob's Phillips 66, Warriors 3, Kenosha 0

Barrington 3, Bob's Phillips 66, Warriors 5
Young and Wintringer gave stonewall protection to the Warriors' goalie, but once again Barrington proved to be too much. Goals were scored by Meadows' Baker (2) and Powell, assisted by Ames (2), Peacock and Lange.

Sharks highlights

Niles Sharks
Mite AA Hockey Team
Park Ridge 2, Niles 1

Park Ridge scored the deciding goal on a third-period power play. David Englund scored for Niles assisted by Salemi and Derlis. Bill Heintzelman played well in the nets.

Northbrook 3, Niles 2

Against Northbrook the Sharks outshot their opponents 21-17 but lost the game 3-2. A great game in the net was turned in by Heintzelman and defenseman George Chaconas. John Greenland and Nick Salemi. Salemi scored both Niles goals, assisted by Anthony Loverde.

Niles 2, Wilmette 2.

The Niles Mites ran into a stone wall, firing 27 shots at Wilmette in a 2-2 tie. Goals were scored by Loverde and Salemi, with assists from Chaconas and Greenland.

Niles 7, Glenview 1

The Sharks outshot Glenview 57-16.

Niles 4, Winnetka 0

Niles 4, Hoffman Estates 0

Nick Chaconas again recorded a shutout. George Chaconas, Salemi, Calkins and Englund poked the puck into the Hoffman net.

Squirts highlights

Youth hockey
Bob's Phillips 66 Warriors 1, Barrington 5

Warriors Peacock and Blanchard skated hard at their wing positions, but Arlington just kept rolling. The lone goal for the losers was scored by Carlsen unassisted.

Bob's Phillips 66, Warriors 3, Kenosha 0

Joey Kauth registered his third shutout, and Jeff Powell scored his second hat trick of the season against a hard-playing Kenosha team. Assists went to Ames, Lange and Peacock.

Barrington 3, Bob's Phillips 66, Warriors 5

Young and Wintringer gave stonewall protection to the Warriors' goalie, but once again Barrington proved to be too much. Goals were scored by Meadows' Baxter and Powell, assisted by Ames (2), Peacock and Lange.

Illini coach keeps busy

Loren Tate

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. — They had the "Wanted" posters out on Illinois' new whirling-dervish football coach, Gary Moeller, this past weekend.

Flying from Miami to Chicago Friday and then to Champaign, he caught up with harried secretaries, bustling aides, wide-eyed recruits on weekend visits, a half-hour TV show and an office-full of people begging for "just five minutes."

Saturday was another of those take-a-number-and-hope days.

Moeller, you see, is motoring through the most crucial two-week period this side of back-to-back games with Michigan and Missouri.

The national letter day is Wednesday, and it is critical that he stamp his program with successful first-year recruiting. The current UI freshman crop is not particiularly strong, and the program can't stand consecutive classes of mediocrity.

EACH OF his three predecessors at Illinois met with that kind of difficulty and faltered early. Pete Elliott went through 15 games without a victory in his second and third seasons when the talent ran out. Jim Valek was 1-19 in 1968-69. Bob Blackman lost his first six games in 1971 (being outscored 176 to 30) and his first seven in 1972 before getting matters squared around.

As it stands, Moeller has ample senior talent to "remain competitive" after consecutive 6-4-1, 5-6 and 5-6 seasons, but will be hard-pressed to replace the likes of Kurt Steger, Kevin Pancratz, Walter Graham, James Coleman, Rickie Mitchem and the other final-year performers.

The idea, of course, is to build with your own recruits. Every coach wants to do that, and Moeller is trying to take an immediate step in that direction.

Thus far — and, remember, the "leaners" don't count until they're on the dotted line — Moeller and his young staff have made a tremendous impression. They have geared Illini recruiting to the home state and the response from the vital Chicago area, in particular, is encouraging.

A SAMPLE check of 15 blue-chip prospects indicates the Illini are "alive" in every case . . . in the running, that is, with such strong rivals as Colorado, Michigan, Notre Dame and others.

The 15 players, tabbed from a big list of in-state standouts, were not chosen strictly from The News-Gazette All-State 33 because of our awareness that the best college prospects aren't necessarily All-Staters. Lockport's Kip Carmon, for example, was injured but still stacks up with Edwardsville All-Stater Jeff Hornberger as the state's best halfbacks. Giant Evanston tackle McKinley Nash, interested in law, is sought by everyone even though injuries kept him off the All-State roster. And St. Laurence lineman Rich Antonacci, at 6-2 and 235, is a better prospect than some smaller Catholic League stars who received greater recognition.

Carmon, Nash and Antonacci are known to be considering Illinois. West Chicago's 6-6, 250-pound Tim Norman, a lineman with All-American potential, is said to be firmed up. Late last week both Rich Weiss, the state's premier quarterback at New Trier East, and Glenbard West tight end Marty Detmer gave strong indications they're favoring Illinois.

ELSEWHERE, Scholastic Coach All-American Wayne Strader, the best of the fullbacks, is "talking favorably" and has narrowed his choices to Illinois and Nebraska; the fleet Hornberger will sit back and choose between Illinois, Oklahoma State, Missouri and Colorado; superb Hillcrest linebacker Tom Chakos, another All-American, has reduced to Illinois, Colorado and Wisconsin; DeLaSalle's Steve Krol, the Catholic League's best offensive lineman, is pondering between Illinois, Purdue and Ohio State.

Also, 6-5, 235-pound Dave Nicolau of St. Viator will visit and choose between Illinois, Michigan and Notre Dame and his fullback teammage John Gillen is 50-50 between Illinois and Kansas; DeKalb lineman Troy McMillin has Illinois high on his list; the Illini are thought to be leading with Kankakee Westview's secondary specialist Greg Wilson, and Peoria Manual's 6-5 offensive tackle Jeff Stokowski is torn between Illinois and Missouri.

However the recruiting turns out, Moeller has made a strong impression. Athletes from Edwardsville to Peoria to Evanston are "strongly considering" their state university. The youthful, enthusiastic approach has worked to this point. If Moeller & Co. can close, the new Illini football program is on its way.

'White Lightning' gets some help

LAWRENCEVILLE, Ill. (UPI) — "It's been bothering me for awhile," said Lawrenceville Coach Ron Felling, explaining his recent trip to Louisville's Freedom Hall to watch the University of Kentucky and his favorite Wildcat play basketball.

Felling felt his erstwhile prep sharpshooter, once referred to in Illinois as the "Bionic Boy" and then "White Lightning" in blue grass country who answers to Jay Shidler, was "struggling with his shooting."

Felling was in a delegation of about 10 from the Lawrenceville area that made the two hour and 20 minute drive to Louisville.

"AFTER THE GAME I saw his girl friend outside and she said Jay would like to talk to me," said Felling. "I spent about 10 minutes with him down in the dressing room."

Felling watched Shidler like a hawk during the four years the blond bomber was scoring 2,183 career points at Lawrenceville High School.

"I'd noticed lately that he hasn't had the right one-two step rhythm in coming to take the ball and getting off his shot," said Felling. "He hasn't been getting enough thrust with his legs and is using his upper body too much with the result he's jerking his head and shooting a lower trajectory shot. He's on line but too many are lipping in and out.

"All the publicity he's been getting hasn't affected him a bit," said Felling. "He's still like he was in high school when he got all kinds of publicity — shy and sort of introverted."

As it stands, Moeller has ample senior talent to "remain competitive" after consecutive 6-4-1, 5-6 and 5-6 seasons, but will be hard-pressed to replace the likes of Kurt Steger, Kevin Pancratz, Walter Graham, James Coleman, Rickie Mitchem and the other final-year performers.

The idea, of course, is to build with your own recruits. Every coach wants to do that, and Moeller is trying to take an immediate step in that direction.

Thus far — and, remember, the "leaners" don't count until they're on the dotted line — Moeller and his young staff have made a tremendous impression. They have geared Illini recruiting to the home state and the response from the vital Chicago area, in particular, is encouraging.

A SAMPLE check of 15 blue-chip prospects indicates the Illini are "alive" in every case . . . in the running, that is, with such strong rivals as Colorado, Michigan, Notre Dame and others.

The 15 players, tabbed from a big list of in-state standouts, were not chosen strictly from The News-Gazette All-State 33 because of our awareness that the best college prospects aren't necessarily All-Staters. Lockport's Kip Carmon, for example, was injured but still stacks up with Edwardsville All-Stater Jeff Hornberger as the state's best halfbacks. Giant Evanston tackle McKinley Nash, interested in law, is sought by everyone even though injuries kept him off the All-State roster. And St. Laurence lineman Rich Antonacci, at 6-2 and 235, is a better prospect than some smaller Catholic League stars who received greater recognition.

Carmon, Nash and Antonacci are known to be considering Illinois. West Chicago's 6-6, 250-pound Tim Norman, a lineman with All-American potential, is said to be firmed up. Late last week both Rich Weiss, the state's premier quarterback at New Trier East, and Glenbard West tight end Marty Detmer gave strong indications they're favoring Illinois.

ELSEWHERE, Scholastic Coach All-American Wayne Strader, the best of the fullbacks, is "talking favorably" and has narrowed his choices to Illinois and Nebraska; the fleet Hornberger will sit back and choose between Illinois, Oklahoma State, Missouri and Colorado; superb Hillcrest linebacker Tom Chakos, another All-American, has reduced to Illinois, Colorado and Wisconsin; DeLaSalle's Steve Krol, the Catholic League's best offensive lineman, is pondering between Illinois, Purdue and Ohio State.

Also, 6-5, 235-pound Dave Nicolau of St. Viator will visit and choose between Illinois, Michigan and Notre Dame and his fullback teammage John Gillen is 50-50 between Illinois and Kansas; DeKalb lineman Troy McMillin has Illinois high on his list; the Illini are thought to be leading with Kankakee Westview's secondary specialist Greg Wilson, and Peoria Manual's 6-5 offensive tackle Jeff Stokowski is torn between Illinois and Missouri.

However the recruiting turns out, Moeller has made a strong impression. Athletes from Edwardsville to Peoria to Evanston are "strongly considering" their state university. The youthful, enthusiastic approach has worked to this point. If Moeller & Co. can close, the new Illini football program is on its way.

'White Lightning' gets some help

LAWRENCEVILLE, Ill. (UPI) — "It's been bothering me for awhile," said Lawrenceville Coach Ron Felling, explaining his recent trip to Louisville's Freedom Hall to watch the University of Kentucky and his favorite Wildcat play basketball.

Felling felt his erstwhile prep sharpshooter, once referred to in Illinois as the "Bionic Boy" and then "White Lightning" in blue grass country who answers to Jay Shidler, was "struggling with his shooting."

Felling was in a delegation of about 10 from the Lawrenceville area that made the two hour and 20 minute drive to Louisville.

"AFTER THE GAME I saw his girl friend outside and she said Jay would like to talk to me," said Felling. "I spent about 10 minutes with him down in the dressing room."

Felling watched Shidler like a hawk during the four years the blond bomber was scoring 2,183 career points at Lawrenceville High School.

"I'd noticed lately that he hasn't had the right one-two step rhythm in coming to take the ball and getting off his shot," said Felling. "He hasn't been getting enough thrust with his legs and is using his upper body too much with the result he's jerking his head and shooting a lower trajectory shot. He's on line but too many are lipping in and out.

"All the publicity he's been getting hasn't affected him a bit," said Felling. "He's still like he was in high school when he got all kinds of publicity — shy and sort of introverted."

Price controls on fuel forecast by Schlesinger

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Energy adviser James Schlesinger said Thursday fuel conservation and warmer weather have eased this winter's natural gas shortage, but mandatory fuel price adjustments will be required in the near future.

While the immediate threat is over, Americans should keep thermostats down and not be lulled into thinking the energy crisis has ended, Schlesinger said.

Conservation is the "keystone" that will "buy time" until a technical solution can be found to U.S. energy needs, he told a Consumer Federation of America meeting.

HIS THEME was repeated by Transportation Sec. Brock Adams and by President Carter, who in a statement praised formation of a nonprofit Alliance to Save Energy with Vice President Walter Mondale and Gerald Ford serving as honorary cochairmen.

Conservation measures and "improvements in the weather have eased the stringency of the supply situation of natural gas," Schlesinger told reporters after his speech. But "we are still going through a difficult situation for the rest of the winter."

If better information had been available to the government, some of the economic dislocation and unemployment caused by natural gas shortages this winter might have been averted, he said.

"I have not been wholly impressed or heartened by the data base available to the federal government as we survey energy problems."

SCHLESINGER SAID price adjustments and "control mechanisms" will be required in the near future, but promised they will be carried out "without undue economic repercussion."

Officials must make sure they do not affect the "real income of consumers, especially low-income consumers," he added.

While Schlesinger did not explain what he meant by "mandatory adjustments" — he said that "will be revealed shortly" — his comment appeared to rule out the possibility the administration will drop federal controls over fuel prices as the oil industry wants.

The Federal Power Commission raised natural gas prices last year, but did not remove controls. The Ford administration removed controls from most petroleum products and in a last-minute gesture interrupted by Carter's arrival tried to extend product decontrol to gasoline.

ADAMS, WHO also addressed the consumers group, announced plans for a series of "town meetings" across the country to discuss how transportation problems relate to energy needs.

"There is a special urgency for new transportation efficiencies," he said. "You and I — and all America — must accept the fact we are caught up in a permanent energy crisis."

Senators Hubert Humphrey, D-Minn., and Charles Percy, R-Ill., announced formation of the Alliance to Save Energy, saying: "Conservation energy represents the largest and least expensive source of new energy in the United States.

"It is time to make this a national goal, and to seek it as aggressively as we seek more expensive energy sources."

In a statement supporting the group, President Carter said "conservation will be the centerpiece of our national energy policy."

Warmer weather eases energy crisis

Price controls on fuel forecast by Schlesinger

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Energy adviser James Schlesinger said Thursday fuel conservation and warmer weather have eased this winter's natural gas shortage, but mandatory fuel price adjustments will be required in the near future.

While the immediate threat is over, Americans should keep thermostats down and not be lulled into thinking the energy crisis has ended, Schlesinger said.

Conservation is the "keystone" that will "buy time" until a technical solution can be found to U.S. energy needs, he told a Consumer Federation of America meeting.

HIS THEME was repeated by Transportation Sec. Brock Adams and by President Carter, who in a statement praised formation of a nonprofit Alliance to Save Energy with Vice President Walter Mondale and Gerald Ford serving as honorary cochairmen.

Conservation measures and "improvements in the weather have eased the stringency of the supply situation of natural gas," Schlesinger told reporters after his speech. But "we are still going through a difficult situation for the rest of the winter."

If better information had been available to the government, some of the economic dislocation and unemployment caused by natural gas shortages this winter might have been averted, he said.

"I have not been wholly impressed or heartened by the data base available to the federal government as we survey energy problems."

SCHLESINGER SAID price adjustments and "control mechanisms" will be required in the near future, but promised they will be carried out "without undue economic repercussion."

Officials must make sure they do not affect the "real income of consumers, especially low-income consumers," he added.

While Schlesinger did not explain what he meant by "mandatory adjustments" — he said that "will be revealed shortly" — his comment appeared to rule out the possibility the administration will drop federal controls over fuel prices as the oil industry wants.

The Federal Power Commission raised natural gas prices last year, but did not remove controls. The Ford administration removed controls from most petroleum products and in a last-minute gesture interrupted by Carter's arrival tried to extend product decontrol to gasoline.

ADAMS, WHO also addressed the consumers group, announced plans for a series of "town meetings" across the country to discuss how transportation problems relate to energy needs.

"There is a special urgency for new transportation efficiencies," he said. "You and I — and all America — must accept the fact we are caught up in a permanent energy crisis."

Senators Hubert Humphrey, D-Minn., and Charles Percy, R-Ill., announced formation of the Alliance to Save Energy, saying: "Conservation energy represents the largest and least expensive source of new energy in the United States.

"It is time to make this a national goal, and to seek it as aggressively as we seek more expensive energy sources."

In a statement supporting the group, President Carter said "conservation will be the centerpiece of our national energy policy."

600—Apartments

Arlington Heights-

We're a little hard to find, but we think you will like it that way. Our secluded neighborhood with trees and large expanse of lawn make Knob Hill the perfect place for your family.

Our apartment homes are truly spacious ranging from almost 900 sq. ft. in the 1-bedroom apt. home to about 1100 sq. ft. in the 2-bedroom apt. home.

We offer free heat, balconies or patios, air conditioning, a pool for your summer time pleasure and more that only a visit to Knob Hill will reveal.

Our 1-BR apt. homes rent for $240 per mo. Our 2-BR apt. homes rent for $285 per mo.

Call Mrs. Ross at 398-3890 for an appt. or stop out this weekend and see for yourself and discuss our liberal rental terms.

Take Arlington Hts. Rd. 1 block North of Rand Rd., (US12) to Valley Lane. Turn right 1 block to Circle Hill Dr., then right to Knob Hill.

Arlington Heights-

We're a little hard to find, but we think you will like it that way. Our secluded neighborhood with trees and large expanse of lawn make Knob Hill the perfect place for your family.

Our apartment homes are truly spacious ranging from almost 900 sq. ft. in the 1-bedroom apt. home to about 1100 sq. ft. in the 2-bedroom apt. home.

We offer free heat, balconies or patios, air conditioning, a pool for your summer time pleasure and more that only a visit to Knob Hill will reveal.

Our 1-BR apt. homes rent for $240 per mo. Our 2-BR apt. homes rent for $285 per mo.

Call Mrs. Ross at 398-3890 for an appt. or stop out this weekend and see for yourself and discuss our liberal rental terms.

Take Arlington Hts. Rd. 1 block North of Rand Rd., (US12) to Valley Lane. Turn right 1 block to Circle Hill Dr., then right to Knob Hill.

If Red Cross hadn't trained young Lars Alecksen in lifesaving techniques, last summer Adam Gauthier just might have ended up one more drowning statistic. (Adam's alive and well today, thank you, and in the first grade in Manitowoc, Wisconsin.)

We're not asking for medals (Lars is the one who deserves those). But we do need your continued support. Help us. Because the things we do really help. In your own neighborhood. And across America. And the world.

Adam Gauthier counted on us.

We're counting on you.

If Red Cross hadn't trained young Lars Alecksen in lifesaving techniques, last summer Adam Gauthier just might have ended up one more drowning statistic. (Adam's alive and well today, thank you, and in the first grade in Manitowoc, Wisconsin.)

We're not asking for medals (Lars is the one who deserves those). But we do need your continued support. Help us. Because the things we do really help. In your own neighborhood. And across America. And the world.

Adam Gauthier counted on us.

We're counting on you.
